PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

To the Right Reverend Bishop of the District, and Woman's Auxiliary:

One of the most difficult things that I find to do in the discharge of my duties as your President, is to speak just the word to you at our annual meeting that I would have you carry home for help and encouragement during the coming year.

As we review our past work there are many things to be thankful for, and still more to be accomplished; this too is a condition to be thankful for.

There is no standing still in this age of rapid progress, and it is evident that the Woman's Auxiliary at large is realizing this as never before.

Many more and varied demands are constantly being made upon us, and who does not at times feel herself embarrassed and a little breathless with these continued calls for added effort?

Yet who has not observed that there is always a response to effort when properly directed?—it may not be at once, but to the true worker there is no lasting discouragement.

The trouble is that we do not keep ourselves fully equipped in order to be ready to respond to these unceasing demands; what we need is an increase of loyalty, an enthusiasm that never tires, a supreme faith in our cause and an insatiable desire for the knowledge that develops the power to spend and be spent in the warfare of "Christ for the world."

It has been frequently urged upon you, and I must not let this opportunity pass to again emphasize to officers and delegates the necessity of a more careful reading of our Annual Report from cover to cover.

I wonder how many here present could pass an examination on last year's work and the minutes of the Annual meeting?

I assure you the Report fails in its purpose, and is not worth the time and money expended upon it if the members of this Auxiliary neglect to avail themselves of its contents.

Will you try this plan and report on it by next year? At the first meeting of your branch in the fall, read the minutes of this meeting and all the reports of your officers, compare the Treasurer's report with that of last year, look up the report of your own branch and note your gains or losses, if you are not promoting the work of the Junior and Babies' Branches ask yourselves why you are neglecting this important feature of our work, look up other branches with like conditions as your own, and compare the work.

Oh! I know how difficult it is for some of you to keep up your branches here in the District, and more than one branch is entitled to a banner for perseverance and accomplishment that perhaps carries the least financial report to its credit.

It only goes to prove that a woman with the God-given missionary spirit can bring forth a harvest from a barren field.

In connection with the reading of our Annual Report it would be well for us to bear in mind the second clause of our Constitution which begins with this statement: "The object of this Society is to diffuse knowledge of the Missionary work of the whole Church among the women of the District;" this is, therefore, a duty encumbent upon each one of us, please bear it in mind that from the limited study of our Annual Report you may reach out to broader fields of Missionary literature, and at this point you will find a willing helper and guide in our Educational Secretary.

And now, let me make a brief but important report to you. We have lost one branch but gained another at Black Mountain, where last fall I had the pleasure of meeting some of the women of the Church for organization.

With the assistance of Mrs. W. E. Balthis, of Gastonia, who has carried on most of the correspondence for me, a thorough canvass of the District has been made with a view to increasing the branches of the Woman's Auxiliary. This correspondence was, on the whole, quite satisfactory and by another year I hope to be able to report several branches added to our list.

After all, it is not a word of mine that I will leave with you in closing, but one taken from the Bishop, where he reminds us of the necessity of keeping up the spiritual side of life by constant communication with the Giver of Life and Strength.

God grant that the considerations and efforts of this Eighteenth Annual meeting may not be in vain.

President.

Minutes of the Eighteenth Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the District of Asheville

The Eighteenth Annual Meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary in the District of Asheville met in Trinity Church, Asheville, on Tuesday, June the 16th, at eight o'clock. This was the regular Missionary Service of the Auxiliary, and the address was made by the Rev. F. J. Clark, of the staff of the Church Missions House, New York. He spoke of the work accomplished during the last three years by the Woman's Auxiliary stating the really remarkable sum given by the women. But not merely by the gift of money has the strength of the Auxiliary been shown, but by the far greater gift of life and work.

At half past twelve on Wednesday, Bishop Horner opened the business session of the meeting with the creed and prayers, and made his annual address. He spoke of the great help given the work here and elsewhere by the Auxiliary, and encouraged his hearers by words of praise to go forward and do more than ever before. He urged all to have "the enthusiastic vision of the coming of Christ's Kingdom," and to do what is possible "to hasten the time appointed."

Mrs. Minor, in behalf of the Trinity Branch, welcomed the delegates and members to Asheville in a most cordial way. Roll call showed thirty-seven delegates, twenty-two other members, three Junior leaders, two Junior members, and seven officers of the Auxiliary, seventy-one in all. Mrs. Bacon next made her address, closing with the Bishop's injunction to heed the spiritual call of the Auxiliary work. Miss Martin, President of the Trinity Auxiliary, gave a cordial invitation from the Guild and the Rector's Aid to luncheon at the Langren Hotel, requesting the ladies to return to the crypt of the Church at 2:30 to finish the business meeting.

The first report brought before the afternoon session was that of the Treasurer, Mrs. Bacon. The report was accepted as read, and is to be printed in detail in the Annual Report. Miss Martin gave the report of the United Offering with interesting statistics. This was accepted as read. Mrs. Minor presented an encouraging report of the Junior Auxiliary, although she feels deep regret that some of the Branches have not met all their apportionment, while one Sunday School Auxiliary has withdrawn from the work.

On motion the report was accepted. In the absence of Mrs. Norris, Mrs. Bacon read the report of the Babies' Branch which was also accepted on motion. Mrs. Wetmore, the Secretary of Mission Study, urged her hearers to give more attention to this side of the work, asking if each Branch will not send at least one member to a Study Class, so that in each Auxiliary there may be a leader for this study. Mrs. Chapman, in giving the report of the Church Periodical Club, read selections from a number of letters, thanking the senders for interesting reading matter. Mrs. Chapman made an earnest plea for the "Spirit of Missions," which she urged some one in each Branch to take. Mrs. Swope spoke of a new undertaking: A joint box to which Branches not wishing to send a box alone, may contribute. This year the total value of the joint box was $95.75. Mrs. Balthis, who had been asked by Mrs. Bacon to write to different clergymen and other workers in regard to organizing new Branches of the Auxiliary, gave an interesting report of what she had done. Mrs. Grady read a short paper on Brazil, telling what Bishop Kinsolving and his helpers are doing in that great South American country, suggesting this field for our Foreign Work. Mrs. Davidson then presented the cause of St. Mary's School, Shanghai, reading what Mrs. Ely had written of the school in which she had taught for a year. The vote was taken for Foreign Work, and resulted in favor of St. Mary's School, Shanghai.

At half past three Mrs. Bacon gave the chair to Mrs. Minor, who presided over a meeting of the Junior Auxiliary to which all present were asked to remain. Mrs. Minor read an interesting paper on the Junior Work, urging her hearers to help train the younger generation. She asked all to remember that "the Junior Auxiliary is first and foremost a missionary society." Mrs. Chester Lymari read a short paper on the Educational Side of the Junior Work, and Miss Hatch spoke in a most interesting way of her work among the Juniors in Trinity Church. She said no leader should ever allow herself to be discouraged. Mrs. Joyner told of her work among the children of Glen Alpine, who have shown great interest, boys as well as girls taking part. After hearing from several others on the subject of the Junior Work, Mrs. Bacon resumed the chair, and called for a report from the "Ways and Means Committee" which had been appointed by Mrs. Bacon earlier in the meeting, and was composed of Mrs. Royster, Mrs. Van Winkle, and Mrs. Little. This committee presented the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That each Auxiliary be increased ten per cent. of present assessment for the Central Fund. Any Branch feeling able to contribute more is earnestly requested to consider the matter."

Rev. Walter J. Smith gave a five-minute address on the Thompson Orphanage, telling of the many needs of that institution. Mr. Wilson, from the Good Shepherd Mission, Morganton, spoke for five minutes of the work there and at the other Missions in the Morganton group and of the crying need for schools. Miss Patton presented the claims of the school at Balsam under the able direction of the Misses Portner, where much repair work is needed. Each Branch has the privilege of deciding to which of these two Missions its contribution for the Fourth Quarter shall be sent.

Mrs. Chapman spoke in behalf of Bishop Spalding's work in Utah, which has many and pressing needs, and emphasized especially the needs of St. Mark's Hospital, Salt Lake City. The Auxiliary was asked to make this the Domestic Work for one quarter. Mrs. Chapman's appeal was followed by a paper read by Mrs. Minor on the Idaho Indians under Bishop Funsten, which was most interesting. The vote for Domestic Work was then taken, and resulted in the success of the Idaho Indians. The work for the coming year having been decided upon, Mrs. Wetmore read a letter from Miss Emery asking for a certain amount for the insurance of foreign missionaries, in this way relieving them of the expense of fifty dollars a year. Mrs. Wetmore commended this suggestion as being "both practical and appealing," rather a rare combination.

The Secretary read two letters from Miss Emery, after which Mrs. Wetmore thanked the members of the Auxiliary, of the Guild, and of the Rector's Aid of Trinity Church for their delightful hospitality during the Annual Meeting. This was put in the form of a motion, including a rising vote of thanks. The minutes were read and accepted, the doxology was sung, and the meeting adjourned until June, 1915.

S. CHESTER LYMAN,
Recording Secretary.

CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB.

We can report some progress this year as we have two more librarians and have contributed almost twice as much as we did last year to the current expenses and endowment fund.

Last Oct. I had the pleasure of handing Mrs. Chapman herself a small box of odd bits of gold, silver or trinkets for the "melting pot". She told me she had raised $300 in this way. The dear old lady after serving as Sec. of the C. P. C. for over twenty years passed to her reward during the winter.

It was a great inspiration to be present at the mid-day Breakfast she gave in Hotel Manhattan to the officers of the C. P. C. in attendance at the convention and a number of Bishops and clergymen who spoke with great appreciation of the work of the society.

I fear to take too much of your time but I want to quote from some letters received by officers of the C. P. C.

Here is a donor's view of the value of the society. "The C. P. C. is like the quality of mercy in that it blesses him that gives and him that takes." I have in mind a real friendship formed with a person I have never seen who lived on a distant southern plantation when our club sent magazines for herself and children."

Another writes: "I thank you for your assistance in giving me the pleasure of sharing my riches of reading matter with some less fortunate beings. Just think of being able to give pleasure to seven human beings by using a little postage. I could go on quoting from letters of clergymen, lay readers, workers in school prisons, lumber or mining camps where reading-rooms have been established in various parts of our foreign and domestic fields.

When the fleet of U. S. Battleships started on their trip around the world one of the chaplains appealed to the California branch of the C. P. C. and they were supplied with reading matter and games for their leisure time. So the help of the society radiates in all directions and I hope we shall share in it as far as we can.

At our last convention the Bishop asked me to do all I could to have most excellent Missionary Magazine, The Spirit of Missions, more widely known and used. I have written to all the Presidents of the various branches of the Woman's Auxiliary in the district, asking them to urge if possible each family to subscribe. I am sure all would enjoy it and be far more interested in the growth and spread of the kingdom if this were done.

Yours truly,

MRS. C. D. CHAPMAN.

REPORT OF JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

I feel that we owe the very successful showing made by the Junior Auxiliary this year and the increased generosity of its gifts entirely to a few faithful leaders who have so inspired the young people by their teaching and example that they are filled with the spirit of helping and giving and we have a report of which we may be justly proud.

Fifteen Branches have paid their apportionment towards each object and responded generously to other appeals. We have two new Branches and have revived one old one. From these three we have only partial reports and contributions, but hope they will be on the banner roll next year.

I regret the loss of one Branch which until this year was faithful and prompt in paying its assessments, but has now dropped out entirely, the leader reporting lack of interest on the part of the teachers (it was a S. S. Auxiliary), and the rector. In the fifteen Branches reporting there are 156 members. There has been subscribed as follows:
