NINTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
WOMAN'S AUXILIARY
TO THE
BOARD OF MISSIONS
IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA,
1891.

REPORT.

---

If facts and figures do not lie, it is equally true that they do not always tell the whole truth. We present a report of our working and giving for the last year, but we cannot tell in statistics the growing interest in Missionary work, of which we see many healthful signs. In each quarter of our Diocese our Organizing Secretaries have planted seeds which promise well for future growth; and if it be observed by comparison with last year's report that there has been some falling off in the number and value of Missionary boxes, there will be also noted a considerable increase in the amount of money given, and in the number of Parishes belonging to our branch of the Auxiliary. Perhaps with the changing conditions of life and of Missionary work, this disproportion will increase, and it will not be a sign of failing, but of growing interest in our true work. Year by year our leaders in the Church call more beseechingly for laborers to go out into the whitening harvest fields of the world. And the women of the Church must never cease to feel their obligation to supply these laborers with helps and comforts, but it cannot be so much as it once was—the work of the needle. It must be by the outlay of money. Let us recognize this fact, and be as ready to meet to devise plans for giving as we have been for sewing. Let us be glad to learn who are the workers in that field, which is the world. What are they asking of us? What have they done? As intelligent Church women let us be interested in all that literature which concerns the establishment of our Lord's Kingdom. To watch the spreading knowledge of Him, to help in extending it, should it not be our chief joy? As we read of the rapidly growing population of our own land, of the opening of new countries to travel and commerce, let us connect it all with Him of whom it was said, "He rejoiced in the habitable parts of His earth, and His delights were with the sons of men."

One capable arm of the Woman's Auxiliary which we have made comparatively little use of is the junior one. In looking over the tables in the report of our General Secretary, it will be seen that one Diocese that has kept even step with us in its report has made a stride ahead, and on reading the items you will see that almost every Parish has a Junior Branch, sometimes called Earnest Workers, sometimes Missionary Gleaners, or Ministering Children. Whatever the name may be, the result of their work forms a large part of the report. If every good woman who attends our meeting or reads our report would determine to aid in forming a Young People's Branch of the Auxiliary, how great would be the gain to our work!

In our last annual report the claims of the Enrollment Fund as they had been laid before the various branches of the Auxiliary were pressed, and envelopes were sent to as many Parishes and individuals as were willing to co-operate. It were to be wished that all the women of our Diocese were such interested readers of the Spirit of Missions and the Churchman that they would ask why the sum of $436, which was raised, was not acknowledged in either of these publications. If it is a perplexity to any, we would say that before our money was received and sent to New York, the Churchman had ceased to make its report, and as this fund is not a part of the ordinary receipts of the Board of Missions, it is not acknowledged in their organ. The General Secretary has given us credit for our effort in her reports, and we have the pleasure of knowing that the sum is in the hands of the Treasurer of this fund, for the appropriation of which the Church must wait till the General Convention of 1892.

For our united offering for the coming season, we will be guided by the appeals made at this Annual Meeting, and by the suggestions of Miss Emery, and we trust that another year may show a still greater increase in our liberality.

We are called upon to accept the resignation of two of our Organizing Secretaries. Mrs. Warren, of Scranton, being unable to continue her work, has delegated it for some months to Mrs. George C. Hall, whose abundant labors will bring forth fruit in the coming year. Mrs. Boyer, of Pottsville, has left her record in new branches ready for work.

MARY M. STONE,
Secretary.

READING ARCHDEACONRY.

Following the good example of a sister Archdeaconry, early in the fall an Advisory Committee was formed in the Reading Archdeaconry. The committee consisted of Mrs. Powers, of Pottsville, Mrs. Buckman, of Easton, and the Organizing Secretary. Through the kind assistance of these and other ladies, the subject of organizing local branches of the Woman's Auxiliary has been presented to every Parish where, as yet, none existed. As the result, societies have been formed at Minersville, Delano, Hazleton, Mahanoy City, Drifton, St. Clair, Frackville.

Upon invitation, we have visited Hazleton, Drifton, St. Clair, and Frackville, and feel very grateful for our cordial receptions in those places. Circumstances prevented our accepting invitations from Delano and Mahanoy City. It is not possible to say how much more in dollars and cents the Board of Missions will realize, but we count ourselves the richer for the interest and prayers of the women of these seven additional Parishes.

Respectfully submitted,

CAROLINE G. BOYER,
Organizing Secretary.

HARRISBURG ARCHDEACONRY.

There were during the winter numerous meetings of the Harrisburg Branch and several boxes sent. On December 10, a meeting was held at St. James', Lancaster, by the Organizing Secretary to form a branch of the Auxiliary in that Parish, which has done good work. The envelopes sent out to the Rectors of the different Parishes in the Archdeaconry for the benefit of the Enrollment Fund did not meet with the ready response hoped for, although we are promised better offerings in the future. In May our interest was again awakened by a visit from Miss Emery, who gave a delightful address to a large congregation at St. Stephen's, telling much about her work, that was enjoyed by all. If such meetings for prayer and encouragement could be more frequently held, the work could not but succeed. We thank the Rectors who have aided us, and all who have in any way contributed to the success of our work.

Very respectfully,

KATHERINE B. RAMSEY,

Organizing Secretary.
