In Memoriam.

Leighton Coleman, D. D., S. C. D.

Memorial from the officers of the Delaware Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary and the Junior Auxiliary on the death of our Bishop, Leighton Coleman, who passed from earth to the rest of Paradise, December 14th, 1907.

Because of the passing from earth of the beloved Bishop of Delaware, this diocese mourns at the joyful Christmas season. To no hearts has his loss brought deeper sadness than to his daughters in the Church so long associated with him in the holy cause of Missions. The Executive Committee, to whom is delegated the duty of paying a tribute to his memory, has received message after message, all breathing the same deep affection, the same sense of bereavement.

In conveying to the family of Bishop Coleman the earnest sympathy of the officers of the Woman's Auxiliary, the Junior Auxiliary, and all other officers and members in the several parishes, our committee will let these messages speak for themselves, coming as they do from the very heart of the women and children who labored with him for the spread of Christ's kingdom on earth.

In sixty-six years Delaware has had but two Bishops, both of them good men and great. They were loved and honored in life, revered in death. To both was the lament suitable, "Know ye not that there is a Prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?"

He whose loss we mourn to-day had a rare personality. He combined the sweetness, purity, tenderness, humility and sympathy of a noble Christian manhood, with deep devotion to duty and wonderful courage in its performance. It is difficult to tell how truly he was a "Father in God" to his people. There was a wonderful fatherliness in the pressure of his hand, in the benediction of his gaze, which made him beloved by young and old. How can those who came to him in his own little chapel desiring the "laying-on of hands," ever forget his eager welcome? He showed that he felt it his privilege to minister to one of God's little ones. The officers of the Auxiliary will always feel his influence as they recall those fleeting moments of "noon-day prayer" in the chapel that was so dear to him, where kneeling before the altar with his little band of workers he invoked God's blessing upon their endeavors. These are dear memories and we trust precious ones in God's sight.

For nearly twenty years we have taken the untiring devotion of our Bishop, as a matter of course. His personal interest in the work of the women and children of the diocese made them feel that even the weakest organization had his entire devotion. He never allowed anything to prevent his attendance at the meetings of the two diocesan branches. He was our president ex-officio, our chaplain, our wise counsellor, our liberal benefactor. His hospitality to members of the Auxiliary was unfailing. Always trusting us, his confidence stimulated us; always helpful at our deliberations, the society received from him sound advice, for his judgment was wonderfully good. Always ready to commend work well done, he pointed the way to higher things, and by his consecrated example stimulated us to better work for the Master.

In his tireless energy and devotion our Bishop never faltered until the sudden call came. In his love and zeal for his diocese he crowded into every year of his life the work of two. His courage never failed. When asked "Bishop, are you never discouraged?" his answer was "Never! I am satisfied to do the digging and let someone else do the building." This was the key-note to his life—the Master's work was all alike to him, be the results great or small.

He gave his time, his strength, his sunny and generous nature, his life itself to good and loving deeds for his people. He possessed the Divine Grace in large measure and sought to impart it to all his children in the Church. He has been called to the light of perfect day, above earth's shadows, but with us who remain his spirit will still abide.

Bishop and friend! We thank the Giver of all good for the beautiful life thou hast led, for the work thou hast done for the Master, for the precious memory that we have been workers together for God. May we "increase in the Holy Spirit more and more" because of the example of thy consecrated life.

"Ou, blest Communion, fellowship divine,
We feebly struggle, they in glory shine.
Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine.

Alleluia."

Minutes
OF THE
Twenty-fourth Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of 1908 was held at Laurel on Wednesday, May 27th.

The invitation of the members of St Philip's Church to assemble on Tuesday was accepted by 62 delegates from twenty branches.

A meeting in the interest of the Junior Auxiliary was held in the church at four o'clock on Tuesday, presided over by Mrs. George C. Hall, President of Juniors; this was followed by a meeting of the Executive Committee. There was a service in the evening, with music by the vested choir. Rev. William H. Higgins, rector of the parish, welcomed the members of the Auxiliary, and introduced the Rev. Reginald Van Meter who gave a most interesting address on China, where he had spent some years as a missionary.

On Wednesday morning at half-past eight o'clock Holy Communion was celebrated by Arch-deacon Hall assisted by Rev. W. Higgins. Immediately after the service an address on the United offering was made by Mrs E. S. Brooks whose husband had at one time been rector of St Philips, Laurel. She offered many good suggestions, one was to try to reach the women who do not attend Auxiliary meetings, tell them the story of the United Offering, and in most cases they will want to give their mite.

A motion was made and carried, that the subject of the Bishop Coleman Memorial, should be discussed before the business meeting.

Mrs McIlvaine presented the suggestion of the Executive Committee, that the Memorial should be for something in the diocese. A motion was made and carried that the Auxiliary should make some appropriate Memorial to our late Bishop.

After much discussion and a free expression of opinion as to what form this should take, a motion was passed, that the whole subject be referred to the October meeting, and that each parish branch be ready to vote at that time.

The objects suggested were the Babies' Hospital, Diocesan Missions, a Clergy house at Rehoboth, and the Endowment of a Scholarship for a divinity student.

The business meeting was then called to order by the President. The minutes of Epiphany meeting were read and accepted, followed by the reading of the annual reports of the Secretary and of the Domestic and Foreign Directresses.

The Treasurer announced that her report was not complete as all pledges had not been paid in. The United Offering Treasurer had no report as the collection of mite boxes had been made in but few parishes. She urged each branch to have a special treasurer, as much more can be accomplished than if left to the treasurer of the branch.

Reports were made, by the Mexican Division, the Junior Auxiliary and the Babies Branch.

A motion was made and carried that addresses as well as names of parish officers should be printed in the annual report.

Rev. W. Higgins presided at the annual election, which resulted, in all the old officers being retained. The appointment by the Executive Committee of Mrs F. G. Tallman, to the office of Treasurer of United offering was confirmed by her election at this meeting.

At 12 o'clock noonday prayers for Missions were said. Pledges were then taken for the ensuing year for Alfred Lee Memorial Scholarship, Foreign Insurance, for Dr. Driggs work in Alaska, the Babies Hospital, General Missions and Diocesan Missions.

Invitations were received for the October meeting from Georgetown and New Castle. On motion that of New Castle was accepted, as was also the invitation of the Newark branch for the January meeting.

Letters were read from Bishop Spalding, of Utah, Miss Triplett

Secretary of the Missouri Branch, and Mrs. Sioussat, President of the Maryland Branch, expressing deep sympathy with the members of the Delaware Branch, in the death of their Bishop. On motion a committee was appointed by the chair, to acknowledge the resolutions gratefully received from Missouri, and Maryland.

The thanks of the members of the Auxiliary, were extended to the rector, the choir, and the ladies of St Philip's Church, for their bounteous hospitality.

After the meeting adjourned, a beautiful luncheon was served in the parish house. The Laurel Branch has set a fine example to the stronger branches in the entertaining of delegates. It was no small task that was undertaken so cheerfully, and carried through so successfully. Our hostesses said that they enjoyed doing it all for the Church's sake, and would not acknowledge that the care of so many Auxiliary members had been a burden. We trust that the effort will result in a quickening of zeal, and in great good to the Laurel Branch.

Report of Secretary.

The twenty-third annual meeting was held in Trinity Church, Wilmington, on May 30th, 1907, the first after change of date, from October to May. The attendance was large, with delegates from twenty of the twenty-three branches in the diocese.

A special service for the presentation of the triennial United Offering from this diocese, was held in Trinity Church on Sept. 19th. The Bishop celebrated the Holy Communion, and preached a helpful and appropriate sermon. The total amount of the offering presented at Richmond was $1,731.80

The meeting held at Dover, November 14th, fully justified the change which has made the Autumn meeting a purely missionary one. Christ Church was filled with a large and representative congregation, and the attendance from the lower part of the State was good.

Bishop Spalding made two stirring addresses, and aroused a strong interest in his splendid work in Utah. The Rev. L. A. Houghwout, Dean of St. Andrew's school Mexico, made an earnest appeal for funds for a school building for boys.

Our beloved bishop was with us for the last time. At the next meeting of the Executive Committee at Bishopstead, a few weeks after, he was too ill to have the usual service in the Chapel, and in a few days he passed to the rest of Paradise. How we have missed his gracious hospitality, his words of commendation, his wise counsel, his loving and unfailing interest, in whatever concerned the work of the Woman's Auxiliary.

The Epiphany meeting was made in part a Memorial service, and the resolutions prepared by the Executive Committee were read.

Archdeacon Stuck was the speaker for the afternoon and deepened the already keen interest of this Branch of the Auxiliary in Alaskan Missions. The collection was given to him for his work.

A "Quiet Day" was conducted by Rev. George C. Foley, D. D., of the Philadelphia Divinity School, in St. Andrew's Church Wilmington, on March 26th.

Work in parish branches has been going on quietly, although some have fallen behind the amount of last year, we are glad to report the weaker parishes, especially those in Sussex County show a slight gain. All pledges have been met, but the value of box work has been lessened by demands made upon Auxiliary workers to meet the distress at their own doors, occasioned by the panic of the past winter, which rendered so many families destitute.

Miss Shearman reported a number of flourishing classes in Mission Study, five of them regularly organized with seventy odd members, and a number of others attending programme classes, and lectures on Missions. The Foreign Directress would be glad to have the names of all classes, with their leaders, reported to her. She hopes another year to have a uniform course for the diocese, and would like branches to consult her on this matter before taking up individual study.

The United Offering has been gathered in but a few parishes, so this will make a great difference in the total of the year's report.

We all deeply regret that Mrs. Andrew G. Wilson our United Offering Treasurer, who had held this office since the starting of this fund, should on account of ill health have to hand her work over to another. We welcome our new Treasurer Mrs. F. G. Tallman, feeling very sure that each branch will do its part to make this what it is intended to be, a worthy thank-offering.

One new branch was organized during the year in the parish of St. John Baptist at Milton. They commenced work immediately by helping towards the United box for Rocky Mount, Va.

The thirty-six women from Delaware who registered at the headquarters of the Woman's Auxiliary during the triennial meeting at Richmond, surely brought home a quickened interest in the missions of our Church which should make itself felt throughout the coming year, and arouse all to more hearty work for the Master.

Respectfully Submitted,
MARY LAFFERTY,
Secretary.

Mexican Division.

The Delaware Branch of Woman's Auxiliary has heard directly from the Mexican Mission this year, as the November meeting was addressed by Rev. L. M. A. Haughwout Dean of St Andrew's school for boys in Mexico City. He says restricted quarters hamper its work. There is barely room for fifteen boys, but they have seventeen. They have added an industrial department, as far as they can, which enables the boys to learn a trade. The chief aim of the school is the training of young men for the church's native ministry. Lorenzo Saucedo whom we are educating, gives great promise. Will we not all pray that our little effort through his work may be the means of bringing many into the light. Our pledge has been met this year, and we trust each branch will keep up its interest in the Bishop Lee Scholarship in Mexico.

Respectfully submitted,

Junior Auxiliary,

Annual Meeting Held in Trinity Church, Wilmington,
May 12, 1908.

President's Report.

The eighteenth annual meeting of The Junior Auxiliary of Delaware had a note of sadness in its gladness.

How could it be otherwise, when he, who was its founder and head—our lamented and beloved Bishop, Leighton Coleman of Delaware—was not there to rejoice with us and speak loving words of commendation—words which were ever both a benediction and an inspiration, stimulating us to greater effort in work for the Master?

The Junior Auxiliary was very near and dear to our Bishop's heart, and from its very organization he never permitted anything to prevent his attendance upon its annual meeting; giving up gladly and willingly social and ecclesiastical functions that fell upon the same date—thus setting a noble example of unswerving devotion to the high obligations that rested upon him as Bishop of his Diocese.

Nothing that pertained to its interests was too trivial or insignificant, in his estimation, to need his care, encouragement and support. This characteristic of personal responsibility was one of the strongest links that bound him to his people, and made him so universally beloved and admired. He labored, in season and out of season, until this happy, blessed, useful life went out as he would have desired.

The shuttle in his hands not laid down until the summons came—“Well done, come up higher.” * * *

The conference of officers—or business session of the Auxiliary—was held in Trinity Parish-House at 10.30 a. m. A large number of delegates were in attendance, every parish branch being represented. The meeting was full of interest, and plans for the year's work were decided upon.

This year two Easter-boxes will be sent from the "United Lenten-work" of all the Junior branches; one, containing articles especially suitable for a Christmas tree, will be sent, April 1st, to Dr. Driggs, Point Hope, Alaska. The second box will be sent to Archdeacon Neve, for his work among the mountain people in Virginia;

This box will consist, largely, of summer clothing for children and work on it can be carried on up to May 1st, 1909. The disposition of the Advent and Christmas work or boxes is left entirely to the parish branches.

Officers elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. George C. Hall; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Louise D. Van Trump; Educational-Secretary, Miss Lucy Primrose.

At 12.30 a delicious luncheon was served by the Juniors of Trinity Parish.

At 2 o'clock the Juniors' meeting was held in the Church. The Rector, Rev. F. M. Kirkus, presided, and after gracious words of welcome, followed by a missionary address, introduced Rev. Jules Prevost—for many years one of the ablest and bravest missionaries in Alaska.

Mr. Prevost has a most attractive personality, and held the undivided attention of the children while he gave some thrilling and interesting experiences in his work among the Indians in that frigid and far-away country to which he expects to return as soon as he receives his medical degree in Philadelphia.

The Branch reports, read by the youthful secretaries, showed interest and effort on the part of the Juniors and their efficient officers. The majority of the branches earned the money expended in box work as well as for missionary pledges, one branch earning in addition, the travelling expenses of all its delegates to the annual meeting.

Some branches gave Birthday-parties, and cake and candy sales, others an afternoon tea and musicale. Some gave little plays, one branch rendering "A Little Pilgrim" and "The Book Beloved," members of their auxiliary making all the necessary banners used.

Christmas boxes were sent by individual parish branches—the larger number of them going out of the Diocese.

Two barrels and a box—the United Lenten-work of all the Junior branches—were sent to Dr. John D. Driggs, Point Hope, Alaska. They contained the usual articles desired by him, and though valuable, were not equal to the boxes we have been sending him for some years. The "strenuous" times are largely responsible for the depreciation in the accounted value of our gifts both in money and boxes, much having been distributed among the poor in the city of Wilmington and elsewhere, and therefore of course could not be accredited as Auxiliary work, yet the work was none the less the Master's work, and will be accredited as such by Him, who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my little ones, ye have done it unto Me."

Mission study classes were formed in a number of the parish branches, and successfully carried on with profit to all engaged in them.

In the past three years, the second Sunday after the Epiphany has been observed by a united service in the Sunday-schools and Junior Auxiliaries of Wilmington. The service this year was held in St. John's Church. Addresses were given by the Rev. Dr. Duhring and the Rev. Fleming James, both of Philadelphia. Dr. Duhring never fails to interest children. The Rev. Mr. James, was for some years engaged in missionary work in China, and his address was most entertaining and instructive.

It gives us pleasure to report that in the near future Junior Auxiliary branches will be established in a number of parishes in Kent and Sussex Counties. This has been made possible only through the courtesy and co-operation of the rectors.

With an outlook so promising let us all strive to make this year the brightest and best in the history of our organization.

SOPHIE C. HALL, President.

Report of the Babies' Branch for the Year 1907-1908.

Each year there is a small gain in the offering of "The Little Helpers," proving that the interest is not growing less.

As seen in the last annual report, assistance was given to the erection of the Memorial Kindergarten in Akita, Japan. And now, until 1910, the special work of the Babies' Branch is the building of a children's ward to the Chinese annex of St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco. It is hoped to furnish it as well, and then make it a memorial to the Memorial Circle.

As the Delaware Branch has twenty-eight names on its memorial list much interest will no doubt be felt in this work, and we hope that something may be added to the pledge of $15.
