TENTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
Pittsburgh Diocesan Branch
OF THE
WOMAN'S AUXILIARY
TO THE
BOARD OF MISSIONS.

---

The ninth annual report was read at the last meeting of the season, May 28, 1889. Owing to the enforced absence of the Recording Secretary, on account of illness in the family, it was kindly made by the Corresponding Secretary, for which many thanks are due her. The annual meeting was changed from June, at the "time and place of the Diocesan Convention," as arranged by the Constitution, to the Fall, in order to secure the presence of some of the missionary bishops, on their return from the General Convention. Also, a Quiet Day was arranged for in the autumn. In September the monthly meetings re-commenced. The Quiet Day was appointed for November 6th, and conducted by Bishop Tuttle. On Thursday evening, December 12th, the first in the series of missionary meetings took place at Trinity church, Pittsburgh. After a brief service, an address was made by the Bishop of the diocese, welcoming and introducing the missionary Bishops of Utah and Nevada, and of Wyoming and Idaho, who made their usual stirring and interesting addresses, and were heard with deep attention. On Friday morning, following, there was a litany service and celebration of the Holy Communion, at Emmanuel Church, Allegheny. Addresses were made by Bishop Kendricks, of Arizona and New Mexico, and by Bishops Talbot and Leonard, after introductory remarks by Bishop Whitehead. An elegant, abundant and well-served luncheon was supplied by the ladies of Emmanuel Church, after which the annual business meeting was held, a large number of delegates being present. The election of officers resulted in the reappointment of all, except the Second Vice President, Mrs. Leech, of Erie, whose resignation was sent, and Miss Frances Davis, of Meadville, was chosen in her place. A letter from Miss Ewing was read, suggesting the objects of joint work for the year, which were :

To Miss Clarkson's salary .....	$100 00
To Miss Dodson's " .....	150 00
Teacher in Hope School, salary.....	100 00
For Missionary Insurance.....	150 00
Contingent Fund.....	100 00

Mrs. Richard H. Soule, of the Church of the Ascension, appointed by Miss Emery to unite the children's societies under an organization to be called the Junior Auxiliary, spoke in the interest of this branch of work.

The Church Peirodical Club, represented by Mrs. George M. Taylor, of Calvary church, was recommended to the interest of church people. After other interesting letters the meeting adjourned to the church, where brief addresses were again made by the above mentioned Bishops.

In the evening another general meeting took place in the church, and was well attended.

The last missionary service was held at Trinity Church, Bishops Kendricks and Paddock being the speakers. Not for years, if ever, had so great a number attended any missionary meeting in Pittsburgh, nor listened with deeper attention. Not since the organization of this branch had any meetings met with such success. The amount of $350.48 was received from the offerings and given to the missionary Bishops. A check for $703, for Bishop Paddock, was handed to the Treasurer by a member of St. Andrew's church. Several new parishes have engaged in the work of the Auxiliary this year.

Miss Davis, of Meadville, has given an impetus to missionary work in the limits of the Northern convocation. Mrs. Soule, the President of the Junior Auxiliary, visited Meadville and Franklin, on her invitation, and addressed the children there.

The monthly meetings have had more than the usual average attendance. Many interesting letters have been read, some soliciting aid, which has been given, if possible, among others, to Rev. Mr. Gray, for St. Augustine's chapel, Nashville, Tenn., $100.; to a church at Scotland, S. D., $25, and others. Letters of acknowledgment have been received, among them one from Mrs. Briarley, Cape Mount, Africa, for a box sent last May; and from Rev. Mr. Agnew, of Houtzdale, Pa., for a box to himself, from Calvary church, and articles for the miners and their families. These, and others of the like, being joint works of the Auxiliary.

Much can be accomplished in this way that would be too large an undertaking for a single society ; and a corresponding interest is excited in all who participate.

The minutes of the meetings have been kindly published in the Church News, for which many thanks are due. Also, a practical acknowledgement should be made in the form of more numerous subscriptions to the paper. It has been thought best to eliminate, as much as possible, from the Annual Report, all purely parochial work, and to confine it to missionary reports, in the shape of boxes, moneys, or other gifts, to missionaries or their parishes. This is all that is reported to Miss Emery, all other matters pertaining to the parish appearing in the Convention Reports. The work for the Church Home has been considered as belonging to Diocesan Missions, and, as such, published in in the Report. There is much done by the parochial societies in sewing for hospitals, relieving the poor, and in donations to their own parishes, which does not come under the head of strictly missionary work. All such things are gladly read and heard, however, at the monthly meetings. From the weaker parishes, who cannot do much, the smallest amounts will be welcome to aid in making up the sum annually pledged to Miss Emery, or to answer some urgent appeal for aid where a little may be a great help ; or a few articles of clothing contributed to a box, when one cannot be undertaken entirely. This is missionary work, and the smallest society might begin by doing something in this way. Among the larger gifts, the support of an infant at St. John's Orphanage, Shanghai, has been paid by a member of Calvary church, and other like, large and generous offerings, in the shape of scholarships, individual gifts, etc. There is much to be thankful for in the record of the past year, and to encourage for the future. This year completes the first decade of the Pittsburgh Branch. Those who remember the difficulties contended with, the indifference with which many efforts were met, the tardy responses to appeals for aid, cannot but see the improvement. With gratified hearts we should remember that there is still much to be done. No efforts should be spared until every parish in the diocese shall show some interest in the work of missions, be the result great or small. Let each give according to its ability, only cheerfully, for "God loveth a cheerful giver."

JUNIOR AUXILIARY.

The Diocesan Branch of the Junior Department of the Womans' Auxiliary to the Board of Missions was instituted October 29, 1889, by the appointment of a President, who should endeavor to gather into this authorized department of the Board of Missions, all the children working under other titles, and should start new branches where the girls and boys had not begun to work. During six months eighteen branches more came under the Junior Department, nine previously at work and eight new ones. Of these two have sent no report. Several parishes have promised to start branches in the autumn.

It is the earnest desire of the President to have a branch in each of the 101 Parishes and Missions of the Diocese, and she hopes that this report will reach many who will enter into correspondence with her to this end. The work requires very little money; it needs only the devotion of one or two women in each Parish, to advise and direct the young people.
