Sixteenth Annual Report of the California Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Board of Missions.
May, 1895-6

“Bring them hither to me.”

The Woman's Auxiliary asks the prayers of the Church on the Festival of the Transfiguration of Christ, the Auxiliary's “Altar Day.”

“The following may be used by the clergy in the Diocese at the services on the Festival of the Transfiguration:

PRAYER FOR THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY IN THE DIOCESE:

O Almighty Father, who didst vouchsafe to Thy chosen ones on the mount the comforting vision of the glory that shall be revealed, to strengthen and cheer them in their Apostolic work, we beseech Thee to be with Thy servants the members of the Woman's Auxiliary in this Diocese, in all their efforts for the spread of the Kingdom of Thy dear Son. Grant that to many hearts may go the call of opportunity to serve Thee in this work, in the bearing of others' burdens and the fulfillment of the law of Christ. In what they think and do, enable them to hear the voice of Thy Son to guide and strengthen them. And in all the means of grace in Thy Church, and more especially in the Holy Communion at Thy Altars, help them to see Him who is invisible, that in their aims, and difficulties, and trials they may have the abiding faith that all things are possible to them that believe. We ask this for the merits of Him who came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, Thy Son, our Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen.

WILLIAM F. NICHOLS.”

Report of the Sixteenth Annual Meeting.

S. LUKE'S CHURCH, SAN FRANCISCO, MAY 8, 1896.

At 10 A. M. the officers held a meeting to transact routine business. The roll call showed fifteen parishes represented. Pledges were made to central expenses and to the Bishop's Auxiliary Fund. Representatives from city parishes were named for the ensuing year. The programme for the afternoon meeting was read and discussed.

The service at 11 o'clock was uplifting—the large number of worshipers and the music of the vested choir adding inspiration to the holy words. It was our privilege to hear a most stirring sermon from Bishop Johnson, of Los Angeles. Surely every one must have awakened to a new sense of responsibility in regard to domestic missions, as the bishop described the possibilities of the work—the extent and resources of the country—the need of the work—the influx of foreigners forgetful of religion, and exposed to new temptations. Then, indeed, we felt that domestic missions are our best service to our country as well as a duty to God.

At the close of the service, the congregation remained to hear the proposed constitution read.

After enjoying the bountiful hospitality of the ladies of S. Luke's at luncheon the business meeting was called to order at 1:45, Bishop Nichols in the chair. The roll was called, twenty-two parishes responding. Then came the consideration of the proposed constitution. It was adopted article by article and then as a whole by a unanimous vote.

The bishop's charge to the Auxiliary dwelt on the division of the branch, which should give us better opportunity for developing the territory within each new organization, and called for a larger membership from the Churchwomen of San Francisco.

The Bishop of Los Angeles was obliged to leave before we could ask him to speak to us more intimately, and our own bishop, after his address, called the Rev. Mr. Moreland to the chair, and bidding us Godspeed hastened away to an appointment. We had the unusual pleasure of welcoming visitors from the Northern Jurisdiction and the East. Miss Jarvis, chairman of the Advisory Committee on the Junior Auxiliary, was happily present to address the meeting.

Miss Jarvis, whose position as secretary of the Junior department of the Connecticut Auxiliary has brought her in closer relations to our branch, took up characteristic features of the work in the two dioceses in contrast or comparison; showed how we could learn from each other, and then bade us join hands over the great continent she had traversed in coming to us, that the home field here and between us might be blessed. The Rev. Mr. Cowie then spoke on Missions Classes. The key note of the address was struck in the statement that as in the past we had had periods of philosophy, of romance or sentiment, so now in this age of scientific enquiry we must apply modern thought to the advancement of the missionary cause, and by study and enquiry better it through and through. The annual report of secretary, secretary of the Junior Department, secretary of the Babies' Branch, and treasurer, which had been deferred to give the earlier hours to the speakers, followed, and then the report of the Church Periodical Club.

Resolutions in appreciation of S. Luke's overflowing welcome were passed. We had sung, "Blest be the tie that binds," for the last time as an undivided branch, and the doxology and benediction closed this, the last and largest and best meeting of the old Auxiliary.

M. A. HAWLEY, Secretary of the Meeting.

Sixteenth Annual Report.

To-day I have the unique privilege of presenting to two bishops the record of one work, and in welcoming the Bishop of Los Angeles to this, the other half of his Auxiliary, we claim him as our own; and for one short day defy ecclesiastical canons, scorn precedent and set up two bishops in equal authority over one territory, the loyal hearts of the yet undivided branch—hearts which no division of this diocese can sunder.

Our year began with a roll of ninety separate societies, six of which make no report as yet. While our tables will show 112 organizations, more or less closely affiliated with us to-day, and eighteen more responding to special calls, the increase is largely in the Junior Department, due to our secretary's unremitting labors, and in the addition of new branches within parishes already working with us.

We add the Auxiliary, All Saints, Riverside, reorganized after a lapse of several years; the new branches in the mission of S. Luke's, Monrovia, and S. Luke's, Los Gatos; the branch in Christ's Church, Alameda, which after a period of merely nominal association, was fully organized by the new rector; and five new Junior Auxiliaries.

With slight modifications, our remaining branches work as heretofore. In some of them, notably S. John's, Oakland, parish missionary meetings have been held with great success. But realizing the multiplicity of demands on our members, in most cases busy parish workers as well, we have made the general monthly meetings in San Francisco, and the quarterlies in Los Angeles and Alameda county, gathering places for the neighboring branches. Including the annual and the adjourned annual, twenty-four of these general meetings have been held within the year,—five in Los Angeles, five in Alameda county and fourteen in San Francisco,—the regular monthly meetings and special gatherings. Addresses made at them have been reported in our organ, the Pacific Churchman, and here we will note only those marking special events.

As usual, the first meetings of the year in the northern convocation were addressed by out-going Alaska missionaries.

The Rev. Mr. Provost and Mrs. Provost were with us at the quarterly meeting in S. Paul's, Oakland, on the afternoon of Ascension Day; and on the 3rd of June in Trinity Chapel, San Francisco, the ladies of Trinity introduced their guests at an informal tea after a very interesting meeting.

At the semi-annual in S. Luke's on the 5th of November, a full church listened to the bishop's story of the general convention and its results. On the same day in S. Paul's, Los Angeles, the general meeting of city and neighborhood branches heard all about the triennial from the returning delegates.

Bishop Rowe was given his welcome to the Pacific coast at the February quarterly in Epiphany, Los Angeles; and on S. Matthias Day in Trinity Chapel, we, in San Francisco, had the great joy of meeting him and his party, and of offering, as a society, our prayers for the Bishop of Los Angeles, consecrated that day. Bishop Nichols was with us and many of the clergy, and after the service and addresses, the ladies of Trinity invited everybody to the guild rooms where formality was quickly banished in the cordial reception given our Alaska neighbors. A visit to S. John's branch, Oakland, three days later, introduced Bishop Rowe to our Alameda county workers.

The Bishop of Los Angeles met the women of his Auxiliary in the guild hall of S. Paul's, Los Angeles, on the 8th of April, and after an address full of the inspiration of leadership, arranged to hold the primary meeting of the new branch on the day preceding the first annual convention of the Diocese of Los Angeles, May 25th.

The Feast of the Transfiguration, our Altar day, was observed at the Church of the Advent by a large congregation of Auxiliary women and the Daughters of the King. The bishop celebrated the holy communion, and in his address showed the helpfulness of these days of inspiration.

Again we have had two Quiet Days, one in S. John's, Los Angeles, on December 14th, conducted by the Bishop of California, and the other in S. Stephen's, San Francisco, February 14th, conducted by the rector, the Rev. E. J. Lion.

This closes a record of fifteen Quiet Days in the last ten years—days that mark off as on a rosary the devotions that have linked the work together in a precious chain of prayer and service.

Within the year two officers have gone to their rest—Mrs. A. V. Wakeman, vice-president from Grace church, after a long life in many fields of usefulness; and Mrs. L. C. Sanford, secretary of the branch in Selma, in whose presence we had ever felt that the hope of the Auxiliary lies not so much in meetings and speeches or even in work, as in just such noble womanhood as looked out from her fair face, and lived its mission in every word and deed of her bright young life. As in the Church's early days, we call their names to remembrance and before the altar say, "With them remember us, O Lord."

In compliance with a request from the persons concerned, we take this opportunity to make the following statement: Captain Hinde of Coronado, desiring to make the new church of S. Peter's, Coronado, a complete memorial of his daughter, has, with the consent of the contributors, paid for the appointments of the church, the value of previous gifts to the building itself. The value of the gift of stone by a member of S. Paul's Auxiliary, San Diego, reported by us in 1894, should therefore be considered as so transferred.

In the movements of the general society, this branch has had but little active share. We were not represented officially at the triennial meeting and our tables show a small proportion of gifts to objects outside the diocese. The reasons for the latter fact are too well known to need mention here. But we are growing out; the interest in China and Alaska deepens, and when we shall be two branches we will have a new, mutual interest in domestic missions.

Topics of general interest have been constantly discussed in the columns of the Pacific Churchman. By distributing leaflets we have kept the wider work before our people, and the United Offering mite chests are reminders of the work beyond. Our share of the United Offering of 1895 was very largely the gathering of small sums by persons of moderate means—a constant teaching of the "mighty cent" principle, for we know of only two gifts to it as large as $25, and yet we were able to send, with what was collected during the previous two years, $604.44.

Our officers have worked assiduously for the United Offering of 1898, and we can report 203 mite chests placed in fourteen parishes. We ask all our members to make it their special business in vacation to interest others in the next United Offering.

The record of the past year as you will read it in the tables, represents a period in our history full of doubts and difficulties; parish burdens and home burdens have been heavier, the cry of the poor at our doors has been louder than ever before. But in many branches where parish debts pressed hardest the women have given with both hands, and not forgetting the poor, have brought the spikenard too, that they might share the costlier sacrifice; with the result, wholly unexpected, and unsuspected until the very last footings were made—a good increase on last year's totals, with cash so nearly equal to the value of gifts in kind, that we may yet expect delayed payments to make it fully half our gifts to the mission cause.

But we find, as do the boards of missions, that officers may not relax vigilance in gaining for the regular funds, and we beg our churchwomen as a whole to interest themselves in the Bishop's Auxiliary Fund, the one general diocesan fund that we try to raise.

We ask every churchwoman in the diocese of California to take a set of envelopes for this, if she is not now interested in making up her parish pledge, and to put something in once every month, as we desire this fund to be a source of relief to the bishop in some of the many emergencies that arise, as well as to provide support for such women as he may place in his mission field.

Subscriptions to the Altar Fund have not been general and the treasurer offers to keep the account open until her report goes to press, that, if possible, the dues for August, 1895, may be applied to two altars, one in each diocese.

But we have had new reasons for thankfulness and for hopefulness. In July, 1895, by a bequest of Mrs. Caroline L. Johnston of San Rafael, we received $1000, less the collateral inheritance tax of $50.

Mrs. Johnston was one of our first members and this generous provision is but the carrying on of her constant interest to helpfulness beyond her lifetime. It is sweet to connect our gratitude for this first legacy with memories of the giver, so fine an example of holy living, as of Christian dying, and we commend her thoughtfulness to others of us who may feel that this Auxiliary can be trusted to do a larger work.

Of the $950, $150 has been in use as a working capital for the more economical purchase of supplies, and $100 retained as an emergency fund, to be borrowed from and returned to, on occasion; the remainder is in a savings bank. On the organization of the Los Angeles branch, distribution will be made.

Every lively member of this Auxiliary must feel that what is most needed for the missionary cause is a more intelligent knowledge of missions in all departments; and now we can report successful classes for the study of missions under the direction of the bishop, at the Diocesan House, San Francisco, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Cowie on the first Wednesday in every month; in Oakland, conducted by Miss E. S. Wade on the second Wednesday; and in Pasadena, conducted by Dr. Anita Tyng. A class is held in S. Paul's, San Diego, and Dr. Tyng is arranging for classes in S. Paul's Guild Hall, Los Angeles, on the second and third Fridays of the month. Held at these centers, opportunity to study about missions is given to women and girls in the neighborhood, with an economy of effort and time.

Under the able conductors assigned to us, we have advantages excelling anything we could of ourselves command. We look to these classes for the enlargement of our work. We would make them normal classes to which a parochial branch may send a student, who in her turn may become teacher, and at one meeting of her branch every month, or on one Sunday in the Sunday school, repeat the lesson with such additions and modifications as the case demands.

For this plan we earnestly beg the interest of the clergy, believing that if we might have these special students giving out what they get and bringing back to the class what they gain themselves, we should not only see better work and more money for missions, but we should know better whom to send out as missionaries, what training is needed for the special fields, and thus the whole work at home and abroad would gain, as does all other work of intelligent beings, by a special knowledge of its specific needs. The missions class is the latest move of the undivided branch. We believe it is the best move. Let us move on!

To-day we reach the first turning point in our history. The society organized in 1889 was then confined to the city of San Francisco, with members in the neighborhood. As years passed, members were added in many places, branches formed, previously existing societies organized their missionary work in unison with us, Junior Auxiliaries and Sunday schools fell in line, the Babies' Branch was enrolled; and now at our division, the Los Angeles branch begins independent existence with thirty-three separate organizations in twenty parishes or missions—seventy-seven branches in thirty-five parishes or missions remaining in the old organization.

But turning points give glimpses of the past. For one brief moment we must speak of the things that have been. We remember the early days—the first churchwomen who came to the Pacific coast, the first auxiliaries, a noble band! Some of them are here to-day. Their faces shine in benediction on the increase God has given us. We call to mind our holy dead, most fondly him whose body sleeps in Iowa, our dear, great Bishop Kip. And if there is some sadness that his old diocese is now dismembered, let us recall his prophecy "Oh, how I envy the Bishop of the Angels," and believe that in paradise he sees with joy the fruit of his labors—the division which is multiplication, carrying on now in three bishoprics the work of his planting.

And what is there in our past we may send as a blessing to the future? With happy augury we close the record of the undivided branch on our sixteenth anniversary. The number of perfection has been twice told in our twice eight blessed years! Applying its mystical meaning in a fashion dear to us, I, your secretary, who touch almost the beginning of your work, say, that in all these busy years among all these busy women, there has been perfect peace.

Thousands of letters, hundreds of meetings, conferences, consultations without number, puzzles that baffle us still, misunderstandings within, wrong judgments without, how many opportunities for trouble, how many temptations to anger!

But amid all the shame of many failures, all the regrets for thwarted plans, the weariness, the faintings often, the self-accusations, and the "provokingness" of others, that we in retrospect recall, there are no memories of quarrels or dissensions. And the dowry of the old Auxiliary to the new Auxiliaries that now begin their course apart is the blessed memory of holy peace; not your virtue or mine, but the grace we have prayed for so often,—the gift of the Church of God, even the peace of God, which passeth all understanding.

But the cry is—Go Forward! We cannot part without a common outlook on the future. What do we need most in the new old work before us?

First of all, greater interest on the part of the clergy. To our bishop we have gone in every need, his guidance and his wonderful patience have been the chief source of our success: the Bishop of Los Angeles takes his auxiliary into like keeping and its future is so far assured. But we want no less of every clergyman in the church. Look at our printed tables, and when the items crowd under a heading, there is a rector who cares for his Auxiliary.

We often hear that the church cannot "get on" without the Auxiliary. We know that the Auxiliary cannot prosper without the support and oversight of the clergy. If you do not always approve of our methods Reverend Sirs, tell us so candidly, counsel us, guide us, care for us.

Secondly, more widely diffused, more exact knowledge of missions and the missionary work of the church. How many of us in this great congregation know even the names of our foreign missionary bishops, although most of us would be sorry to hesitate in naming our ambassadors to foreign courts!

Thirdly, a greater, more yearning love for the lonely women in the out of the way places, and more patient interest in the small beginnings. And always, a deeper personal consecration that will make the mission cause our own cause and find in our own hearts a response to the cry, "Come over and help us," or failing this, seek out and sustain in their hopes the candidates for missionary work among our own people.

Applicants from this coast, promising in all ways, now ask for training that will fit them for the mission fields. Shall we ask the East to support them in their training or shall we tell them the door is shut. Given a reasonable support we might test in association with workers here their general qualification, and then, until we have our own Pacific coast training house, give them a year's training in the deaconess houses already established.

And now it is farewell !

But how shall I say it and to what shall I liken this parting ? Let us turn to our title for the simile that best expresses it. We see on some plant of our care, a vigorous branch shooting upward and outward, blossoming, fruiting, bristling with twigs that divide its duty of giving and taking. We look again, the branch has divided, and now there are two, the same fiber though they grow apart, always the same sap; but more twiglets, more leaves, more blossoms and fruit !

Thus may it be with us, two branches reaching upward to one source of energy, our roots one, one world to bless, parting only that we may give more widely of our protecting love.

And so it is not farewell, but goodbye,—God be with us both, and of his perfect love give us a perfect work to do !

SUSAN S. LAWVER, Secretary.

Second Annual Report of the Junior Department.

We are growing in spite of hard times and the apathy of the many ! All of our parishes are not yet on our rolls, not because missions are objected to, but because there is so much to do at home.

We are trying to show that the more children are interested in missions the more they will wish to do "at home."

We are growing, difficult as it is to find women to direct branches of this, the Children's Missionary Society of the Church ! But one by one they offer, and if any others wish to share the blessed work they are referred to the constitution which will show how broad are the rules.

We wish to see every Sunday school in the diocese a branch of the Junior Auxiliary, realizing as its first missionary obligation a sharing in the Lenten offering, and during Advent taking our Advent mite boxes for Diocesan Missions. This is all that is required of a branch. Other appeals are made with the understanding that gifts to them are voluntary.

Bishop Whipple has said, "I shall be told that our laymen are weary with the constant appeals from every quarter. But think how much darker the world would be if there were no appeals."

Advent mite chests were placed this year for the first time. Out of fifty-three Sunday-schools approached, twenty responded with $128.68, and four of these were in little missions.

In the United Offering our department has been asked to help—and when the children have had it fully explained they have joined in it heartily.

Many of our Sunday-schools have a United Offering box, some place in it all the pennies found in their collections, others give, by vote, a certain sum to it, others give each year as many cents as they have scholars, others give a dollar a year, and in some schools boxes have been taken by individual scholars.

This year a lonely woman of Wood River, Neb., asked if some one would help her raise $3 a month to maintain services at her station, she lacking that much to pay the expenses of the missionary. The Juniors of twelve dioceses offered to pay each $3, and that lonely woman succeeded in bringing Christ not only to herself but to all in the vicinity. Bishop Graves wrote us that she could raise only $5, but that it cost the missionary $8 to get there and back once a month.

Later, Bishop Talbot asked if we could help him with his clergy fund, as the hard times made it almost impossible to pay his faithful clergymen. The Sunday-schools were asked, as many as could, to give $1, and $11.60 was raised. The thanks received for these two small sums from the two bishops were pathetic. They were so grateful for any help.

The objects in the diocese you all know of and nearly every Sunday-school and society does something for some of them. But are we doing all we can for Christ? Look over the list of church institutions, no one of which is endowed or independent yet, and see if you cannot help some one of them a little. Have you told your Sunday-school about them? Do you have a missionary Sunday each month, and interest your scholars in the work of the church. Children must be told over and over again or they will forget, and new children are entering the schools every week and they must be told. There are only four Sunday-schools in the diocese that support an orphan in either of our Orphanages, and there is nothing that children enjoy so much as to own an orphan, and work to raise the money to support their orphan, the girls having a week day Auxiliary to sew for said orphan; $2.50 a month or $30 a year is easily raised, and a great help to either Orphanage.

Boys should be specially interested in the Boys' Orphanage, and might do so much for it; also in the Seaman's Institute, especially the one at Port Costa, which is in so out of the way a place, we have to watch it closely to keep it alive,

Only interest the children and you will be surprised at what they will accomplish. Children have money for all sorts of luxuries, and it is for us to direct some of it into missionary channels. Thirty-three Sunday-schools and thirteen other societies have given this year $805.70 and sent boxes valued at $415.86, making a total of $1221.56 given and earned by only a small per cent of the children. Can we not persuade all Sunday-schools to fall in line?

"Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works," and help the missions of our church to "glorify their Father which is in heaven."

F. ELIZABETH BISHOP, Secretary.

Second Annual Report of the Babies Branch.

Last year, when the first report was given of the Babies' Branch, we had 116 members. Three of these we have lost by removal from the diocese, but have added many more so that there are now 226. From these we must transfer ninety-one to the diocese of Los Angeles, leaving for the California diocese 135. May God's blessing rest upon the new branch so well begun, and though we are not together I am sure the interest will be just as strong in one another. I have received money from 145 members, leaving many yet to be heard from, even if we leave out those who have joined within a short time. From the 145 members has been received $114.50 and $3.30 in membership fees, making $117.96

From July to September the membership fees amounted to $2.50, which we gave to the united offering in October, 1895; also the contents from the boxes of the three children who left the branch and the contents of a box sent in late, making altogether $5.30.

It seems necessary to ask the parents or guardians to feel a little more responsibility when making their babies members of the Branch, and to realize that there is more to it than merely giving the child's name and paying the first five cents.

We are all anxious that our children shall have ambitions in life and why not encourage holy ambitions. The Babies' Branch, I think, is a good beginning if we go at it in the right way, but it rests with us, the parents, and if we do our part, our little ones will be pretty sure to grow strong and vigorous for the Church, making their own lives and the lives of those about them sweet and holy.

I pray you remember the Babies' Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary that it may be the foundation of making many a strong churchman and churchwoman.

CLARA Q. NICHOLS, Secretary.

Report of the Church Periodical Club.

The annual report of the Church Periodical Club for 1895, will, we feel confident, gladden the hearts of those interested in the work.

There has been a marked increase throughout the work during the past year. We have sent currently 132 numbers, over 900 books, 200 pieces of music, 340 pictures and 12,928 miscellaneous publications.

In the Southern convocation where we have only two librarians, free reading rooms have been established in Temecula and Covina. In both of these places the people were eager to provide the space and to care for the publications.

Offers of files of magazines, etc., have been received, but these can only be accepted in those cases where the expense of expressage or freight is defrayed, as the club, financially, is unable to handle a large amount of matter. But for this lack of necessary money we should be able to do much more than at present.

We would again call your attention to our need of contributors willing to send the current numbers of the periodicals, postage prepaid, and we trust this appeal shall not be made in vain.

Our special thanks are due the Church Periodical Club librarian of S. Luke's our most earnest and active worker, and we have also most interested and efficient librarians in San Rafael, Berkeley, Oakland and Los Angeles.

We are especially indebted to the Bohemian Club, The Town and Country Club, also the Pacific Union for large contributions of reading matter. All of this large mass we should be unable to dispose of but for the kindness of Wells, Fargo & Co., in expressing our parcels free of charge at Easter and Christmas. But as has been stated, the correspondent is sadly hampered in the work by lack of funds, and is often unable to assist the missions applying to her for catechisms, hymnals, etc. It is for this purpose, as well as to send a clergyman occasionally a desired theological work, that we ask for yearly subscriptions from twenty-five cents to a dollar. All desiring to subscribe or wishing to send these current periodicals, postpaid, will please notify the correspondent, whose name and address may always be found in the Pacific Churchman.

JESSIE NEWLANDS, Correspondent.

Constitution.

I. This Society is the "CALIFORNIA BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO THE BOARD OF MISSIONS."

II. The object of this Society is to diffuse missionary intelligence; to increase missionary activity among the women of the Diocese; to promote the study of missions, and to encourage prayer for missions.

III. All Parish Societies that so desire, may become branches of this Auxiliary by appointing a Secretary and notifying the President of their intention to work in unison with the Society. The Secretaries of Parish Societies are required to correspond with the Diocesan officers, who alone correspond with the Secretaries of the Board of Missions, and transmit to them all moneys.

IV. All baptized women are considered members of the Auxiliary, and may become enrolled members of this Diocesan Branch by paying one dollar annually to the Treasurer. But terms of membership in any Parish Branch shall be fixed by that Society.

V. A President, a First Vice-President, a Vice-President over such divisions of the Diocese as the Bishop may counsel, a Secretary, a Recording Secretary, a Treasurer, a Secretary of the Junior Department who shall act as Treasurer for that Department, a Secretary of the Babies' Branch, and a Directress of the Altar Department, and an officer over any other department that may be formed, shall be appointed by the Bishop.

VI. The ex-Presidents and a representative from every San Francisco Parish affiliated with the Auxiliary—the latter to be appointed by the Rectors of their several Churches, and as far as possible chosen from the officers of the Parish Branch—shall form an Advisory Committee for the City of San Francisco.

VII. The President shall perform such duties as usually pertain to the office.

VIII. The First Vice-President shall act for the President in her absence.

IX. The duty of the other Vice-Presidents shall be to preside in the absence of the President at general meetings held in their several charges, and to co-operate with the Secretary in the general supervision of the work of the Society in the section to which they respectively belong.

X. The Secretary shall conduct the Society's correspondence, organize and visit Parish Branches, have general oversight of the work, and make an annual report.

XI. The Recording Secretary shall take minutes at Diocesan meetings, and record the same; and shall keep a correct list of membership in the Diocesan Branch.

XII. The Treasurer shall keep an account of all moneys received and expended, and make a report at the annual meeting.

XIII. The Secretary of the Junior Department, the Secretary of the Babies' Branch and the Directress of the Altar Department shall superintend their several departments in consultation with the other Diocesan officers.

XIV. It shall be the duty of the Advisory Committee and of the Secretaries of Parish Branches within reach of San Francisco to attend regularly, in person or by deputy, the monthly meetings, and be prepared to act for their branches on all matters that have been submitted to them.

XV. The annual meeting shall be held at the time of the Diocesan Convention, and the semi-annual meeting in the autumn, on such dates and in such churches as the President may appoint.

XVI. A monthly Diocesan missionary meeting, preceded by an officers meeting, shall be held on the first Monday of every month, at the churches of San Francisco in rotation.

In other places stated general meetings may be arranged by the consent of the President.

XVII. At the Diocesan meetings there shall be cast but one vote from each church represented when the business in consideration is of general import, but on other business any member present may vote.

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds majority, at a meeting called for the purpose.

By-Laws.

Every Parochial Branch shall make an annual pledge to central expenses, the amount to be voluntary, which, with the collections at the annual meeting, shall form a fund out of which shall be paid by the Treasurer all Diocesan expenses.

New Branches in Missions may report as Auxiliary work, such church furnishings and Sunday School supplies as they may provide for their own Missions during the first two years of the Branch's organization.

Junior Department.

"JESUS called a little child unto Him."

Prayer.

SUFFER me, O blessed Jesus, to come daily nearer to Thee in Thy Kingdom, the Church. Help me to know and keep my baptismal vows. Make me loving, pure, obedient and truthful. Give me each day something to do for Thee and Thy Church; who art with the Father and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end. Amen.

Constitution.

This Society is the California Branch of the Junior Auxiliary to the Board of Missions.

Its object is to interest young people in missions.

To instruct them in missions.

To systematize and make more efficient their gifts to missions.

All Sunday-schools and other societies of young people, now giving to or working for missions, may join the Society without change in local organization, name or work.

New societies will receive from diocesan or local officers help in perfecting and adapting organization.

Individuals are made members by paying five cents, for which each will receive a membership card, with name and date of entrance; and by promising to use daily the prayer printed thereon.

Money received for them to be sent by local officers to the Secretary, and applied to the expenses of this department.

This society expects of all Sunday-schools in union with it, as their first obligation, a regular giving to the Lenten Offering of the general Board of Missions, and to the Advent Offering for Diocesan Missions.

It is recommended, that the last Sunday in the month be made Missionary Sunday, in the Sunday schools, with missionary prayers, hymns and instruction.

All work proposed by the Woman's Auxiliary will have the sanction of the bishop of the diocese.

All work undertaken by local branches must have the full knowledge and hearty approval of the priest in charge of the Parish or Mission.
