Hattie W. Grenier, Secretary.

To the Members of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Board of Missions in the Diocese of Iowa:

Another year has passed in our work together for Christ and His church, and for our nation and fellowmen. We resolved to make this a better year than the one preceding, and we have succeeded. Our hearts were sad indeed last year over the condition of the world. We felt that many had failed in performing their Christian duties, or the war would not have been waging. Now our hearts are filled with joy that the war is over, and another opportunity given to the careless and indifferent to manifest their Christian faith with greater earnestness that this terrible history may not repeat itself. May we, as a federated body of Christian workers, again resolve to make the years to come, years filled with faith and good works, and so help others who shall follow, to profit by our example until the "earth shall be filled with the knowledge of God, as the waters cover the sea."

The executive board of the Woman's Auxiliary can report a successful year, considering the trying times, when hearts and homes have been saddened, and bereft of loved ones, from the toll of war and the influenza. Your President realizes that during her term of office the times have not been normal. Great demands for war work have been made upon our members, but in spite of this, you have sustained her in her work. She thanks you, and appreciates it, and feels she can hand the work over to the new President in the splendid condition in which Mrs. Watzek left it.

Your President has written every branch twice during the year, and has written some branches several times as necessity demanded it. The "Advent Call" was carefully planned in this diocese, which unfortunately for us, could not be very well carried out owing to the influenza. As one Auxiliary member wrote, "We could only carry it out within the walls of our own room, and after all, did not that answer the call in a way?"

Your President also planned for the follow up work, in the "call to service," also arranged Mrs. Biller's itinerary and train schedule to visit branches that were not reached last year. Splendid reports have been given of these visits. This personal touch with the workers in the Church Missions House means much to the dioceses of "magnificent distances." Your President has asked Miss Lindley, the national Secretary, if Iowa may memorialize the General Convention to have field secretaries. This memorial will be presented for your consideration at the business session.

Two new branches have been formed, and three revived during the year. Three deanery meetings have been held, and while the attendance was not as large as usual in the Sioux City and Des Moines deaneries, the meetings were very helpful. The Dubuque deanery meeting was a great success, under the leadership of the deanery chairman, Mrs. Cunningham, and with the assistance of our educational secretary, Miss Dysart. The Muscatine deanery meeting was not held owing to the influenza. The President wishes at this time to thank the deanery chairmen for their very efficient help.

Your President wishes to make an especial appeal for the united offering. The Triennial is this fall, and may Iowa have a larger offering than ever before at that time. Many of us have much to be thankful for this year. Let us not forget the little Blue Box, and what it stands for.

Remember the work of the study classes. We cannot be interested in our church missions, which we are trying to aid, unless we have some knowledge of the work and workers. Will each branch try to have instruction in our missionary work as part of the year's program.

When Mrs. Biller visited Iowa, she announced that boxes were very much needed at the mission stations; therefore, will the branches try to prepare a box this year. Mrs. O'Rourke, our Diocesan Secretary, will arrange with you for this work. The box not only does much good where it is sent, but it helps to vary the year's work in the Auxiliary. Study and programs part of the year, and box work the other part of the year will increase the interest.

While the Church Periodical Club is a separate organization, it comes under the work of the Auxiliary. Remember many missionaries cannot afford to take church and secular magazines. Help them by passing your magazines on. You can arrange for sending your magazines by consulting the secretary of the Church Periodical Club in this diocese, whose name may be obtained from the Journal.

Last, but not least, remember the future Auxiliary as it exists in our Juniors. Your President is urging you as you love the children and their interests, and what they mean to the future church, to remain to the meeting of the Juniors on the last afternoon of convention. Reports of the work, and how it is carried on will be given.

Each parish branch that is not organizing or aiding a Junior branch in the parish is not doing its full duty as a Woman's Auxiliary.

Your president trusts that many will attend the General Convention in Detroit in October. The Auxiliary is passing through a period of readjustment, and many important matters are to come up. The keynote of the General Convention of the Woman's Auxiliary will be "The spirit of service for Christ's sake," and may we in Iowa have this for our inspiration, and we will rise to this ideal if the "Love of Christ Constraineth Us."

REPORT ON PERRY MEMORIAL.

May 19, 1919.

The Committee on Perry Memorial Room in St. Luke's Hospital, Davenport, respectfully submits its report for the half year ending December 31, 1918.

Previously reported .....	$29.55
St. Paul's, Sioux City .....	1.00

Ottumwa .....	1.00
Fort Dodge .....	1.00
Marshalltown .....	1.00

 Total .....	$35.55

Since the beginning of the new year, January 1, 1919, the sum of nineteen ($19.00) dollars has been received from fifteen branches, detailed report of which will be made at the end of the current year. Balance on hand now, with interest, is $55.32.

The committee wishes to emphasize the fact, already stated in a previous report, that there is need of increased pledges if the room in the new Hospital Building is to be properly furnished. The linen has not been renewed for two years, and a new bed must be purchased, as well as several other articles of furniture. The mahogany dresser in use at present may be refinished and the screen and large arm chair can be used in the new room. Curtains and rugs are another need. The average amount now received annually is about twenty-five dollars. Most parishes pledge one dollar a year. If this pledge could be doubled for a few years, the new room might be furnished and kept up as a memorial room should be.

Respectfully submitted,

Alice Van T. Allen,

Isabella Spelletich,

Committee.

REPORT OF THE EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY.

The report of the Educational Secretary this year is brief, for two reasons:

The influenza epidemic swept Iowa last autumn, just at the time when Deanery meetings are usually held, parishes visited and the educational work for the ensuing year outlined and started. Then came the relaxation so keenly felt in all lines of work following the signing of the armistice, and this was evident also in church work.

The Des Moines Deanery in Des Moines and the Dubuque Deanery in Cedar Falls were both attended. At each of these meetings the Advent Call was explained and emphasized by Bishops, Clergy and the Educational Secretary. Several parishes were ready to undertake the plan as suggested, but the strict quarantine made it impossible to carry out the plan.

The reports of the study classes, held during Lent, have been most gratifying. Bishop Burleson's book—"Our Church and Our Country"—proved to be popular, and classes have found it both interesting and instructive.

"This is the day of the world's supreme need, and the church's supreme opportunity." An era of reconstruction. A world must be re-built, and forms of governments recast. There must be written anew the program of God in the constitution of nations, and in the life of the church. The policy of the church must match the policy of the nation.

The Inter-Church World Movement aims to secure a close working and effective co-operation among all the active missionary and educational agencies of the Protestant churches. It also proposes a united effort to deepen the spiritual life of the churches, to enlarge the ministry of prayer, and to increase the knowledge of, and interest in, missionary work at home and abroad.

A splendid impetus will be given our church this year through the work of the General Convention. Let me urge all who can possibly do so to attend this convention in Detroit in October. Let us follow the work of the convention in our church papers, and the spirit of the missions, and then with renewed zeal let us take up our work in our own parishes. What the Episcopal church stands for in each community is largely what we make it. Let us make it a real power. Attend church services regularly, and thus encourage others to do so. Your rector will welcome you. He will preach better sermons. He will be a more devoted pastor. Our returning soldiers will enjoy the warmth and life of the home church. Join the Auxiliary or Guild, and be ready to do your share of the work. Take a class in the Sunday school, and help to mold the lives of the little people, teaching them that the Gospel of Christ, and the Golden Rule extends to every phase of our individual and collective life. Have a Social Service Committee ready to co-ordinate all moral and spiritual forces in the problems of the neighborhood.

Join a study class! Undertake earnestly every work which is for the good of the community, and the glory of God.

Caroline M. Dysart,
Educational Secretary.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE JUNIOR AUXILIARY TO THE MEMBERS OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY AND JUNIOR LEADERS.

Our hearts are very full of gratitude to our Heavenly Father for all His goodness to us during the past year. We are thankful that we can meet again for conference regarding our work.

Owing to the epidemic of influenza, the meetings of the Muscatine Deanery was, after several postponements, finally given up, but I attended the Dubuque Deanery meeting at Cedar Falls, where I reported the Racine Conference for church workers held in July, 1918.

Our Diocesan Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Grenier, was also present at this conference for part of the ten days, and was able to present the Junior work to her own parish and to the Sioux City Deanery meeting.

The Journal for 1918 was sent to every branch with my annual fall letter, but I have received few letters from Junior leaders.

By correspondence I came to know of the problems of the church school at Denison and gave advice and made suggestions along new Junior plans. In my own parish, Grace church, Cedar Rapids, we are trying to work out this new Junior plan in our own school. I believe this plan as worked out by Miss Withers, who is the Junior Secretary, is the most ideal one we have ever had, and furthermore the most practical. Those who are planning to go to Detroit in October to attend the Triennial must not fail to visit the sessions of the church schools, which are demonstrating the Christian Nurture Series along with the Junior plan.

Last year I appealed to the Woman's Auxiliary to aid the Juniors in every possible way. I wonder how many branches have given help to the struggling branches of Juniors, have prayed for its leader and her work or tried to start new branches.

I beg of you not to forget them this next year, for they are passing through a period of readjustment, and so much depends on your help and encouragement.

May the message of the Risen Lord, "Lo, I am with you always," fill our hearts with peace and joy as we labor in His vineyard this coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

Mabel Henderson.
