MASSACHUSETTS BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

As we look back over our past fifteen years of work as an Auxiliary to the Board of Missions, surely we may feel that God has been with us and blessed us in what we have tried to do.

Far be it from us to count up the thousands of dollars we have given, or the number of boxes we have sent during all this time. Let not our satisfaction rest on things like these; enough for us if we have been carrying on any part of the Lord's work or giving encouragement and help to any of His workers. Our Society grows slowly but steadily, and we rejoice to hear from time to time of increased interest among its members. During the past year a number of new parishes have been added to our list, as well as several new branches of the Junior Auxiliary.

We all know the strength and inspiration that comes from united and intelligent work; we therefore beg, for its own sake, as well as for that of the Auxiliary, that every parish not already associated with us will join its missionary activity to ours.

It is not difficult to interest children in Missions, and it is to them that we look for our helpers in the future; so let there be more branches of our Society organized among our young people.

At nearly all of our monthly meetings held this year, it has been our privilege to listen to the stories of those who have come to us direct from the Mission fields, and their earnest words and self-sacrificing lives have made us long to do far more than we are now doing to help on the work which is opening on every side.

A special effort has lately been made by the Auxiliary throughout the country to increase the Enrolment Fund, and at the Triennial Meeting held in Baltimore Oct. 6th the united offering given for this purpose reached the sum of $20,000.

Through the kindness of our Bishop and the Episcopal Church Association two rooms in the new Diocesan House have been placed at our service; one of these will be used for storage, and the other as a meeting place for officers and delegates of the Auxiliary. We desire to tender our sincere thanks to the Rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Boston, who has for so many years given us not only storage and packing room, but cordial interest and assistance.

Thankful for what we have been permitted to do in the past, let us resolve to do even greater things in the future; let us give more of our time, of our money, and our prayers, to help those who are trying to spread Christ's gospel throughout the world, and having done our part as faithfully as we know how, we may safely leave the results in God's hands.

JOSEPHINE ELLICOTT,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE VICE PRESIDENT OF THE CONNECTICUT VALLEY DISTRICT.

THE last year has been one of quiet prosperity in the Connecticut Valley District. One Auxiliary has been added to our number,—that connected with the Church of the Atonement, Westfield,—and two other parishes have expressed a desire for similar organizations, for which we trust the way will soon open. Three Junior Auxiliaries, with their enthusiastic members, add vigor and hopefulness to our work.

There is a general increase in contributions and in the value of boxes sent.

Our "Annual Meeting" was held this year with St. John's Auxiliary, Northampton, with larger numbers present than ever before. Bishop Talbot of Wyoming and Idaho, and Rev. S. C. Partridge of Wuchang, China, spoke earnest words, telling of the especial features of interest and of the urgent needs of their respective fields of labor; and Miss Emery, the General Secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary, and Mrs. Scudder, the Chairman of our own Diocesan Foreign Committee, spoke of the work of their departments, and of the glad harvest waiting to be reaped by those who toil ever in faith and love, in which we too might share if we would. Reports of an encouraging nature were read from all the Auxiliaries and Junior Auxiliaries, and the day was one which cannot fail to produce an added interest in the cause of missions.

The outlook is encouraging. Though from the nature of our surroundings our growth must be slow, we hope for a continued increase in the days to come.

ANNIE L. BROOKS,
Vice Pres't in charge of the Conn. Valley District.

REPORT OF THE VICE PRESIDENT OF THE WORCESTER DISTRICT.

It is now three years since we were made a District of our Diocesan Branch, and the record of these years' work is a bright one, if larger gifts in money and boxes are expressive of our interest. These sums, elsewhere reported, are this year fully one third larger than ever before. You will be glad to learn of two new branches of the Junior Auxiliary,—one at All Saints' Church and one at St. Mark's Church, Worcester. One cannot but wish other parishes had followed their good examples. It is pleasant also to think of the courage to test the true principle of giving, which has led St. John's Church, Athol, and St. Paul's Church, Gardner, to form parish branches the past year. They do not of their mere abundance enter into the work. These meetings were held, as is customary, in connection with the Central Convocation; their result has been a manifest desire for wider knowledge, which should inspire faithful workers and stimulate the neglectful to better things in the future. Such, in brief, is the outline of the year that is past, and in looking forward let us not continue satisfied with our gifts, but call to mind with reverent wonder the fact that God needs each one of us, members of the parish branches of the Auxiliary, to do His missionary work. Let us rise to meet this need with our whole hearts, that in the coming year ours shall be that reasonable service upon which God's blessing cannot fail to rest.

CORNELIA W. BIGELOW,
Vice Pres't in charge of the Worcester District.

REPORT OF THE VICE PRESIDENT OF THE BERKSHIRE DISTRICT.

OUR little District of Berkshire suffers greatly in being so remote from the great centre of the missionary work of our Diocese; but notwithstanding this great difficulty, there has certainly been an awakened interest in all the parishes save one or two, and these have suffered from changes. Since last November five new parishes have joined the Auxiliary, and expressed their desire to do what they could.

One parish, being largely in debt, felt it could not do much missionary work until this debt was paid, but through the efforts of one woman a Junior Branch was formed, and they have been working upon rag carpets to send to the schools in the West.

Much of this interest is due to a general meeting of the Berkshire District, held in Pittsfield last November, when Miss Emery and Miss Turner came to us and told us about the one great object for which we are all working, thus awakening new interest and encouraging those who were already interested. It is always helpful to be in sympathy with other workers, and if two or three of these meetings could be held during the year much good would certainly come from them.

All the clergy, save one, have expressed their willingness to have their parishes join the Auxiliary, and it is hoped that this parish will also coöperate with us when its Parish House is built, and thus our little circle will be complete.

At the November meeting held in Pittsfield, a pledge was given to endow a Scholarship in St. Mary's Orphanage, Shanghai, China, in memory of our late Vice President, Miss Newton,—the child benefited from this endowment to be named "Elizabeth Stuart Newton." This pledge was made to Rev. Sidney Partridge, who interested all by his account of his mission work in China. The amount to be raised is $700, and already the fund has grown to over one half the amount, and there is every reason to hope that the whole sum will soon be realized.

Some work for the Altar Society in Boston has also been done during the past year, and a few pledges have been sent to the Fall River Mission, also boxes from the several parishes.

Thus, with much to encourage us, we enter upon another year hopefully and prayerfully, that we may increase in interest and accomplish more good work in His Name than we have ever before.

EMILY S. NEWTON,
Vice Pres't in charge of Berkshire District.

DOMESTIC DIVISION.

WHEN in former years a report from the Domestic Division of the Massachusetts Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary was read at the Annual Meeting, we heard of generous sums of money and missionary boxes sent by the parish guilds and societies to the missionaries, schools, hospitals, etc., in our great West. But in later years, as the reports are read, we hear of the same work being done more generously and in a broader, more intelligent way, by not only the Domestic Division, but by the Diocesan Division, the Massachusetts Altar Society, and the Junior Auxiliary; four distinct powers acting individually, but in sympathy one with the other,—four bright lights all shining into the by-ways, behind the hedges, and scattering the darkness as the original light, radiant as it may have been, could never even attempt to do.

The Diocesan Division, under the management of its Secretary, whose ability we all know so well, has done a strong work during the past year. At the beginning of the Winter of '91 the Bishop of the Diocese suggested that we should help St. James's Church at Fall River, and $1,100.00 has been raised for that purpose. The call from the Diocese for family boxes has been small, for which we are thankful, but boxes of supplies of all kinds have been sent to the Episcopal City Mission, and to the charitable institutions in and about Boston. Can we not invent some systematic way by which each parish in the Diocese can give something to this part of our work?

The Massachusetts Altar Society, under the most efficient management of its president, Miss Clara V. Parker, calls for our earnest attention and increased coöperation, for the Society must have more workers. It is now carrying on a large business, and unlike most business enterprises, it is not for the advancement or enrichment of those who bear the burdens, but for the advancement and enrichment of the missionary work of the Church. We read of 149 articles and sets of Altar linen sent to sixty-two stations, valued at $774.59; also of many remunerative orders taken by the Society to get the money for the missionary gifts, and of a great lack of hands to do the work. We know that this last state of things ought not to be. The work is steadily increasing, and sometimes the President has been obliged to employ hired helpers because she had not volunteer helpers enough to meet the demand. This of course absorbs the money which should be used in buying the material for missionary work. The making of four pieces of work during the year is all that is required, and that at the convenience of the worker. Let us rally to the help of this Society by adding scores of names to its volunteer list.

In giving a few moments to the Junior Auxiliary, may we learn first what it is; and second, what its members in this Diocese are doing. As many of us already know, the Junior Auxiliaries sprang from a conviction in the minds of the officers in the Woman's Auxiliary that the missionary work of the children ought to be recognized; that better missionary training could be given to the children and better work done by them if the many Children's Missionary Societies, under direction of the Auxiliary, were reorganized as one body. Each Society should be free to follow the methods of its own leader, but should report annually to the General Secretary in New York. A vote was passed in the General Convention of 1889, authorizing the formation of such a body, and the "Young Christian Soldier" was suggested as a medium of communication between the Societies. Three most salutary habits were to be taught the children, prayer for missions, study of missionary work, and giving to missions. For the help and education of the children, a bright little magazine called the Round Robin is published in Connecticut, and many interesting leaflets telling of Domestic Mission work, work in Greece, Africa, Japan, China, and many other fields, may be had from Miss Emery. Much sterling work has been done by this body of children, and the fact that they are identified with the older workers seems to encourage and inspire them.

The regular work of the Domestic Division now claims our attention.

The missionary boxes, which to the missionaries in their sanctified poverty are, or ought to be, "God-sends," have gone out from us as usual; a clerical suit, almost without exception, being sent in each box, even by some of our small and really poor parishes. The inevitableness of this demand seems to be realized, and the outlook in this direction is most cheering. Money and supplies have been sent to hospitals and schools, and Bishop Talbot has received the sum of $500, which at the beginning of the year we promised to send him for the building of St. Margaret's School, which School will soon be ready for the use of those who need it so much. The Sunday School Penny Collection came in from the Sunday School children, amounting to $58.72. This paid the expenses of the Massachusetts Scholarship in Utah, for which they are responsible, and left a small balance for the Eurolment Fund. In the olden time the word "moral" was often found at the end of a tale. Following the fashion of the olden time, may we ask ourselves to hear, reflect upon and inwardly digest the moral at the end of this tale, which is this: If in our parish societies we could accept once for all the fact that money, much money, is always needed in the preparation of a missionary box, and be as diligent in devising means for raising that money as we are in finding time to give the work of our hands, we should find ourselves enlarging and strengthening our means to fit our work, not curtailing our work to fit our means. In other words, it will be a Jubilee Day for us all when we shall realize that the missionary society or guild is organized first, last and always, for the missionary work, and that it has no right to exist unless it grows to meet the ever increasing demands sure to be made upon it.

Respectfully submitted,

KATHARINE CLINTON KIDNER,
Secretary Domestic Division.

INDIAN AND COLORED PEOPLE'S DIVISION.

IN rendering our report of the work of the Dakota League for the past year, we are glad to sound a note of cheerfulness. Many boxes have been sent West and South, and appreciative letters from missionaries and teachers have assured us that the increased care in the selection of suitable articles has been gratefully recognized. Parishes which have been long interested in a particular mission or school often put themselves into direct communication with the workers. We cannot know, except as they tell us, what pleasure a fresh, cordial, sympathetic letter may bring to lives, happy and devoted to their work indeed, yet sometimes overburdened and monotonous.

Welcome as the boxes are, we cannot ask or expect much increase in their number from year to year, but we do desire to urge most earnestly upon all our parishes the need for large increase in gifts of money, now so entirely out of proportion to the valuation of boxes. This is especially true of the Colored work, and we are not satisfied that it should be so. True, large sums of money have been given during the past year by Church women in the Diocese, apart from our Auxiliary. We rejoice also to record the help given to the Southern work last year by several small parishes and missions, which have not thought before that they could do anything outside their own borders; but we are most anxious that some of the fifty or more parishes, having now no share in the Auxiliary work, should be incited to do something, however small. Definite pledges are a great help. Many small sums of money, put together, make it possible for us to support a teacher in the South, to fit a colored child to teach its own people, to do our part for hospital or mission or school.

One Scholarship in the Indian department we desire especially to mention. The Grace H. Hamlen Scholarship in St. Mary's School has been supported for six years as a memorial of our first Secretary, whose ardent devotion to the work of the Dakota League many of us remember with thankfulness. This must lapse, unless in small or large sums, sixty dollars a year can be raised. Are there not those who will help?

The Dakota League as a Diocesan Society is twenty-one years old; it was the nucleus about which the Woman's Auxiliary in this Diocese was formed. As a small parish Society nearly twenty-five years ago, its first work was the education of a native Indian deacon—Paul Mazakute—the first ordained in our Church. Some of us remember with what glowing faith he bore his testimony to the love of Christ before he laid down his life after a short, strong ministry in 1873. Since then there have been no deaths among our Indian clergy till last year, when two blows fell on the Mission in the loss of Rev. George Paypay and the Rev. Charles S. Cook.

The first was a "brave, steady, well-balanced soldier of Christ," who had learned all he knew, not so much by intellectual training, as by doing faithfully assigned tasks, each a little in advance of the other, till he became a valued minister in the Church of Christ.

The second was the "crown and flower of the work." Rich opportunities were given to Charles S. Cook, and so did he develop that it became a question with the bishop how "this cultivated, graceful, polished man would meet his people from whom he had been so long absent, and who, so often, are ignorant and poor and wretched." "With sublime imagination he saw all that was good in them, however disguised, and what was evil seemed not to repel or daunt him, but only to summon all his powers to a great effort to remove it. From first to last he was a missionary knight. Faint-heartedness and sin fled before his presence, and love and hope and valor came forth and leaped for joy."

In some of his latest letters Mr. Cook speaks of Nicholas Ruleau, also a half-breed Indian, as a man who could not fail to be useful in the ministry, if his strong desire to fit himself for it can be fulfilled. Three years of study will prepare him for the Seabury Divinity School. We have promised the $125 necessary for one year's support at Breck School. Can we do less than complete the sum at once?

As we make our appeals and render our reports of money and boxes from year to year, does the work seem petty and the result small? Let us lift up our eyes to the fields and rejoice in the wide outlook. South and West they are white to the harvest. Never in the history of our land has the "Indian problem" enlisted the thought and sympathy of so many wise men and women as to-day. In high places in government, in the increased appropriations for education, in civil service reform, in the frank utterances of the Mohonk conference, in the clear platform of the Indian Rights Association, we see the recognition of the fact to which our little missions have so long borne their testimony—the Indian may, nay he must be civilized and Christianized. "He is our brother and our blood. Let us not slay him."

Never in the history of our Church has its duty to the great colored race been so recognized as now; new methods, wiser plans, deeper self devotion on our part, greater efforts toward self-help and care for others on the part of the colored people themselves. These bid us take courage.

As it is the glorious struggle of our nation to weld into one corporate life all races and peoples who dwell within her borders, so is it the privilege of the Church of God, in this fulness of time, to gather all into the stronger, deeper fellowship of Christ Jesus our Lord. In this great privilege God has given us our little share.

For the Committee,

SARAH T. HUBBARD,

Secretary.

FOREIGN DIVISION.

IN reviewing the Foreign Mission work of our Church during the past year, we find cause for deepest thankfulness and encouragement. Our efforts have indeed been poor compared with our great opportunities, but the Divine Blessing has been rich and wonderful.

In Japan, the grain of mustard seed is growing beneath our very eyes into a mighty tree, whose branches shall yet cover that whole empire with their goodly shadow. The people who, a few short years ago, seemed more hostile than those of any other land to the Gospel of Christ, are now stretching forth their hands to us for the "Hidden Treasure" of the Kingdom of Heaven.

The organization of a national Church, one with our own, now taking place among them, the number of intelligent and devoted converts being constantly added, and the gentle, receptive quality of the Japanese nature so favorable to the increase of the faith, all point but one way. They are ours, if we will, for God and for Christ.

It is wonderful to read the letters from Japan with their heart-stirring recitals. Listen to the story of Mr. Horiguchi, a young convert of fine gifts and exceptional influence. Two years ago, as a Buddhist priest, he made the circuit of the country for the purpose of uniting the Buddhists to resist the spread of Christianity. But at the very moment when he (like the Apostle of old) was putting forth every energy to stir up his people against the Church of God, the Holy Spirit was silently at work within his own heart. A year later he came to the Mission at Tokyo, asked to be put under instruction, and in due time was baptized and entered at once upon an ardent evangelistic work. Last Spring he went back and preached at the place where he had lived as a Buddhist priest. The thankful zeal of these far-away brothers and sisters of ours, their eagerness, when they have found Christ, to confess Him before men and to bring others into the same blessedness—does it not put to shame our coldness? The letters teem with touching instances. Even the little children take their part in witnessing for Christ. Truly have they "left all to follow Him," yet one young man writes to his teacher, "As my believing is still young I hope that you will pray for me." O let them have abundantly our prayers and our gifts. Churches, Schools, Guilds for different kinds of Christian work, all claim our hearty support, especially the Divinity School at Tokyo, and St. Paul's School for boys at the same place. Our most immediate obligation is to complete the necessary amount (still wanting two hundred and fifty dollars), to carry on Miss Mailes's work of training native Bible-women. The needs are inexhaustible. Let our giving be the same.

As a glimpse of work among the children, we have the account of several hundred gathered at Christmas, many of them for the first time in their lives, in Trinity Church, Tokyo, "singing like little larks," as the letter says, "Once in royal David's city," and "As with gladness men of old," and being feasted afterward at St. Margaret's School and shown pictures of the Holy Nativity. Is it not sweet to think of these little new voices from far Japan, joining with our own and all the rest in praises to the Babe of Bethlehem on Christmas day?

In China, under special discouragements, the mission work has gone on with more visible success than we could have dared to hope. In spite of the dishonorable and short-sighted "Exclusion Law," progressive western influences are profoundly at work upon Chinese conservatism, and the division wall is already undermined. Nothing could better illustrate this than the article by our Chinese Presbyter, Rev. Yung Kiung Yen, in the Forum for September. As we read, it seems impossible that an Oriental and a Chinese could thus have written, so entirely is he one with us in thought and expression. This is the result of a western education which is now being applied, with all the marvellous power that it must give, to the Christian training of his own people. Think of the double consciousness that such men have, and of its incalculable value in placing them where they can, as it were, with one hand receive and with the other dispense all that Christendom has to offer of regenerative gifts for their own lands. Bishop Hare's Report on China brings this point out strongly where he speaks of the great, the incalculable importance of training up a native ministry. Surely no one, who has any real knowledge of the subject, can doubt that to do this must be the unceasing effort of all Foreign Mission work which is to be permanently successful.

Among happy achievements of the past year in China are the completion of St. Luke's Church, Hankow, the consolidation of the medical work there and at Unchang under the immediate care of the Mission, and the erection, at the latter place, of the new Church of the Nativity. Also at Ichang, where the riots occurred a year ago, and the missionary was driven away, they have had to enlarge the Chapel by the addition of two rooms, to accommodate the growing congregation. At another station forty-four baptisms are recorded on a single Sunday last August. A very hopeful sign of reality in the Christian life of these converts, is their glad readiness to give, out of their little, to the cause of missions beyond their own land. It must often be more of an effort for them than we can easily remember, to realize the very existence of an outside world, so shut-up have they always been from all that is without. Still in love and faith they send their offerings with the rest into the common treasury of the Church, "not grudgingly," but with a joyful gratitude which "they who are rich in this world's goods" are not always, alas, so ready to feel and express.

We turn to Africa, and again the voices of the singing children are borne to us across the sea. They are Mrs. Brierley's pilgrim bands of little dark converts going out on mission to their own families and friends. One of them (a little girl), writes: "All the people came to hear us while we were singing. Before we went to bed we had Prayers. The next morning we had Prayers again and went to Manoh. Some of us had to walk. We had to cross nine bridges before we got there." And so they journey on! "O happy band of pilgrims." Mrs. Brierley writes of this occasion that the King of Soohooroo whom they visited, although a Mahometan, seemed most anxious to have the girls and women instructed, and had already sent two of his nieces to them at Cape Mount. On another of these missionary journeys they went to eight different towns, occupying five whole days, and returning with the daughter, niece and granddaughter of another king, who desires them to remain at the Mission School until they become women. A twelve year old African boy writes of a recent convert, whom Mrs. Brierley mentions as a man of great importance among his own people, and until lately a strict Mahometan: "Almost all the children teach him and show him pictures." Thus the man who was great among his own people willingly "humbles himself as a little child" that he may be able to enter the Kingdom of God. Two new Scholarships have been added in the past year to this African work—"the Caroline Paine" and "the Cornelia W. Bigelow," for which Mrs. Brierley has recommended two children, a boy and a girl, each about seven years old. Our latest word from Cape Mount is that a boy pupil has been suddenly called home to reign in place of his father, a heathen king just dead. Thus, for the first time, a Christian will stand at the head of this tribe. Bishop Ferguson writes that about four hundred and fifty dollars are still needed to complete the necessary repairs at St. Mark's Church, Cape Palmas, and hopes that we can raise it for him. He says, "I can bear testimony to the readiness of these people to help themselves, and thus trying, they ought really to be helped."

Canon Taylor-Smith, of Sierra Leone, tells how an African Christian came to him when he was going back to England, with a gold ring ("which," he added, "I still wear") saying that it would "buckle them together in the Gospel" until he should return.

May mutual gifts and prayers so "buckle us in love to our far-away Christian brethren, that we and they, together going forth to proclaim our joyful message—"The Lord, even the most mighty God hath spoken and called the world from the rising up of the sun even unto the going down thereof," may hear the glad response from every land—"Out of Zion hath God appeared in perfect beauty."

For the Committee,

JOSEPHINE HOFMAN,
Secretary.

MEXICAN AND HAITIAN DIVISION.

IN the last report of your Committee, it was stated that there had been a falling off of the contributions for Mexico and Haiti, and the hope was expressed that the coming year would show better results. There has been a slight gain in our contributions over last year.

It is not proposed in this report to sound again the minor key. Whatever may have been the reasons for the decrease of our gifts of money in the past two years, we will not consider them, or lament over the deficiency. It is enough, and more than enough, for us to know that the work of Christ has been greatly blessed in Mexico, and that His patient followers have been steadily ministering to His poor darkened people in Haiti. We can, as we look back beyond these last two years, be thankful that Massachusetts has been allowed to have a large share in this work. But for us, our Church would have had even sorrier struggles to maintain her Lord's cause in Mexico. When conventions have evaded, committees have despaired, and boards been paralyzed by the complications of the "Mexico muddle," a few women of a few dioceses, with such light and guidance as the leaders of the Church could give them, but mostly moved by personal sympathy and the insight that comes from that, have encouraged and supported the workers in the field. There, among the little Mexican and Haitian children, among the suffering sick and old, all questions of canons and organization have been dissipated by the warmth of loving, energetic help, like mists before the vital energy of the sun. Mrs. Hooker, her heart still warm amid the chills and desolations of old age and bodily infirmity, with her children about her; the native clergy of Mexico in their poor peasant congregations; Bishop Holly and his sons and little daughter among the half-heathen whose superstitions must be combatted, and the half-civilized whose spirituality must be awakened,—all these have put their lives in God's care, "rooted and grounded in love," have kept on their humble, glorious path of loving service.

The work of our Church in Mexico may come to an end so far as any visible form is concerned. Boards and organizations may find it a task beyond their limited capacities,—but those who have received the Light of Life into their hearts, and are sending out its radiance in the little Mexican villages, and through the sinful streets of its ancient capital—their work will never end; they are our harvest for the good seed we have helped to sow, our pledge that it shall not have been sown in vain.

We have among us now the leader of our work in Mexico. From Rev. Mr. Gordon we shall hear the facts of his mission, the wonderful account of its visible progress in the establishment of congregations and schools with the limited means at his command. He will tell us what is the most hopeful of all the signs of vitality and growth in the mission, that it is now a united work; that patience and forbearance have brought about a union among all the workers, and strife and confusion are at an end.

In Haiti no new work has been begun, and not much has been accomplished in our efforts to assist in rebuilding the Church for which Bishop Holly appeals so feelingly. Still your Committee may say with gratitude that Christ's Kingdom is a little nearer to its coming, and pray that in the year before us we may have greater part in the advancement.

This report was necessarily written some weeks ago. Since it was presented to the Board of Managers, the General Convention of our Church has held its triennial meeting. Important action was taken by that Body, sitting as a Board of Missions, regarding the work in Mexico. An effort was made to discountenance the work in Mexico, Greece, Brazil and Cuba, on the technical ground that our Church could not enter lands where are Churches whose orders of the ministry are recognized by us. This effort, after full and clear discussion, was defeated.

The Board of Missions committed itself decisively to the Mexican work, heartily approving the faithful work accomplished, and warmly commended it to the Board of Managers. Henceforth it will have a recognized place among the missions of our Church, except that "no money shall be paid from the general funds of the Board, except such as is specifically given for that purpose."

Wherefore, in making your gifts to the general work of Missions, do not forget to specify a part for Mexico.

For the Committee,

FLORENCE DIX,

Secretary.
