ADDRESS BY BISHOP JETT

He spoke of the enlargement and growth of the Auxiliary, giving many words of encouragement. The message he gave for this meeting and for the Auxiliary to take home was this: "Loving the world that Christ loved and with the love with which He loved it."

1. Loving the world in fact.
2. Loving the world in life.
3. Manifestation of that love.
4. Action—Love put into practice, working for the world Christ loved.
5. Fruitage—Money only as means to glorify God.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

After a gracious greeting to the members of the Auxiliary, she told of her trip to Portland and of the Triennial Convention. Giving an outline of Bishop Lloyd's sermon for the Quiet Hour; also of the thrilling experience of the Opening Session of the Convention and of the presentation of the United Thank Offering.

Although, as she said, there were naturally differences of opinion in the meetings of the Woman's Auxiliary in Portland, still the spirit of love pervaded the whole.

The Diocesan Branch was reminded that it was not doing as well as it should do. Not a single new branch reported for this year. Seven hundred and fifty members reported.

In closing her talk she urged that the Diocesan Branch of Southwestern Virginia stand on record as supporting the Church's Mission (Nationwide Campaign).

RESOLUTIONS

Mrs. Stevens, Chairman of Resolution of Respect—Miss Emery, read the following resolution, which was accepted:

"The Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia in its third convention assembled, wish to give some expression of its sorrow in the death of its great leader, Miss Julia C. Emery. Her gentleness and modesty and her devout zeal was an inspiration to all workers; and her clear judgment of the right thing to be done, made her the wonderful leader that our women delighted to follow.

"The Living Church reminds us that Miss Emery leaves three monuments to her memory. The first is the Woman's Auxiliary, the second is The History of the Missionary Society, the book called 'The Century of Endeavor,' the establishment of the Emery Fund, named in honor of the three Emery sisters, designed to be used for missionaries. These monuments may well make her memory immortal.

"Then let us resolve to show our true appreciation of her beautiful life by endeavoring to carry out her last bidding to us, which was to make every effort, with one end in view that each day we live, each work we do, each word we say, may give our Lord and Saviour, the Master of us all, Joy and Light."

The following resolutions were adopted by the Auxiliary:

3. "Resolved, That circulars explaining fully pledges made at Annual Convention, and amounts expected from each branch to fulfil pledges, be sent to Treasurer of each branch in the Diocese."

4. "The Woman's Auxiliary of Southwestern Virginia assembled in Annual Convention go on record as requesting every branch of the Diocese to purchase at least one copy of Miss Emery's book, 'A Century of Endeavor,' for the permanent library and urge its use by all members, that Miss Emery's object in writing this book be not defeated."

5. "Whereas we have heard with deep interest the appeal for coöperation in the movement of inter-racial work among colored people as presented at this meeting by Mrs. Yancey, of Bedford;

"Be it Resolved: We, the Woman's Auxiliary, go on record as accepting the facts of God's program for work and commend it to their several branches."

6. "Whereas we realize the inspiration and encouragement resulting from discussing our mutual problems face to face, and the opportunities for development of our missionary work by this means: Resolved, That it be the policy of our organization that its branches request a visit from the President or the other officers at least once a year."

"Whereas Mr. A. S. Gravely and the Henry Bulletin have been so graciously liberal to the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia;

In Memoriam

On December 20, 1922, Mrs. E. T. Jones, after months of suffering, was called to the peace and rest of the Home Beyond.

Mrs. Jones, before her illness, was an active and earnest worker for the Woman's Auxiliary and the spread of the Gospel of Christ—President of the Bristol Emmanuel Church branch of the Woman's Auxiliary and Vice-President of the Diocesan branch. Her work has been faithfully and well done, and her influence as a Christian enriched the lives of those with whom she came in contact.

All suffering is ended and so, for her—

“The strife is o’er, the battle done,
The victory of life is won,
The song of triumph has begun,
Alleluiah!”
