Foreword

The 2021 Episcopal Clerical Directory represents further progress toward our goal of providing The Episcopal Church with the most comprehensive and reliable data possible about the clergy who serve this Church. This forty-eighth edition of the ECD includes biographical information on 19,049 clergy in good standing as of the date indicated on page 2.

For privacy reasons, the publication displays only:

- designated published address,
- year of birth,
- parents' first names,
- office email address.

We no longer publish information on previous marriages, even those that resulted in children. The number of children, if any, from a cleric's previous marriage will continue to be displayed.

Because we receive updates from clergy and institutions nearly every day, new published contact information and current position information submitted after the production deadline for this edition will be available online at the ECDPlus website: www.ecdplus.org.

Again, in this edition multiple current positions, including non-parochial ministry-related positions such as health care, school, and military chaplaincies, are shown. All current positions are listed near the beginning of each biography to help the reader discern at a glance each cleric's present ministry. These positions appear with the cleric's current employment position first, followed by the most recent appointed or voluntary positions on Episcopal Church-related bodies such as General Convention commissions, committees, agencies, and boards; diocesan councils; standing committees; or boards of church-related nonprofit organizations.

Clergy who died since the 2019 edition of the Directory was released, but whose death was reported prior to the date indicated on page 2, have their date of death noted in their biographical entries in place of their current ecclesiastical employment position.

Ordination data and changes in canonical residence are recorded by the Church Pension Fund in its role as the Recorder of Ordinations after written confirmation from the diocese has been submitted to the Recorder. Biographies of Clergy Ordained by Bishops of Churches in Communion with This Church

(Canon III.10.2) and Clergy Ordained by Bishops in the Historical Succession but Not in Full Communion with This Church (Canon III.10.3), do not include the dates of their ordinations to the diaconate and priesthood, nor the names of the non-Episcopal Church bishops who ordained them; instead, the name of the Episcopal Church bishop who received them into the Episcopal Church is listed, along with the date on which the reception took effect.

Faithfully,

Matthew J. Price
Editor
