Woman's Auxiliary

1897-98.

Prayer For the Woman's Auxiliary.

O LORD Jesus Christ, who in the days of Thy flesh didst accept the services of faithful women, who ministered unto Thee of their substance. Be pleased, we humbly ask, to bless our endeavors to aid and encourage missionaries. Put into our hearts the things we should do and say to promote Thy glory. Grant that we may never be discouraged under difficulties, but go forward in faith and hope—looking unto Thee. Have pity on those who know Thee not, on those who are far from the Church of their fathers in a strange land; visit them with Thy salvation, and grant that all may be speedily brought to acknowledge Thee as their Lord and Master, Christ. Hear us, and answer this our prayer, for Thine own name's sake. Amen.

For Noon-Tide, Daily.

"And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me.."

BLESSED SAVIOUR, who at this hour didst hang upon the Cross, stretching forth Thy loving arms, grant that all mankind may look unto Thee and be saved, through Thy mercies and merits, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

HEAVENLY FATHER, we pray Thee to bless us and all members of the Junior Auxiliary, with wisdom, zeal and constancy, in our work for Thee. Prosper the missions of Thy Holy Church, and strengthen with Thy Holy Spirit all who are engaged in missionary work, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Secretary's Report.

Our hearts are full of gratitude, dear friends, as we review the work of the past twelve months.

Our year began with the largest and most enthusiastic gathering we have ever had. It was estimated that at least 600 persons attended the three services of our fifteenth anniversary. This was also the tenth year of service of our devoted and loved President.

The number of meetings we have had this year for meditation and prayer, and the never failing interest of our Bishops and Clergy is a cause for thanksgiving. On the morning of S. Andrew's day, 1897, a service of intercession was held in the Parish House of Christ church, St. Paul, conducted by Bishop Gilbert and Rev. C. D. Andrews. On February 1st a "Quiet Day," conducted by Archdeacon Gilfillan. On February 25th a "Quiet Day" in S. Paul's, Minneapolis, conducted by Bishop Gilbert. These services were not as largely attended as our regular missionary meetings, but "God bending to listen" must surely bless such hours of thanksgiving and prayer. The mid-winter meeting has proved of permanent value and that of January 12, 1898, held in Gethsemane Guild House, was attended by sixty-three representatives from fourteen parishes. Helpful words were spoken by Bishop Gilbert, Rev. S. B. Purves and Rev. J. J. Faude. At this meeting Mrs. Wm. B. Folds was appointed Treasurer of the United Offering fund. Our semi-annual meeting, always held in connection with the Diocesan Council, was attended by 105 representatives from 22 parishes. Bishop Whipple, Bishop Gilbert, Rev. C. C. Rollit and Rev. J. J. Faude gave us inspiring addresses.

Our Inter-parochial Missions classes meet once a month from October to June. The outline of work is excellent. In many parishes in the Twin Cities and outlying towns these monthly meetings for the study of missions are growing in favor. From Litchfield, Waseca, Rochester, Redwing and Janesville letters are constantly being received, asking for missionary literature. Is there not some church woman unable to do active outside work, who is willing to undertake to gather and supply missionary literature for these classes? This would assure the work being better done and greatly relieve the Diocesan officers. Again with thankful hearts we record the fact that our ranks of Diocesan and Parochial officers have been unbroken by death.

I have written 872 personal letters, notices, etc.; sent out 450 printed reports, and made many visits on Auxiliary work.

These figures, with what has been done by the Treasurer of the United Offering and by the Secretary of the Church Periodical club, account for our yearly bill for stationery and postage. At the invitation of the Rectors I have visited and attended meetings in the following parishes this year; Dundas, Northfield, Owatonna, Cannon Falls and White Bear Lake. These visits are a delight and more of them ought to be made, to acquaint us with the needs of the smaller parishes, as well as to bring them in closer touch with our work. I count it among the happiest experiences of my life to have learned to know and to have enjoyed the hospitality of these devoted women in remote places, and the increase in the number of red boxes taken in small parishes, and the large number of these parishes now contributing small sums show that our visits were profitable for the Auxiliary. We still have $34.73 left of our emergency fund to pay necessary expenses. Does not this work of visiting small parishes properly belong to the Vice Presidents of the Convocations, and will not they offer to do it? Your Secretary thinks that the Vice Presidents should be familiar with every parish in her Convocation. She should visit them at least once a year and hold quarterly meetings of Diocesan officers to report and plan work.

With astonishing regularity our red box returns amount to about the same year after year. With 2439 boxes distributed, we reached the high water mark last year with a return of $649 43. There is a marked falling off from some of the larger parishes. The success of this department lies largely in the devotion and ability of the parish officer who distributes and collects the red boxes. Our missionary in Birch Cooley writes that one of the poorest Indian women, a widow, after gleaning wheat all day brought 50 cents to add to the mite chest fund. About the same number of missionary letters are taken year after year. The quality of the boxes is excellent. There is a growing disposition on the part of some of the larger parishes to take smaller letters, or do work for some object which does not help the Board of Missions. Only two parishes wrote "Send us the old fashioned letter with many needs." Miss Emery offers the missionary a box in our name, and we should redeem our pledge before we are generous to those who appeal to us from without. The system of dividing letters between parishes does not seem to work well. We have never had a parish offer to take the dreaded clerical suit and other large needs, and leave the sewing to be done by the poorer parish. Our total of cash given and boxes sent shows an increase of $776.16 over the report of last year.

Again we have to face the fact that, with the exception of the girls at S. Mary's, there is no parish branch or individual paying the salary of a teacher or missionary or supporting a scholarship.

In looking forward to the next year's work we hope for great enthusiasm from the missionary meetings to be held in Washington. With twenty or more representatives going to attend the Auxiliary meetings, there should be exhaustive reports and renewed consecration.

God grant that in our work in Minnesota "we may both perceive and know what things we ought to do; and also may have grace and power faithfully to fulfill the same."

Respectfully submitted,

CORNELIA BAXTER.

Secretary.

Report of the Junior Auxiliary.

FROM JUNE, 1897, TO SEPTEMBER 21, 1898.

Before reading the actual report of the Junior Auxiliary work for this year, possibly a plea for the extension of this splendid movement will not be out of order.

While the East is deemed conservative in accepting new ideas, the Junior Auxiliary has been received there with hearty enthusiasm. In the west, more than often, the suggestion of organizing a Junior Branch meets with decided disapproval. One rector believes the church is already overburdened with societies. Another is in sympathy with the clergyman who said, "There is only one more society I should like to see added to the church, and that is one to abolish all others." Fortunately for us, this is that one much needed society come to unify the work, the generosity, the consecration of prayer, of all other societies. It really is no new movement, only a return to first principles. There are Junior Brotherhoods, Boys' Brigades, Young Soldiers, Daughters of the King, the Church, or the Royal Law, Little Workers, Busy Bees, Ministering Leagues, Twenty Minute Societies and a hundred more, all with purposes as diversified as their names. "If a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand." These supplementary societies exist usually for a year or two, then die a natural death.

The Junior Auxiliary is here to remain. Its aims, its objects are simple and simply stated: "Pray, study, give." These are sufficiently elastic to embrace any or all societies for the young. There is a system about the organization that attracts, and the aids to that system are manifold and invaluable.

It plans to record in the hearts of the children, the noble lives in the history of the church, and through a thorough knowledge of fields of church work, to educate them to be devoted supporters of the Ancient Faith.

It calls for a halt in the busiest portion of the day and asks for a moment of silent devotion and commemoration of that final hour of sacrifice, that last stretching-out of the sacred arms to call men in, and of the final command, "Go ye into all the world," bearing and sharing both knowledge and love.

It promotes not only a hearty parochial co-operation in labors for the Church, but a world-wide unity.

It stimulates enthusiasm in systematic giving, and the Sunday School is refreshed and revived by the new and interesting material presented for study. All baptized children are its active workers and all who are not baptized may be co-operators.

The strongest plea in its behalf is its hold upon the boys. Our Sunday schools and children's societies start out with an equal percentage of boys and girls ranging in ages from three to six. When the sixteenth round of their lives is reached, with the exception of the handful utilized as S. S. librarians, where are the boys? Rarely in the church. It has been prophesied that in the future, the Church shall exist solely for woman. Is her handiwork alone to be consecrated to God? The Auxilliary aims to bring into play the mechanical ingenuity and business ability of the boys, so that in the future they may be the practical supporters and ministers of the church and may realize that

" 'Tis not what we give, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver, is bare."

The strongest and latest move of the Junior Auxiliary is to resolve the Sunday School as a whole into a Missionary School; to devote one Sunday each month to the prescribed study of Missions; the presentation of papers upon Missionary Jurisdictions, by children from classes named for the Bishops of those districts; occasional blackboard and map instruction by the rector or officer in charge; the use of missionary hymns and prayers and the setting aside of the offerings of that day for missions. This movement reaches every child in the Sunday School, instead of the small percentage of good little girls found in all parish institutions. Each little soul is gathered into the net so that not one shall miss the blessings of his birthright and the knowledge of his Lord.

In answer to pleas for organization come the responses. "Our parish is burdened with debt!" "It is all we can do to pay our rector's salary and raise our assessments." This has been the wail of every parish since parishes began. The Junior Auxiliary need not interfere with parish work, but do let it touch with a healing finger the rancorous sore of "selfism" of every church.

In last year's report the branches of the Junior work numbered ten. Of these one was not a regularly organized branch, so it does not appear in this year's statement. Unfortunately the defection of one branch must be reported, and from still another has come no response. The addition of five new branches and the promise of two more is gladly recorded. Will not you of the Woman's Auxiliary mother these Junior Branches? If one does not exist in your parish will you not find out the reason why and leave no stone unturned until one is established? Step in among the children and find out what very vague ideas they have upon the subject of missions, missionaries and heathen. From many quarters comes the call for scholarships. Will you not interest the children in these? Will you not call upon them to contribute the work of their own hands to the boxes you are sending out this year, and can you not arouse a desire for co-operation on their part with the Church Periodical Society?

If the Woman's Auxiliary will stand sponser for this work among the Juniors, next year's report will be a fairer and more fruitful one. The following is a financial statement of the year's work:

Report of Church Periodical Club.

In submitting a report of the Church Periodical Club, I am glad to say that there has been a growth in interest during the past year, and many of the churches have appointed librarians for the first time. There are other churches that have not shown an interest as yet in this branch of Auxiliary work, but we hope they will do so during the coming year. With your permission I will report a summary of the work done by parishes:
