MASSACHUSETTS BRANCH OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

TWENTY-THIRD ANNUAL REPORT.

THE reports from the different parts of the diocese show that new interest and life has been infused into the work of the Auxiliary during the past year.

Mrs. Brooks writes: "There is really nothing new—only the repetition of the old, the quiet strengthening of root and branch as the tree grows. We hope for increasing activity among the Juniors of the Connecticut Valley District this coming season."

From Miss Rodman comes the word that the South-Eastern District has assumed greater responsibilities with the larger number of parishes entrusted to its care. The twenty-nine have grown to forty-one parishes, and a large gathering is looked for at Attleboro', where the annual meeting will be held this autumn. Every year shows increased attendance. An experiment in bringing together three parishes in one town for conference and general discussion proved helpful, and other such meetings have been planned.

Mrs. Arrowsmith, in Berkshire, has arranged for annual meetings in that District. Although only six out of the sixteen parishes have organized Branches of the Auxiliary, eleven parishes contributed to mission work, eleven held children's missionary services on January 15th, and nine or more used mite boxes during Lent for the children's offering.

Mrs. Fisher says: "There has been a ready response in the Worcester District to this year's appeals, and several new Branches have been formed. We have held some interesting and helpful neighborhood meetings, and have been able to add greatly to their interest by missionary addresses from the workers in the field. Nearly all the parishes without organized Branches have contributed to the Massachusetts Branch of the Auxiliary, and some parishes have formed Branches with most encouraging results.

In North-Eastern Massachusetts Miss Packard has begun the work of uniting the District in the same interests, and reports that twenty-two out of thirty-one parishes have answered her appeal. Two have shown especial energy in taking mite boxes for the United Offering.

The general Treasurer adds to her report "a few words" about the plan of asking for money from each parish for what are called general expenses. A letter was sent a little more than a year ago to ninety-five societies, asking for one per cent. on the money and valuation of boxes given during the year. Money has been received in answer from fifty-three parishes, the sum often exceeding what was asked for, in all $210.94. This enables us to begin the year with a balance, which relieves the Treasurer from much anxiety. It is earnestly desired that the common sense of the plan may be proved by its becoming permanent and universal, and as much a part of the missionary giving of each parish as the Missionary Society itself.

Domestic Committee. THE Domestic Committee has no increase to record of the kind that can be put into statistics. The box valuations and the money gifts—the latter a more accurate gauge of interest than the boxes—both fall below the amount reported last year. But the best, the spiritual side of our work, cannot be reckoned up and put down in black and white, and in this direction we believe that we are going steadily and encouragingly forward.

The Secretary visited about a dozen parish Branches during the winter—not half the number she would gratefully have met. Almost everywhere women were asking with quickened zeal and intelligence “What shall I do, Lord?” Even in the very small parishes timely help had been devised—help which was not half-hearted, even if it could provide only half a clerical coat. There is, however, need of giving consecrated thought to the problem of substituting for the complacent and inevitable sewing of seams, some other form of more helpful energy.

During the winter and early spring, Alaska made a special appeal to us for emergency help by letters from the Bishop, and by Mr. Partridge acting as agent of the Board.

Several substantial gifts from individuals were secured to the work through the Auxiliary, but its needs are still great, and Alaska should for a long time to come, be all the nearer to our hearts because it is far away geographically. The Rev. Ellis Bishop, who spoke at one of our winter meetings of his Associate Mission in Salt Lake City, created an interest which did not die out while our season lasted, and ought still to bring forth prayers and efforts on his work's behalf.

The other speakers, for their own fields of Domestic Missionary work, were Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore from the Diocese of Asheville, where they minister to the “poor whites,” and Archdeacon Appleby of Duluth.

Let us not forget these friends, even though we make new ones the coming year.

In our own Diocese some of the clergy have been helped; help more needed than most people will believe.

Dakota League. THE Dakota League reports good work done for St. Paul's and St. Mary's Schools, Mr. Ashley's Catechists and Missions in South Dakota, for the Oneida Hospital and the Indian Deacon of Oklahoma.

While rejoicing in such generous response to all appeals for boxes, assigned for the general Secretary to Massachusetts, we are grieved to record a falling off in contributions of money for our pledges. The amount received was $1,638.79.

Though realizing that each year many regular contributors are passing to their rest, yet is it unreasonable to expect, with the growth and extension of the Church in the Diocese, a corresponding increase of interest in her Missions, rather than a decrease of funds to meet the enlarging responsibilities of the Church? The income from the Bishop Brooks Memorial Fund, being placed this year at the disposal of the Dakota League, was sent to Miss Agnes Edmond, Ketchikan, Alaska, to furnish her school-room.

All on the list of pledges were remembered; but Miss Thackara for her Hospital in Arizona, and Miss Carter for her Lace Schools, received much less than the previous year. Let us women be eager to uphold the hands of our sisters first of all. "Let us not be weary in well-doing," but strive that each year may leave a brighter record.

Work among the Colored People. In our work for Colored People the total of gifts in money and boxes shows but a slight increase, but your Commintee feel that there has been a great gain along the line of more intelligent interest in the work. Parishes have shown an unusual readiness to listen to suggestions as to the special destination of their gifts, and this has made it possible, as never before, to pursue a well defined plan of work throughout the year. In several instances there has been pleasant co-operation in the sending of boxes, notably that for the Rev. C. L. Simmons of Virginia.

We have continued to help old friends, and have also responded to appeals from new points in the field.

To our special responsibilities of the past few years—the salary of Miss Wheeler at Southern Pines, North Carolina, and the Cooking School of Rev. J. A. Deal at Franklin, North Carolina—we have this season added the entire support of a Mission Day School in Peake, South Carolina. Our work is varied, and we can promise to make it interesting to all who will apply to us for the information we are so ready to give.

A pleasant innovation of the past season was the informal conference of parish delegates, held in the interests of the Dakota League, on one of the coldest mornings of the winter. About thirty parishes were represented, and the general discussion as to ways and means showed real interest and sincere desire to advance the work. We hope to make this conference an annual feature.

Foreign Committee. In the sum total of contributions for foreign work during the past year there is a gain, larger than first appears by our Treasurer's report. For the first time all contributions from Sunday Schools are reported under the Junior Department, but even subtracting this considerable amount our sum total is better. We began last year with a large deficit in the salary of our missionary, Miss Woodruff. That has been made up, as well as the present dues, leaving a balance of five dollars in the treasury.

With some slight variations, about the same number of parishes have contributed as last year. All scholarships and cribs have been sustained and $770 given to "Specials," generally authorized by the Board of Missions. The sum of $338 was given for the enlargement of the Woman's Hospital at Shanghai, which is now being used as a haven of refuge for the girls of St. Mary's School and the children of the Orphanage at Jessfield, both of which have been declared by the municipal authorities as outside the line of defence. The legitimate work of the Hospital has been stopped owing to the natives' fear of being in any way associated with the foreigner.

Dr. Gates is now in this country, and we hope to hear from her own lips of this work.

The Rev. and Mrs. Hope are on their way home from Cape Mount, leaving the mission again without a priest and also without a head teacher for the boys' school, as Momolu Massaquoi has left to establish schools among his own people. As "Prince" in Gallinas he has great influence for good, and it looks as if we might see much fruit from the seed sown by our devoted missionaries. Meanwhile our school suffers, and more children are seeking admittance than there is room for.

Miss Radcliffe has also been obliged to go to England for a needed vacation.

In Japan the church at Sendai is still unbuilt for lack of funds. Let us quickly supplement the $128 given last year towards the necessary amount. Mr. Ishii needs our help for his Orphanage, which will grow, and for which Japanese resources are still insufficient.

China has been the centre of our thoughts for the last three months, and never before has the work of missionaries been so scrutinized. The press at large has discussed whether Christian missions are responsible for the present outbreak. We can here only acknowledge with gratitude the many tributes to the general wisdom of missionaries and to the absence of the spirit of self-seeking and worldly gain on their part, which they alone of all classes of "foreigners" have consistently shown in their dealings with the natives. When this present excitement has passed, Christianity must stand ready to meet the awakening of the people. Our gold, as well as our sons and daughters, must be ready for the mighty call that will surely come.

Mexico, Haiti, Brazil. OUR work in Mexico is very hopeful, but new efforts are limited by lack of money. In Toluca, a city of 18,000 inhabitants, a new chapel was opened in July last. Mr. Carrion, whom many will remember to have seen and heard some years ago in Boston, is in charge of the work. He is very hopeful about it.

Some extracts from Mr. Forrester's recent letters are as follows: "I am taking all but one of the teachers of the Hooker Orphanage to spend two weeks at Toluca, where we have the use of a vacant house, and we are sending up just enough things for camping. . . . I had one gift of $1,000 in response to my appeal. . . . I urgently need two more, beside what is needed for repairs on Church of San José. I do not worry. . . . The dear Lord can send us a million as easy as a thousand, and He will send all that is good for us to have. . . . I often say I am going to take a vacation, but I never get to it. . . . there is always so much to be done I never find the time for vacation. . . . My dear children (of the Orphanage) give me rest, recreation, courage and comfort. When I am tired I go and talk to some of them."

Two of the graduates of the Orphanage have this year been in the Deaconess Home in Philadelphia, training for Bible women in Mexico or elsewhere among Spanish speaking people. They are both doing well.

Have you forgotten to help Mexico this summer?

From Haiti we hear frequently. Bishop Holly writes of the conversion of several heathen priests and the destruction of their fetiches. He is desirous of getting money to build a Hospital, and also a Rectory for his own family. Both of these, he says, are much needed.

Good news comes from Brazil, and our missionaries there are faithful and earnest.

In all three of these countries we wrestle not with flesh and blood, but with spiritual darkness in high places, with ignorance and superstition among the people. The Committee ask the constant, generous aid of all to help to send the light of the pure Gospel to these benighted peoples.

Altar Society. THE Altar Society asks that a more active interest be taken by the parishes in the Diocesan* work. Five contribute one dollar a year and do some missionary sewing. The Secretary would gladly meet more of these societies and tell them personally of the work.

Some second-hand chancel furniture has been forwarded to needy missions. Financially, the year closes well, and the new season is begun with renewed zeal and hope.

The Church Periodical Club. THE Church Periodical Club in this Diocese has grown steadily during the past year, though not as rapidly as should have been the case. There is evidently a fear among the smaller parishes that appointing a librarian necessarily involves a great outlay in money and time, and this fear it is most desirable to allay. It would be distinctly worth while to have a librarian in every parish, whether or not there is an immediate prospect of work. There is much done by the Club which requires money, and contributions are frequently solicited, but on the other hand much can be done with only a few cents, and the benefit which an interest in this sort of work confers on contributor as well as recipient, is difficult to calculate. Most of the branches already started are doing excellent work and the outlook is very encouraging. In fact, it is because it is so constantly proving itself to be so possible that we are eager to increase the work of the Club.

Particulars will be gladly furnished by the Diocesan Secretary or by the already appointed librarians.

These accounts all prove the readjusting of the boundaries of the districts is working the desired result. Each parish not directly in touch with the central Board, or accessible to the monthly meetings of the Auxiliary, has now its especial leader. To this and the renewed zeal of the various Committees is due the number of parishes contributing through the Auxiliary to missions, which have increased during the past year from one hundred and two to one hundred and fifteen. From different parts of the diocese we hear of classes in mission study that have raised an interest in, and a desire to know more of the subject in all its bearings. There are undoubtedly many such of which your Committee are ignorant, where constant and persistent study is raising the standard of knowledge as well as of work. At the Training School for Church Workers, at 7 West Cedar Street, an interesting course of lectures has been planned on Mission Study, the first of which will be given November 5.

It is noticeable that Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, as well as Cuba, are nowhere mentioned in the reports of the Committees. Some work has been done in the last three of these places by the Auxiliary, and acknowledgments for money received will be found in the Treasurer's report. Before long these "new possessions" will be properly assigned, and regular reports may be expected hereafter.

We ask your continued and watchful interest in the Triennial United Offering. This is the commencement of the third year, and next October, at San Francisco, this Offering of Thanksgiving will be presented. So far as lies in our power, let us each see to it that every church woman in the diocese has the opportunity to give, as the Lord has prospered her. Whether it be five cents or one hundred dollars, she can give; let her feel the blessing of joining with others in her Thanksgiving. It is not the amount of money, it is the spirit of unity and gratitude which should be represented in our first great Offering of the twentieth century.

During the past year we regret to record that we have been deprived of the services of several of our Board. After twenty years of faithful work and interest, Mrs. Wilson withdraws her name from the Foreign Committee. Long has she cheered and helped us with her love for and devotion to the cause of missions, and we gratefully acknowledge the assistance she has given by her gentle influence all this time. Miss Reynolds, the able and efficient head of the Junior Department, has been obliged to resign her work, though not her interest in the Juniors. We regret the necessity of leaving us, as the new Department has grown and developed greatly under her constant and careful direction.

To Mrs. Hofman we give our sincere thanks for the thought and time she has given to the Foreign Committee, and we hope often to see her in our midst. Miss Storrow's faithful services have been withdrawn, to our great regret, and we miss her from her accustomed place at our meetings.

So with the closing century we make our twenty-third annual report. It is a time for retrospection—past mistakes stand in relief, past successes tell their own story. A time of anticipation also, a time to plan our work for the spreading of the Gospel among the heathen beyond the sea, the heathen in our own land, the heathen at our door; a time to learn the individual needs of all; a time to study the past that the future may be made clear; but above all a time to pray earnestly, zealously and continually for the speedy spreading of the Kingdom of God on earth.

For the Committee,

ALICE R. THAYER,

President.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

DURING the past year the monthly meetings have been well attended, averaging seventy-three against sixty-six last year. Five new Branches and one Missionary Society have been formed, and eight correspondents added to the Secretary's list. Two Branches have been given up, but it is hoped that this is only temporary. This makes the total number: one hundred and five Auxiliary Branches, thirty Missionary Societies or Guilds, and correspondents in thirty-five other parishes.

The twenty-second Anniversary Meeting took place in Trinity Church, November second. At 10 A.M. the Bishop of the Diocese celebrated the Holy Communion and gave a short address on "Greater Works." The Bishop also presided at the meeting which followed, in the Chapel, and the speakers were Mrs. Abbott, who gave a brief account of her trip around the world, and Mr. Powers of the Church Missionary Society. Miss Woodruff of Africa was present, but being unable to speak she had prepared a paper giving an account of her work, which was read by Miss Houghton. At the afternoon service addresses were made by Bishop Wells of Spokane, Rev. Mr. Ingle of China, and Dr. Donald, Boston. Seventy-seven parishes were represented, two hundred and twenty-five delegates rising to the roll call.

At the monthly meetings there have been fourteen speakers, namely: Miss Wheeler, of Southern Pines, N. C.; Miss Ward, of the Church Periodical Club; Mrs. Clark, of New York, Chairman of the Central Committee on the work in Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore, of the Missionary District of Asheville, N. Carolina; Rev. Ellis Bishop, of Utah; Rev. F. B. White, Fall River, Mass.; Rev. Mr. Wilson, Nova Scotia; Rev. W. M. Partridge, who spoke on the work in Alaska; Rev. R. Le B. Lynch, Amesbury, Mass.; Rev. J. J. P. Perry, Georgia; Rev. F. W. Merrill, Oneida, Wisconsin; Archdeacon Appleby, Duluth; and Bishop Hare, So. Dakota.

The third Conference for Parochial Officers was held March 28th, at the house of the President. Ninety-four officers were present from fifty-six parishes. A new plan was started this year, that of having papers written on the subjects most called for by the Branches. Four papers were read and their subjects discussed: 1st, Missions in the Diocece of Massachusetts. 2d, The sending out of missionary boxes. 3d, How to interest people in Missions. 4th, The study of Missions.

The Quiet Day services, which were held in St. Stephen's Church on January 10th, were conducted by the Rev. George A. Strong, the general subject of the addresses being "The Life of Christian Service." In future the Quiet Day will be held on the first Thursday in the Epiphany season.

Two thousand seven hundred and ten postals and notices, and three hundred and ten letters, have been sent out by the Secretary, also sixty-seven mite boxes and twenty-one labels for the United Offering, and two hundred and forty letters have been received.

ALICE M. MORGAN,
Secretary.

THE increase in interest and in the work of the Junior Auxiliary during the past year is very encouraging, in spite of the fact that comparatively few new Branches have been added, and that the Auxiliary has met with a great loss, owing to the retirement of its chairman, Miss Reynolds. Up to the present time it has been impossible to fill her place, and the responsibility rests with the Branch officers and helpers, as well as with the officers of the Central Committee, to do their utmost to help bridge over this time when all must feel the lack of her personal sympathy and stirring enthusiasm.

Early in the year Mrs. Malcolm Storer was elected to fill the office of General Treasurer for the Junior Auxiliary, and under her management this branch of the work has been placed upon a much more systematic and satisfactory foundation.

The chief event of importance during the year has been the formation, by the Bishop, of a Diocesan Committee to represent the Sunday School Auxiliary to the Board of Missions. By this means, all those Branches of the Junior Auxiliary formed by Sunday Schools will be responsible to this Committee, and will no longer belong to the Junior Auxiliary. The Sunday School Auxiliary has no connection with the Woman's Auxiliary, the Diocesan Committee being directly responsible to the Bishop. The Secretary (Miss E. M. Cheney, 400 Marlboro' St., Boston) will give any further information that may be desired concerning the work of the Committee. Its formation has, from the beginning, been warmly advocated by Miss Reynolds. In the spring a letter was sent by her to prominent junior workers in various parts of the country, and the general opinion of the answers received was that, whereas the work carried on in Sunday School branches could be excellent, it was exceedingly difficult to bring about a satisfactory result by trying to combine this line of work with that of the regular Junior Branches. Without the Sunday School Branches the Society can carry on its work much more uniformly, not only within itself, but also with the Woman's Auxiliary of which it is a part; and although it loses by the change, ten of its Branches, it is satisfactory to feel that its chief object, the Study of Missions, will certainly be carried forward more successfully in the Sunday Schools under the present arrangement, than it could have been under the old.

On the second Sunday after Epiphany, services were held in forty-seven parishes in Massachusetts, in accordance with the resolution passed by the General Convention in 1898, devoting that day to special Mission study in the Sunday Schools. It is to be hoped that, as time goes on, more and more parishes will hold these services, for it cannot fail to be an inspiration to them to realize that, not only in this Diocese, but all over the country, children are gathering together, upon that day, to hear about Missions. The offertories this year amounted to $123.93, and were sent to New York marked, "From the children of Massachusetts, for work among children in the Mission Field." The Epiphany services do not strictly come under the head of Junior Auxiliary work, and will, in the future, be carried on with the aid of the committee which represents the Sunday School Auxiliary, but it is none the less desirable that every junior should attend, and persuade others to attend them.

The annual meeting in April was better attended than ever before, Trinity Chapel being quite filled. The Rev. C. P. Mills of Wollaston opened the meeting, and addresses were made by Bishop Lawrence, Rev. Aaron B. Clark of Rosebud Agency, South Dakota, and Miss Reynolds. The children had practised the hymns beforehand, and joined in them with an enthusiasm that was most inspiring.

The Spring Conference of Junior workers was well attended, and many questions were discussed which proved of interest to those who were there. It was voted that an open corner should be asked for in the "Young Christian Soldier," where questions could be asked and answered, and suggestions made; thus opening up a possible correspondence between Juniors of all parts of the country. This open corner was granted, and the Juniors of Massachusetts were especially asked to do their part to help fill it. Address: "The Open Corner of the 'Young Christian Soldier,' Church Mission House, 4th Ave. and 22d St., New York."

There are certain opportunities open to the older members of the Junior Auxiliary, and also certain obligations to be met by them, of which it seems necessary to speak before closing this report.

In the first place, the publications of the Church Missions Publishing Co., which may always be obtained upon application to the Junior Auxiliary Secretary.

Second,—The lantern and slides. Sets of the latter upon several Mission countries, have already been arranged, with descriptive notes which could be read as they stand or enlarged upon by the lecturer. They can be sent, with or without the lantern, to any part of the Diocese, upon application to Miss Josephine Lewis, 400 Marlboro' St., Boston. The lantern and the slides are not only for the use of the Junior Auxiliary, but also for Sunday Schools and branches of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Third,—A class for Mission study which is to be started on November 5th at the Church Training School, 7 West Cedar St., Boston. The class will meet at twelve o'clock on Mondays, and the course, which is to deal with the history of Missions, offers an opportunity which ought not to be lost to all those who are interested in the subject, and who are near enough to attend.

Fourth,—The summer reading class. This was started in 1899 and has met with decided success. Those who join it bind themselves to read for half an hour a day about Missions, or, if this is impossible, they can be special members, and send in a report in the autumn of their summer reading. For further information, apply to Miss A. F. Rogers, 126 Newbury St., Boston.

There are two chief obligations which must be met by the Branch officers:

First, the reports, which, now that the Society has its own treasurer, must be sent regularly and punctually to her. All money sent by the Juniors must go through her hands, and all boxes sent must include a receipt to be signed by the recipient and returned to Mrs. Storer, as a voucher. If these details are not attended to, endless difficulties have to be gone through with in order to keep the accounts separate from those of the Woman's Auxiliary, with which society, on a financial basis, the Juniors ought to have nothing to do.

The other obligation is in connection with the ten Indian boxes, which the Juniors are pledged to send each year to Mr. Ashley in South Dakota. It should be an easy matter to arrange, if the Branch officers will realize three things: That each Branch must send a box every fifth year; that the Branches send in the order of their numbers; and that the first ten boxes go this year in 1900.

Finally,—At the beginning of the new century, with missionary interest awakening on all sides, and with a more united line of work made possible to the Junior Auxiliary by the changes in its own organization, an opportunity is open to all Junior members to work with faith and redoubled energy, and to further with their prayers and sympathy the great cause for which they work.

LUCY C. STURGIS,
Secretary.
