MINUTES.

The sixth annual meeting of "The Woman's Auxiliary Society to the Board of Missions," was held in Christ Church, Troy, on May 21st, 1889.

The service commenced at 10.30 A. M. The Bishop preached and afterwards celebrated the Holy Communion. In the chancel was Rev. Dr. Newton of the Colored Commission, and Rev. J. I. Tucker of Holy Cross, Troy. The Offertory was taken by Rev. Dr. Maxcy and Rev. Mr. Lincoln of St. Luke's, Troy.

The President then took the chair and called the meeting to order. The Secretary called the roll, fifty-five delegates responding. The President then delivered her most excellent address. The Secretary read Minutes of both quarterly meetings held during the year.

Miss Tweddle, for the Convocation of Albany, read her report, followed by Mrs. Van Nostrand of Schenectady.

Mrs. Thomas A. Tillinghast for the Convocation of Troy, read her report. Mrs. McEwen of Saratoga, who is the other manager for Troy, not being present her report was read by the Corresponding Secretary, Miss C. F. Robbins of Albany, as was also the report of Miss Hughes for the Convocation of the Susquehanna. Several managers had failed to have their reports reach Miss Robbins in time for the annual meeting. This is always greatly to be regretted.

The Corresponding Secretary read her report, which was interesting, and listened to with much attention. She had also a suggestion to make from the Convocation of the Susquehanna, that they being so far away might be notified in time, and next year hold an annual meeting at the same time, hoping in that way to increase the interest of the churches.

Mrs. Kip's (the Treasurer) report was read by the Rev. Mr. Prawl, assistant at St. Paul's, Albany. The report was accepted.

Mrs. Patterson then asked Miss Burt of Rensselaerville to read the plan for the Church Periodical Club, as sent from Mrs. Mortimer Fargo of New York, who is President of the Club. Miss Burt read the plan for the work, the duties of the Secretaries and Librarian.

Mrs. Patterson spoke at some length of the plans of their work, which she said seemed so excellent that she hardly liked to make any change, but offered an amendment, which was accepted. Some of the Parishes in this Diocese have been doing this work for years, but it has not been a general work. Miss Burt read a report of the work already done and many Branches formed; and read the report of Mrs. Fargo of the large amount of work done in the last year.

The officers, delegates and many besides, were invited by Dr. Maxcy to adjourn to the Parish House, where a most bountiful and enjoyable luncheon was served.

The Afternoon Session was held at 2.30; opened by the singing of a Missionary Hymn. Rev. Mr. Locke, Missionary from China, was introduced; he spoke most earnestly of the great need of men for the work there; said he felt that God would supply money for their support, if only efficient men could be had. The excuses given, that it took so long to learn the language, he said, was not true, for it could be learned very well in a year. Spoke at some length on the low estimate in which the women are held, and of the great need of both Christian churches and schools.

The Bishop then introduced Rev. Dr. Newton of the Colored Commission, Richmond, Va.; he spoke of the work being done all through the South; that all the Southern States need both men and money. He spoke of a great revival going on at present among the colored people of Virginia; said on the previous Sunday five hundred had been baptized; he also mentioned the good work done by Rev. Mr. Russell of Lawrenceville, Va.; said he had formed several Mission Stations. Five bishops, five clergymen and five laymen constitute the Colored Commission.

Dr. Maxcy then made a short and pleasing address.

Mrs. Patterson resumed the business meeting, reading a letter from Rev. Joshua Kember of the Board of Missions, asking for back payment on the Gardner scholarship. If the ladies would make up seventy-five dollars; it was supposed this pledge had been dropped, but none present were willing the Board of Missions should pay this, so decided to raise the money and discontinue our pledge for this scholarship. The pledges were then taken:

An invitation from Miss Emery was read, asking how many delegates would attend the meeting in New York, in October, 1889. Mrs. C. E. Patterson, Mrs. Thomas A. Tillinghast of Troy, Miss A. E. Tweddle of Menands, Mrs. Byington of Albany, Mrs. A. Van Nostrand of Schenectady, and Mrs. John C. Tibbits of Hudson gave their names.

Mrs. John H. Peck then offered a vote of thanks to Christ Church for the very hospitable way in which we had been entertained.

The President announced the next quarterly meeting would be held at the Parish House at St. Paul's, Troy, in October, notice of which would be given.

The annual meeting in May, next, at All Saints' Cathedral, Albany.

Mrs. T. A. Tillinghast offered the resolution, that the annual report be ordered printed.

Dr. Maxcy then closed the meeting.

THE REGULAR QUARTERLY MEETING

Of the Woman's Auxiliary Society was held in St. John's Parish House, Troy. The meeting was opened with prayer by the Rev. T. A. Snively.

The President, Mrs. C. E. Patterson, called the meeting to order. Twenty-two delegates were present. Mrs. Patterson then made a short address of welcome.

The minutes of the annual meeting were read and accepted. Miss C. F. Robbins of Albany, Corresponding Secretary, spoke of work already done. Mrs. Kip of Albany, Treasurer, of pledges paid.

Mrs. T. A. Tillinghast, Manager for Troy, spoke of several parishes already at work.

Miss Tweddle was asked to tell of her late visits among missionary schools in the South, which she did. Mrs. Byington of St. Peter's, Albany, spoke of work they had decided to do, and Miss Blakely of All Saints' Cathedral branch spoke of work being done in their society. There was a very general discussion of work to be done and money to be raised. The meeting then adjourned.

The regular quarterly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held in the Crypt of All Saints' Cathedral, Albany.

The meeting opened with prayer by the Rev. W. L. Robbins, Dean of the Cathedral.

The President, Mrs. Patterson, called the meeting to order, and the Secretary called the roll. Nine parishes were represented by delegates. The minutes of the last quarterly meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Kip reported pledges paid. Miss Robbins read two very interesting letters.

The President announced the resignation of two Managers—Miss M. A. Lowell of the Convocation of Albany, and Mrs. Bloomfield Usher of the Convocation of Ogdensburgh. Mrs. A. Van Nostrand of Schenectady, appointed in Miss Lowell's place, but no appointment for Ogdensburgh.

The Manager for Convocation of Troy, reported a new branch formed at St. Paul's, Troy, in January.

The Rev. Mr. Woodman addressed the meeting, commending the work of the Auxiliary, and also the work of the Church Periodical Club. This was generally discussed, and Miss F. Burt of Rensselaerville, consented to act as correspondent. Mrs. Gregg proposed a society should be formed in each church where no such work is done.

Mrs. Doane suggested a plan for this work should be presented at the annual meeting in May. The meeting was, on motion, adjourned.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

Women of the Auxiliary: I am glad to meet you once again, and I take great pleasure in welcoming you to Troy. To this modern Ilium which we citizens fondly believe to be the greatest city of the present day. In our intense love and admiration for our town we have begun to feel, I fear, that if the heathen will not come to live in Troy, and enjoy the refining influences to be found here, there is no use in doing anything for people so blind to their own best interests. Now I hope we may be aroused to-day to the needs of those unfortunate individuals whose lives have to be passed elsewhere; passed perhaps in some small village, or on an isolated farm in this Diocese, or they may face the great problems of existence on some Indian reservation as an Indian, in whose breast burns the fire of vengeance, for wrongs suffered at the hands of the white man. Or perchance the lot may be cast as a colored man, with his new sense of freedom, which has meant to him as much as anything, freedom from all restraint, liberty to do wrong if he choose. Or it may be the life must be spent in those far away lands where the pall of idolatry lies dark and heavy over all. I pray God, we may all be aroused to-day to the urgent needs of such as these.

We meet this morning especially to gather up the different threads of our work, to weave them into one harmonious whole, and then to throw the glittering strand beside those wrought in former years, and then to answer the query, What of the year? In answering this question it is well to consider for a moment the aim of the Woman's Auxiliary. Why was it formed? I find that the Woman's Auxiliary was organized by order of the Board of Missions in October, 1871, to aid the Board in, 1st, the increase of its funds; 2d, the circulation of missionary publications; 3d, the education of Missionaries; 4th, the making, collecting and distributing of articles of clothing for Missionaries and their families ; 5th, the education of Missionaries' children. We should often pause to look at these five departments of our work, and see how well we are carrying out the aims of the society.

At the quarterly meeting held in November at St. John's Parish House, Troy, it was decided to make an effort to increase the number of Parish Branches. So the Managers wrote to every clergyman in the Diocese, in whose parish there was no organized Woman's Missionary Society, asking for his consent and co-operation in forming a Parish Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary. It is my painful duty to record that very few of those letters were answered. There was a letter received by one Manager from a clergyman's wife, saying her husband would be very glad to have her try to gather the ladies together for missionary work, but it would make her so unpopular in the parish to propose to work for any such object, that he was unwilling to have her undertake it. Such a letter, while revealing a narrowness and selfishness that is deplorable, is certainly better than none, and fulfills the requirements of polite usage, supposed to be current among the clergy of this Diocese. However, this effort to form new societies was not entirely without results. Several have been organized. One in St. Paul's Parish in this city has begun work and seems much interested. I am also happy to say that a young lady of the same parish has interested a band of quite young girls in mission work, with success. I wish the plan could be tried in other parishes.

The Woman's Auxiliary in this Diocese has sustained a great loss this year in the death of Mrs. Hannibal Green of Troy, who, several years ago, was its president, but after a few months she was obliged to withdraw. She, however, never lost her interest in missions, or her faith in the success of God's cause, when others were discouraged she still hoped and worked on. Her life was a beautiful illustration of the great power for good one refined, Christian woman can be, and we can well say of her, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them." May her life be an inspiration to us, who still have to bear the burden and heat of the day. Let us be in earnest, let us beware of being lukewarm. This is no time for indifference, there is a hand to hand fight to be fought. The prevailing sin of to-day is lukewarmness. We have let down the bars that separated right from wrong, the good, from the evil, and there has come upon us a strange indifference, a very low standard of piety. Our aim in life is low, and when conscience makes a faint struggle to be heard, we stifle it with the thought, if we have done no good in this world, we have at least done no harm. What does the Bible say to such? "I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth." It is told of the great King of Judah, Hezekiah, "that in every work that he began in the service of his God, that he did it with all his heart, and prospered." A noted minister has lately said, "If Christians would do their duty the whole world would be converted in ten years." Think of that! If every man, woman and child would pray and work as they ought, in ten years the round world and they that dwell therein would hear the glad tidings of great joy just as sweet and just as powerful now as on that morn when the Celestial Choirs sang the first Christmas carol to the Shepherds of Bethlehem.

Just now we have been thrilled with the excitement of the celebration of the One Hundreth Anniversary of the inauguration of the first president of the United States. It is not necessary that I should now rehearse to you the scenes of not a month ago, when troops assembled, civic associations marched, and Christian people gathered in their Churches to ask God's blessing all in honor of a nation's hero, who in the hour of his grandest triumph turned to the altar of God, in recognition of his absolute dependence upon the Divine Arm, for all his success. The enthusiasm of the American people may have led them to exaggerate the importance of the occasion, but it is not possible to read the history of the past century and not see the hand of God in it. Christianity and republicanism are founded on absolutely the same basis. The foundation of both is the unqualified recognition of the absolute equality of man. Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, may convey the divine part of God's message to man, but, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, bespeaks the practical working of that command. The loving of one's neighbor as himself is what Christ taught on earth, the application of that teaching was what George Washington embodied in his life, his manhood, and his lesson to posterity. It has been God's pleasure that the lessons he taught should be as seed sown on good ground. The grand republic of the United States in America has arisen and grown to be one of the foremost nations of the earth. The influence of its example has spread to the modification of tyranny to the most despotic of countries, and to the establishment of republican institutions in every quarter of the globe. Who that regards, for instance, the way in which the Republic of France has superseded the most arbitrary of monarchies, can fail to see the working of Christianity and the influence, under God, of the glorious example of Washington. And when we look to see how was developed the grand character which made Washington the hero of a world, who that has read history can mistake the wonderful influence in the formation of his character of woman. It is not merely that his mother nurtured him and had regard for his physical well-being, but it is the fact that she brought him up to reverence and love God, and that she made herself the arbiter of his early fortunes, that gives a significance to the place woman has in the history of America, and through America of the whole world, the history that a hundred years have written, the history a hundred centuries have yet to tell. Woman's hand may not hold the chisel that carves the grand monuments of the world's progress, but it is certainly her place to so guide the hand that holds it that upon the unhewn rocks of the future, there may be wrought not only what is symmetrical and beautiful, but what is useful to humanity, and to the glory of God.

FANNY SEYMOUR PATTERSON,

MAY 21ST, 1889.

President.

P. S.—It is with great regret that I announce the resignation of our Corresponding Secretary, Miss C. F. Robbins. The day following our annual meeting, she was prostrated with illness, which still continues, and renders it wise for her to withdraw. For one year she has worked with us, and in that short time she has endeared herself to us all by her intelligent Christian sympathy, and has discharged the duties of her office with a zeal and energy worthy of all praise.

Her successor is Mrs. Melvil Dewey, No. 196 Washington Avenue, Albany.

JULY 1ST, 1889.

Efforts have been made to have branches of the Auxiliary formed in the various parishes that are not yet working with us, but with no success. It has been asked, as our President requested, that the parishes not members of the Auxiliary would send us a report of their missionary work, but no such report has been received. Most of the parishes promise to do better in the future, but there are two churches which have no interest beyond their own villages.

REPORT OF THE DIOCESAN CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

The summary of work accomplished in connection with our Diocesan Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary since the last annual meeting is not as encouraging as could be desired. We do not want to believe that there has been a lessening of interest in missionary effort, but there has certainly been no visible increase in numbers or vital energy, leading to an increase in offerings.

Some branches that we had hoped to hear from, have given us no sign of life ; others say, "We have had so many heavy demands on the resources of our little parish that, of necessity, we have lessened our work with the Auxiliary this year."

But, while much of our correspondence may seem disheartening, we have to remember that the Diocese of Albany is, itself, to a very large extent, a Missionary Diocese. It is a peculiar feature of our organization that there are very few effective centres of work or support, the only two cities of any considerable size in the Diocese being Albany and Troy. Ogdensburgh and Potsdam are the only strong and self-supporting parishes in the Convocation of Ogdensburgh, and Cooperstown and Delhi the only strong parishes in the Convocation of the Susquehanna.

In proof of the Missionary character of the Diocese, it is only necessary to call your attention to the fact that we have within our own borders thirty-two organized Missions, while Church services are supplied to twenty-four places in which regular Missions even are not yet organized, and missionary aid is given to about thirty incorporated parishes. We must think of these facts while reviewing our work.

A suggestion comes to us from the Susquehanna, that as the members in that Convocation are, for the most part, too far away to attend the annual and quarterly meetings, they would be glad if arrangements could be made whereby they might hold at the same time a Convocation Branch meeting, and thus arouse a more lively interest in the work of the Auxiliary.

The number of parishes reporting through the Auxiliary is less than last year. The number of objects for which they work remains the same

In the Convocation of Albany, we hear from All Saints', Albany; St. Peter's, Albany; St. Paul's, Albany; Grace Church, Albany; St. Margaret's Guild, Menands; St. John's, Johnstown; St. Luke's, Catskill; Trinity, Rensselaerville; St. Ann's, Amsterdam; Christ Church, Hudson; St. Albans' Mission, Frankfort; St. George's, Schenectady; Christ Church, Duaneburgh; Emmanuel, Little Falls; St. John's, Cohoes; St. Paul's, Kinderhook; St. Augustine, Ilion—17 branches reported.

Total number of boxes, 51; money value of boxes, $2,323.18.

The Convocation of Troy reports from St. John's, Troy; St. Paul's, Troy; Ascension Church, Troy; Christ Church, Troy; Christ Church, Ballston; Bethesda, Saratoga; St. John's, Champlain; All Saints, Hoosac—8 working branches.

Total number of boxes, 19—money value of boxes, $1,278.16.

In the Convocation of the Susquehanna we have reports from St. John's, Delhi; St. Peter's, Hobart; Christ Church, Walton; Grace Church, Cherry Valley; St. Paul's, East Springfield; Christ Church, Gilbertsville; Christ Church, West Burlington; Trinity, Sharon Springs; Zion Church, Morris—9 branches.

Total number of boxes, 13; money value of boxes, $320.10.

The Convocation of Ogdensburgh reports from St. John's Church, Ogdensburgh, and Trinity Church, Potsdam—2 branches.

Number of boxes, 6; valuation of boxes, $400.

Whole number of branches reported, 35.

Total in boxes reported, 89.

Total valuation of boxes, $4,303.34.

During the year I have sent out 174 letters and postals; 190 annual Diocesan Auxiliary reports, and about 85 general reports.

In some parishes the erroneous impression seems to prevail that connection with the Woman's Auxiliary involves a certain limitation and control of parochial missionary work, whereas the only object of our association is to render such work more effective by united effort.

Our pledges for foreign work have all been fulfilled.

Appeals from missionary stations in the South and West have in many instances been met with a ready response; but if every woman in every parish would only feel bound to give her mite, however small, we should have more liberal donations to record, and need in no case have turned a deaf ear to the cry for help.

The Diocesan field wins—as is perhaps right—the first place in our regard. There is seldom any hesitation in sharing in this part of the work. The Board of Missions has sought to keep the stipends of missionaries at an average of $700 a year; but even this sum is in most instances sadly disproportionate to the services rendered. This fact of the inadequacy of stipends, added to the natural instinct of caring first for those who are of our own household, as it were, has made the offerings in the home-field more satisfactory to chronicle than the other branches of the year's work.

In conclusion, we can only express the hope that in future the abundant opportunities for usefulness offered by the Auxiliary to the women of the Diocese will be even more gladly welcomed and faithfully improved than in time past.

CAROLINE FALCONER ROBBINS,
Corresponding Secretary.
