OUR MISSIONARIES IN FOREIGN FIELDS

MISS HALLIE WILLIAMS, Kyoto—Miss Williams, the sister of our beloved Deaconess Williams, was born on a March 2nd in Lynchburg. She is a graduate of the Lynchburg High School and spent two years at Randolph-Macon Woman's College. She was appointed from Grace Church on May 13, 1915, and arrived in the field June 11, 1916. Miss Williams is one of the outstanding representatives of our church in Japan. She might be described as the lady principal of St. Agnes' School, Kyoto. If one could see the 650 girls who go to make up that student body one would realize what a wonderful opportunity she has. If one could see Miss Williams in her relations with those girls one would see how well she grasps that opportunity to reveal the love of our Lord and to help Japanese girls to love Him and try to live as He would have them live.

MISS ALICE B. JORDAN, Shanghai—Miss Jordan was born on an April 13th in Clifton Forge, and became a member of St. Andrew's Church. She graduated from the Central High School in Clifton Forge, and studied at the State Normal in Farmville and the University of Virginia. She was appointed on January 9, 1917, and arrived in the field February 1917. Miss Jordan is the head of Epiphany School for Girls in Soochow, one of China's ancient and most picturesque cities, about 50 miles west of Shanghai. The school aims to give a grammar school education to the daughters of the less privileged families from the rural districts of the diocese. It is a simple, inexpensive institution but does admirable work.

MISS MARY C. NICHOLS, Cuba—Miss Nichols was born on an October 19th at Bedford. She was educated in the public schools and by tutors, at the Belmont Seminary in Bedford and the Valley Seminary in Virginia. In September 1919 she was appointed from St. John's, Bedford, and reached her new work the same month. Almost from the beginning of her service in Cuba, Miss Nichols has been the effective and valued head of the Cathedral School in Havana. The school aims to provide education under Christian auspices for the children of American residents and of the more privileged Cuban people. It is largely self-supporting and does needed work.

REV. HUBARD LLOYD, Kyoto—Mr. Lloyd was born in Bedford on a November 3rd, and was educated at Brown's University School in Charlottesville, William and Mary, and graduated at the Virginia Theological Seminary in 1908. His home address when appointed was Big Stone Gap, but his parochial connection was Grace Memorial, Lynchburg. He was appointed June 17, 1908, and arrived in Kyoto, Japan, September 13, 1908. Mr. Lloyd is assigned by Bishop Nichols to have charge of the work of our church in Wayakama Province of the Diocese of Kyoto. The congregations are all under the immediate care of Japanese clergy, and Mr. Lloyd is the friend, advisor and stimulator of his Japanese colleagues. He travels around his district and looks up scattered and isolated Japanese Christians. Occasionally a graduate of a school like St. Agnes may be the only Christian young woman in her home town, to which she returned after her graduation. What a joy and help to her is a visit from an understanding friend like Mr. Lloyd.

REV. LLOYD R. CRAIGHILL, Anking—Mr. Craighill's birthday is August 3. He was born in Lynchburg, was educated at the Lynchburg High School, Washington and Lee, and the Theological Seminary of Virginia. Though a member of Grace Church, he was appointed from the Seminary on May 11, 1915, and arrived in China in October of the same year. Mr. Craighill is at present the only American clergyman other than Bishop Huntington in the Diocese of Anking. His station is Nanchang. He has done admirable work there in developing two Chinese congregations, both now under the care of Chinese clergy who look to Mr. Craighill as friend and counsellor. He also pioneers in the regions where our church is not established or where this work is relatively new and needs fostering care.

MINUTES OF THE FIFTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6

On Tuesday, November 6, 1934, the fifteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia convened at Emmanuel Church, Bristol, Va. The opening service at 5:00 p. m. was a Quiet Hour conducted by the Rev. Richard R. Beasley, rector of Emmanuel Church. This meditation was based on Isaiah 6:1-8 and brought out the three phases of the prophet's vision—his sense of God's presence, his sense of sin and the dedication of his life.

At 8 o'clock a service of evening prayer was held at which Miss Mabel R. Mansfield gave a splendid account of Industrial Work in the Diocese. The evening offering was given to this work, by resolution of the Executive Board.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 7

The Holy Communion was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Robert C. Jett, D. D., assisted by the Rev. Richard R. Beasley, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. The offering at this service was given, according to custom, to the United Thank Offering.

At 10 a. m. the business session was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. H. B. Loving, who led the opening prayer.

Mrs. Loving asked that each branch answer roll call with a two-minute report of the outstanding work done during the year, and appointed Mrs. W. P. Sumner and Mrs. R. G. Taylor as time keepers. The pages were asked to collect Standard Branch reports and distribute lists of appeals.

The Secretary called the roll. Delegates were present from 35 branches and there was a total of 91 representatives.

Mrs. Gordon Baker moved that the program as presented be adopted as the order of business. This motion was seconded and carried.

Mrs. K. A. Grandstaff graciously welcomed the delegates to Bristol in the name of the Woman's Auxiliary of Emmanuel Church. Mrs. W. W. Zimmerman, of Clifton Forge, responded for the delegates.

The President appointed the following committees;

Recruiting—Mrs. Philip C. Pendleton.

A most inspiring address was given by Bishop Jett in which he told of the wonderful opening service at General Convention, expressed his desire that in this Diocese gifts be made in a spirit of impulsive love, and emphasized the joy as well as necessity of service.

The following address was given by the president, Mrs. Loving:

THE PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL ADDRESS

We will not at this time discuss progress during the past year. The reports to be made by various officers will give this.

First, we would call your attention to two urgent matters and then we will ask you to consider with the women who gathered at the great Triennial meeting the problems which they considered of paramount importance in this day.

Last year many of our parish branches observed Armistice Day by the Quiet Day of Prayer, well prepared for and largely observed. This year we urge that you put greater emphasis than ever before upon that day.

When storm clouds of war seem to be gathering upon all the horizons of the world; when we have agreed that war is incompatible with the mind of Christ; that it is a stupid method of settling differences among nations, and when devout Christians in their abhorrence of war are urging that in the event of a war we were not able to prevent, we should not even send chaplains with the army;—it surely behooves us to be on our knees to find the mind of Christ and to seek strength to follow wherever His mind may lead us.

Did every branch coöperate with the women of other communions to observe the World Day of Prayer? What a glorious privilege to unite our voices and lift our hearts as one with Christian women of all races and nations the world over that we may see and follow His blessed will!

If we did not do these two things whole-heartedly last year we implore you to lose no time—to arrange all other engagements and duties that these two things may be done. Be sure your people understand. Never take for granted that anyone else knows or understands what you want to do until you have reduced the matter to the simplest and plainest words repeatedly said. Seek first the understanding sympathy and coöperation of your rector. Then use church notice, bulletins and all the newspaper publicity you can get. Especially see to it that all shut-in persons are given an opportunity to join their prayers with those of the women who can go to the appointed places of worship.

And now to the problems which the Triennial considered: "If we be His disciples." Perhaps we are; perhaps we have just supposed we are; perhaps we have not thought very much about it. But if we be His disciples we cannot sit down and wish in a world sore torn and troubled. We must do something about it. If every woman in this room would go back from this meeting determined by God's grace to put His will first, think of the words that would never be said, think of the kind deeds that would be done. Think of the effect upon people who might see that we have been with Jesus.

Could we not by plainer living and real sacrifices influence so many other people that we might put our Diocese back in the list of those who pay their quota and thus hold aloft the torch of His light and love in all the world. Could we not try to create, each in her own small sphere, a feeling of kindness and of brotherly love toward the peoples and races of the earth by never forgetting that they, as well as we, are God's children, and if we believe they are making mistakes let us patiently remember that they are probably trying as hard as we to find the way to a better world.

In the Triennial the problem, "If we be His disciples," was considered first through addresses by Dr. Mary Evelyn Townsend, Dr. Frank Gavin, Dr. Francis Cho-Min Wei, Dr. Vida Scudder, and Dr. Howard Chandler Robbins. Then we separated into groups led by persons who had been selected before we came together and discussed from interestingly varied angles and viewpoints. A summary of the group discussions was taken to a committee who prepared findings which were reported back to the whole body. Copies of these addresses and findings may be had from "281" and it is our hope we may study them in detail during the year.

May we hear the closing words of Dr. Townsend, Dr. Gavin and Dr. Robbins. Dr. Townsend says, "Again let me reiterate, mankind's controls are out of gear with the actual situation. The crying need of the present is not for new machinery, but for the infusion into existing machinery of the conviction which the medieval church possessed, namely, the essential oneness of humanity—how many times more applicable to this modern world."

Dr. Gavin says, "I have been talking to you frankly, and possibly at too great length, of the reflections I have been making on the matter of the church's resources in the face of our modern problems. I bid you then, in conclusion, first renew and deepen faith; the whole basis of our best and finest relatednesses with God, man and self rest upon faith. Unless I can say I believe and venture, risk and hazard much, I impede and paralyze all fruitful and dynamic possibilities within these relationships. Secondly, I bespeak a new and deeper penitence, a creative penitence that makes possible a new vision, that sees with clearness, steadily and fearlessly, that is strong enough to be humble, not so tremblingly fearful that it must be proud. Thirdly, I bespeak the best efforts of intelligence, study and labor of the mind. So much of the modern expression of Christianity is intellectually contemptible that a great work, as consecrated and as self-sacrificing as that of any other profoundly spiritual act, must be undertaken by children of the church, that her resources may be both revealed and made known and then released in abundant measure. Lastly, in her treasure there are things new and old. Neither the newness of the new must shock us, nor the oldness of the old be allowed to bore us. For the new, after all, is but a living unfolding of the old and the old is eternally fresh and new. The glory of our faith is its perennially fresh vitality. The spontaneous novelty of it comes from the wellsprings of eternal life in the age-long heart of God."

And Dr. Robbins says, "Every age must express in its own way its faith in God and its will to advance His kingdom. In the first centuries this faith and this purpose found expression in missionary enterprise which resulted in the conquest of the Mediterranean world; the Cross supplanted the Roman eagle. In the Middle Ages they found expression in institutionalism. Cathedrals were built and the Papacy gave rules for kings and their kingdoms to obey. In our age the primary interests are to reconstruct the social order in accordance with Christian principles and to improve international relationships until war becomes unthinkable for civilized man. There are those who tell us human nature does not change. Our answer is Christ came to change it. He is still the Way, the Truth and the Life. Without Him our civilization is without security, bereft of promise, and barren of hope. With Him we stand on the confines of His advancing kingdom. The task before us is to follow the guiding of His Spirit into more vital forms of human fellowship, and into truer, nobler and more generous social and political relationships. To trust Him is our only wisdom. To obey Him is our final prudence. And if there is hope today for us and for our world it is because over the fragments of our shattered self-confidence there sounds His redeeming and triumphant promise, 'If any man be in Christ there is a new creation;' 'Behold I make all things new.'"

And finally, in closing, may I quote from Miss Lindley's report: "Again, no one knows in what financial conditions we shall be living in the future, even the immediate future. We say to each other rather easily that we do not think it probable that in the future there will be the large fortunes of the past. The Foreign Missions Conference of North America believed that the missionary financial stringency would probably last from three to five years longer while the possibility of radical social changes might mean a much poorer Church financially than we have yet imagined. Our Lord never indicated that His mission would depend upon money, but He certainly did assume that what we are and have would be used for that mission. . . .

"We ourselves are now preparing another standard of measurement through holding this Triennial meeting, for the discovery of what disciples of Christ should do today for the Church's mission, for Christian citizenship and for the development of spiritual life will furnish a thrilling and appalling test. . .

"Do you see the two possibilities open before us? One is to go on about as we are doing now, continuing to do good things and to be a large group of women deserving to a fair extent the kind things said about us. We turn out in good-sized crowds, we give in figures with fairly large totals, we have a recognized position in the Church. That is well, but it may also be dangerous. Success can make us satisfied and so prevent our going on to endeavors not so simple or comfortable. 'God is as hard to satisfy as He is to please.'

"The final question is, where do we stand now in the world's today? Are we leading in a realization of the Church as the Body of Christ so entirely His that He can use it exactly as He pleases? Are we leading them so to love each member of Christ's Church that the world will know that we are His disciples? Are we leading them so truly to love humanity that they will be ready for any social change that will make conditions bearable for all men and women? Are we leading them to love the humanity not only of their own race and nation, but of every race and nation in the world? Are we really fitted to lead them at all?"

Respectfully submitted,

GRACE C. LOVING.

The Rev. D. L. Gwathmey, D. D., led the noon-day prayer.

The President changed the order of business at this time in order to introduce Miss Alice Jordan, of Clifton Forge, who has been a missionary in China for seventeen years. In a delightfully entertaining manner Miss Jordan told of her work at Epiphany Girls' School in Soochow and described interesting Chinese customs.

The Secretary's report was read and accepted.

The Treasurer's report was given to date.

Mrs. G. C. Moore gave the report of the Nominating Committee, presenting the following names:

For Honorary President, Mrs. Robert C. Jett; for President, Miss Jane Byrd Pendleton; for First Vice-President, Mrs. Oscar deW. Randolph; for Second Vice-President, Mrs. Landon Lowry; for Secretary, Mrs. John L. Sneed; for Treasurer, Mrs. Gordon H. Baker; for United Thank Offering Custodian, Mrs. H. C. Adams; for Educational Secretary of the New River Convocation, Mrs. B. B. Ramage; for Educational Secretary of the James River Convocation, Mrs. Donald S. Stone; for Supply Secretary, Mrs. Franklin Hanger; for Church Periodical Club Secretary, Mrs. Richard Lee.

Mrs. Oscar deW. Randolph called the attention of the delegates to the exhibit of books and leaflets arranged by the Education Committee at the back of the church.

The report of the Church Periodical Club was given by Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Secretary.

At 1 o'clock the meeting adjourned for lunch which was served in the parish room by the ladies of Emmanuel Church.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2:10 o'clock.

Mrs. W. E. Mingea, Custodian, gave the Triennial report of the United Thank Offering.

(All of the officers' reports will be found printed in full at the end of the minutes under "Reports.")

The Diocesan mission workers were introduced at this time and made their appeals for special needs. A most generous response was made by the branches, who pledged $443 in cash, 50 pounds of candy, 200 candy bags, 12 boxes of clothing and many other things, including unbreakable cups, school supplies, toys, games, quilt pieces, a kitchen sink, a choir vestment, 25 Christmas gifts for adults, a victrola, a piano, materials for industrial work, materials for altar covers, hymn board numbers, and many boxes of food for the Boys' Home.

The recommendation of the Executive Board that the offering at the evening mass meeting be given to the Bishop's Emergency Fund for the General Church Program was read by the Secretary. A motion, made by Mrs. Cochran, that this recommendation be adopted was seconded and carried.

At the adjournment of the meeting at 4:00 p. m. a scenic drive around Bristol was arranged for the delegates and tea was served at General Shelby Hotel.

At 8 o'clock a mass meeting was held at which time the speaker was Dr. John W. Wood, who gave a splendid address in which he spoke of the enormous opportunities for service in the world, and especially in the Orient, and of the wonderful victories already won for Christ. He gave illustrations showing the power of the Christian teacher to form character and of the doctor to preach Christ through medicine, and he paid a glowing tribute to the late Dr. Rudolph B. Teusler. Dr. Wood said that the message of the church brought a new spirit and hope to all peoples: to a primitive people like the Igorots, to a cultured people like the Chinese, and to a progressive people like the Japanese.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8

On Thursday morning at 9 o'clock the Holy Communion was celebrated by the Rev. Richard R. Beasley, assisted by the Rev. Hugh V. Clary. An offering was taken for the United Thank Offering.

The business session was called to order at 9:45 by the President and opened with prayer.

Mrs. Loving reported that during the past two years the President's discretionary fund had been used to help a girl from Covington who is attending a Deaconess' Training School in Philadelphia. This had been undertaken by Mrs. Lewis and she had completed it. An interesting letter from Miss Phyllis Little telling of her course was read.

The report of the Corresponding Secretary was read and accepted.

Mrs. Loving announced that Mrs. Habersham, who had shown moving pictures in some of our parishes a year or two ago, had some splendid new pictures of Jerusalem and the Holy Land and of our church's work among the Indians. If any branch would like to have Mrs. Habersham show her pictures this year they were asked to notify Mrs. Loving.

Mrs. Randolph spoke of the Virginia Episcopal School as our diocesan church school for boys and asked for the interest of the Woman's Auxiliary.

The Secretary called the roll. Delegates were present from 31 branches.

The minutes of the preceding day were read and approved.

In the absence of Mrs. Hanger, Supply Secretary, Mrs. Jos. S. Cochran gave the report of the Supply Department.

Mrs. Cochran, Chairman of the Budget Committee, stated that that committee wished to present optional reports, and had both listed on the blackboard.

While this was being done Mrs. Cochran reported for the Committee on the Formation of New Branches that the branch at Norton had been reestablished and was functioning well and that there was a new branch at Schuyler.

Mrs. Randolph announced the formation of a new colored branch at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Lynchburg.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Baker, announced $36.32 as the amount of the Wednesday evening offering.

Mrs. Randolph moved that a special account of $6.36 carried on the Treasurer's books as the offering given at the Institute last February be given to the Bishop's Special Fund. This motion was seconded and carried.

Mrs. Baker stated that this brought the total to date for this fund up to $225.88 and that 24 branches had contributed.

Mrs. Cochran moved that anything in the treasury over a necessary working balance be applied to the Bishop's Special. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Baker and carried.

Mrs. Cochran asked that the delegates present go home with the idea of emphasizing the importance of this fund and moved that a letter be sent to every branch giving the present condition of the Bishop's Special Fund and asking that a gift, or an additional gift, be made to this fund. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Gravely and carried.

Mrs. Cochran, speaking for the Budget Committee, recommended the adoption of the first report, keeping the $500 as a special. A motion to this effect, made by Mrs. Gravely and seconded by Mrs. J. Y. Terry, was carried.

The budget for 1935, thus adopted, was as follows:

Mrs. Oscar deW. Randolph, First Vice-President in charge of Education, gave her report in which she announced that the 1935 Institute would be held January 16 and 17 at St. John's Church, Lynchburg.

Mrs. Randolph also gave the report of the Program Committee and read a recommendation from the Executive Board "that five copies of the 1935 Diocesan Programs be given each branch and that any additional copies desired be ordered in advance and paid for by the branch."

Upon motion made by Mrs. W. P. Sumner and seconded by Mrs. J. E. Caldwell, this recommendation was adopted.

The noon-day prayer was led by the Rev. John S. Wellford.

In concluding the report of the Program Committee Mrs. Randolph emphasized the value of parish programs based on the suggestions made in the Diocesan program.

Interesting reports were given by the delegates to the Triennial meeting in Atlantic City in October: Mrs. Jett reporting on the Mass Meetings; Miss Pendleton, on Missionaries; Mrs. Randolph, on Education; and Mrs. Loving, on the United Thank Offering Service.

Mrs. Baker announced for Mrs. Mingea that the offerings for the United Thank Offering at the services of Holy Communion on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings amounted to $19.32.

Miss Henrietta Brogden, President of Emmanuel Branch, Bristol, spoke at this time, expressing the great pleasure and inspiration it had been to entertain this annual meeting.

The chairman of the Committee on Standard Branch Reports, Mrs. Frank McVeigh, reported that St. Thomas, Christiansburg; Christ Church, Pulaski; Trinity, Staunton; and First Circle, St. John's, Wytheville, had had 100 per cent; Christ Church, Roanoke, 97 1-2 per cent; St. Peter's, Roanoke, 95 per cent; Ivy Chapel, Forest, 92 1-2 per cent; and Christ Church, Martinsville, St. Paul's, Lynchburg, and St. Paul's, Saltville, 90 per cent.

Miss Blanche Deal, Chairman, gave the report of the Resolutions Committee. Mrs. J. Y. Terry moved that this report be accepted as a whole. This motion was seconded by Mrs. Gravely.

Miss Pendleton asked that the second resolution be re-read and offered an amendment. This amendment was seconded by Mrs. W. P. Sumner and carried.

The motion to accept the report of the committee as a whole with the amendment was carried.

The resolutions as adopted were as follows:

Resolved, That the Woman's Auxiliary in session at Bristol desires to acknowledge to their president, Mrs. W. H. B. Loving, its deep appreciation for the splendid way in which she has conducted this meeting, and to express deep gratitude to her for shouldering the responsibilities for another year's presidency in addition to her past term of office.

Resolved, That, whereas the church loses so much of the enthusiastic interest and work of her young womanhood in the gap between the Church School and the Woman's Auxiliary, we take as one of the chief aims of the coming year the formation, wherever possible, of a group of young women in each parish and mission of the Diocese to be known as the Junior Woman's Auxiliary.

Resolved, That we express deep sorrow in the passing of Deaconess Blanche Adams and wish to pay tribute to her long years of service to the Master's cause.

Resolved, That in the passing of Mrs. Emil Berger we have lost a faithful co-worker. We extend our sympathy to her husband and relatives and acknowledge her deep consecration to the work of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Resolved, That we regret the necessary absence of Dr. Reinhold Rogers, who always lends inspiration to our meetings, and express our deep sympathy to Mrs. Rogers in the loss of her sister.

Resolved, That we are grateful to Dr. John W. Wood for his inspiring and illuminating address on the missionary work of the church.

Resolved, That we express our appreciation to Mrs. Francis Taylor for the very efficient assistance that she gave to the Secretary on Wednesday afternoon.

Whereas the Woman's Auxiliary is authorized by the General Convention of our church as the chief organization of women assisting the National Council, and

Whereas the Woman's Auxiliary is the chief woman's organization to which are sent delegates from parishes of this Diocese and which meets in regular convention, and

Whereas we as members of the Woman's Auxiliary feel that parish work gains in unity and spiritual emphasis by organizing under the name of Woman's Auxiliary to the National Council;

Therefore, be it resolved, That this convention urges every parish to study carefully the possibility of organizing for the sake of unity its woman's work around the Woman's Auxiliary, and to take the necessary steps eventually to accomplish this goal.

Resolved, That we are indebted to the choir, organist, our beloved Bishop Jett, Rev. Richard Beasley, Miss Mabel Mansfield, Miss Alice Jordan and others who have assisted in the services and appeared on the program. We wish to extend our thanks to the Auxiliary of St. Thomas' Church, Abingdon, for the delicious luncheon, to the women of Emmanuel Church, Bristol, for the luncheon and tea, and to our hostesses for their gracious hospitality.

At 1 o'clock the meeting adjourned for lunch which was served in the parish room by the ladies of St. Thomas' Church, Abingdon.

At 2 o'clock the closing business session was called to order.

The election of officers followed. The report of the Nominating Committee, written on the blackboard, was read again. Nominations from the floor were asked for.

After the singing of "Blest be the Tie that Binds" Bishop Jett pronounced the benediction, and the fifteenth annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia was adjourned.

(Signed)

Grace C. Loving, President.

Jane Byrd Pendleton, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE DIRECTOR OF THE CHURCH PERIODICAL CLUB

For the last time I come before you to give an account of what has been accomplished in the past year by the Church Periodical Club in the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia.

I feel that the interest in the C. P. C. is increasing. During the year I have had a report from each branch except one. Occasionally you women become too easily discouraged in your work. You mail a magazine and the recipient does not respond to the note you kindly write to establish contact. Again the recipient does not receive a note and cannot write a note of appreciation. It is true, oftentimes, magazines are not appreciated, and when you find that is true change the address, for there are so many people who are eager for magazines and books.

If you could only have heard some of the splendid addresses to the C. P. C. at the General Convention in Atlantic City in October by Rt. Rev. Charles S. Reifsnider, Suffragan Bishop of North Dakota; Rev. Charles T. Bridgeman, Canon of St. George's Cathedral, Jerusalem, Palestine; Rev. Mr. Sessions in Mississippi and missionaries in North Carolina and Virginia, speaking of the great help the books and magazines are to them sent by the C. P. C., you would become enthusiastic workers for the C. P. C. You would feel like acclaiming it from the housetops. Students are reading more and more and they must have books. They are asking real questions. Some say, "I know about Jesus but I do not know Jesus."

Our books and magazines are also needed at home. Men come to our doors who are anxious for them. Patients in hospitals are helped by the magazines you kindly pass to them, and our schools by the books.

Dear women, extend the work of the C. P. C. in our Diocese. Continue your $25 donation to the C. P. C. so that your Director of the C. P. C. can send a donation to the National Executive Secretary, Miss Mary E. Thomas, for her Library Fund to aid her in responding to the many calls of the missionaries. They cry, "Miss Thomas never fails us."

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY

The Corresponding Secretary submits her report for the year 1934, beginning October 17, 1933:

Circular letters typed and mailed to the presidents of the branches, 168. Instructed by the Executive Board, letters were written to Miss Jane Scott and Mr. Thomas Scott, in recognition of their faithful, willing service to the Auxiliary at all times.

A letter was sent to Mrs. C. B. Feagans regarding the formation of a branch of the Auxiliary in Grace Chapel at Six-Mile Bridge.

A letter to Miss Grace Lindley in reply to a request for a contribution to the deficit of the National Council. This request was not complied with as this Auxiliary has Bishop Jett's Emergency Fund which is practically for the same purpose.

REPORT OF EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY FOR THE NEW RIVER CONVOCATION—1934

The year's work began, as usual, with the sending of programs for 1934 to each branch in the Convocation. These were followed by a letter urging the branches to adapt the program to local circumstances, and to plan the educational work for the year carefully.

Early in the year the branches were reminded of the Institute held in Roanoke, and all were urged to send delegates that the leaders of their Lenten Study Classes might be better prepared for their work. The Institute was well attended, and was, I am sure, a big help to those who led the Study Groups.

I am delighted to report that, as far as I have been informed, all our branches had some such group; or, at least, some special program for our Lenten work.

This has been an unusually busy year for the Educational Secretaries, as it has been our duty and privilege to see that the material for a number of programs was furnished. I was responsible for the program on Miss Morgan's work at Penland and was truly sorry that I had to condense the material she sent to one mimeographed sheet. It all was so interesting.

During Lent I had the pleasure of visiting two branches, and was delighted to see how interested they were in their work. I wish that I could have visited more of them.

I feel that this year we have made a decided gain in the amount of interest shown in the programs. I have had so many requests for material for our programs, and have been so glad either to provide the material desired or to suggest where it might be found. Some of these requests might not have been made, however, if the person desiring the information had observed the suggested sources of material in the program itself.

I particularly want to tell what one branch is doing along educational lines. They have adopted a reading program for the purpose of keeping in touch with the trends of religious thought. They have no library of religion, but have borrowed books from "281," New York, and from their rector, and are having a lively good time reading. I am sure that all rectors would be delighted if more of us would follow this example, and would be glad to cooperate with us by lending books for the purpose.

Interesting things are happening in the realm of religious thought today. Not only as members of the Woman's Auxiliary, but as Christians, we ought to know about them.

Respectfully submitted,

HARRIET P. WELLFORD, *Educational
Secretary New River Convocation.*

REPORT OF THE EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY OF JAMES RIVER CONVOCATION

In November I sent to each branch a package of programs for the next year's work, containing as many copies as there were members reported.

In January I made a file from the Spirit of Missions, published in the last four years, of articles bearing on the year's study. I also began distributing the Lenten study books, The Never Failing Light, and the Rev. Dr. Sherman's excellent manual, Christ and the Modern World. This distribution continued through the next month.

In February, at Mrs. Randolph's request, I presided at the Institute held in Roanoke, conducted by Miss Marston, on the Lenten study. I afterwards wrote an account of the Institute which was published in the Southwestern Episcopalian. In March I sent to all the branches Rev. Hubard Lloyd's letter. In April I sent an account of the work done in Penland, N. C. In July I sent leaflets from the Church Missions House; in August an account of the leper work carried on in Kusatsu.

I attended Miss Marston's Conference for Educational Secretaries held in Atlantic City during General Convention. She began by saying the Christian women of America should avail themselves, wherever possible, of hearing speak this winter in strategic centres throughout the nation, Miss Michi Kawai, of Japan, author of Japanese Women Speak. Miss Kawai is one of the outstanding Christian women of Japan. May I suggest for your consideration questions which came up in Miss Marston's conference—

How can we interest the uninterested?

How can we interest the rural women?

How can we relate the program to every day life?

Also, that the branch ask the Church School Superintendent in the parish to provide one program during the year on some missionary subject. A pageant, sponsored by the Auxiliary, could be made of great educational and spiritual value.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL P. RAMAGE.

REPORT OF THE EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY

Oct. 31, 1934

Some years ago I heard one of our Virginia bishops preach on the spiritual life and how necessary it was to surround ourselves with those influences which would contribute to the growth of the Spirit. He used this phrase which I have never forgotten, "You cannot make an orange tree grow in Maine." No more can we develop according to the purpose which God has for each of us unless we put ourselves in that environment which will help us most. We tried this past year as far as possible to create that environment. Our monthly programs suggested the study of the lives of men and women whom we have come to know as God's modern saints. Surely these examples must have furnished inspiration in our own lives.

The yearly Institute was held February 6, 7 and 8 in Roanoke in order to prepare for Lenten study. The subject was, "Christ in the Modern World." We were privileged to have as our leader Miss Margaret Marston, general Educational Secretary. It is hard to say whether the efforts of the religious educational program met with the response we hoped for, as a rather prolonged illness kept your Educational Secretary from doing all the follow up work planned. Let me at this point voice the appreciation I feel for the able and devoted manner in which our two Convocational Secretaries carried on the work alone; without them it would have suffered sadly.

Now we are facing a new year in our Auxiliary life. In what spirit will we go to meet it? Our special study this year is to be Japan and Orientals in America. Our Diocesan library is already well equipped with books on these subjects. We hope you will borrow and read them now in preparation for further group study and discussion.

We can look forward to a most interesting two* days Institute in Lynchburg, January 16 and 17. Mrs. John H. Moore, of Delaware, who has just been elected chairman of the Province of Washington, and is a leader of unusual ability, will conduct the training classes. Our Diocesan programs will be somewhat differently arranged and will, we hope, give you a better opportunity to adapt them to your individual needs. Let me suggest that part of our work include a more intimate contact with and knowledge of what is taught in our Church schools, and let our attitude be a helpful one so that our young people will feel that we are all interested in and working for the same goal. There may be a place in some of our parishes for schools or classes of creative leisure. Let us try to help those who in this time of readjustment have this leisure time thrust upon them and endeavor by our efforts to make it a blessing and not a curse.

We, as women of the Auxiliary to the National Council, must not fail to appreciate the unity of church work. We must not put Missions in one pigeonhole, Social Service in another and Religious Education in a third. They are all three part of the Mission of the Church and we are responsible for that mission. Christian or religious education is not an extra added to that mission but "is the adjusting of an individual harmoniously and creatively into a new born social order;" into the life which has Christ at its center, and in that definition we are brought face to face with a personal problem and the importance of the individual. While our work ultimately is for the Church, the body of Christ, it begins with ourselves and the person next to us. Are we really trying to live and to help others live harmoniously and creatively in God's world?

The more we think and study and pray and work the more we realize the truth of these inspiring words used by Dean Robbins in his address to our women at the recent Triennial, "Let us never forget that each one of us has the awful dignity of being an ambassador of God."

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE L. RANDOLPH.

REPORT OF THE FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE DIOCESE OF SOUTHWESTERN VIRGINIA IN CHARGE OF SOCIAL SERVICE

I have written to all of the presidents of each and every branch asking them to appoint a Social Service Secretary, sending me their names; but, so far, I am afraid this has not been done in all of the branches.

One of the duties of these secretaries is to get their branches to put aside some canned food stuffs for the Boys' Home, as they do their canning during the year. Another duty is to stress the saving of coupons from "Octagon" products and some others included on your lists, for the Boys' Home. In both of these fields we have done very good work this year. Twenty-three thousand coupons have been sent to Dr. Rogers up to December 31. The final date has been extended, for sending in the coupons, to June 30, 1935.

Respectfully submitted,

(MRS. LANDON) RUBY H. LOWRY.

Roanoke, Va., January 18, 1935.

Miss Jane Byrd Pendleton,
President of the Woman's Auxiliary,
Wytheville, Va.

My Dear Miss Pendleton:

As provided in the By-Laws of the Auxiliary I have examined the accounts of Mrs. Gordon H. Baker, Treasurer of the Auxiliary, covering the calendar year 1934.

The sums received during the year, as shown in the duplicate receipt books, and entries in the ledger, are in agreement with the bank pass book and monthly statements, and were correctly credited to the various parishes and missions.

The sums received for "Specials" were in all cases disbursed as intended by the donors. The entries of income and disbursements for the Budget are correct.

The cancelled checks are properly endorsed.

The bank account has been reconciled and the balance of $162.25 shown in the Treasurer's report as of December 31, 1934, is correct.

The work of your Treasurer during the year was excellent.

Very sincerely yours,

THOS. A. SCOTT, Treasurer
of the Diocese of Southwestern Virginia.

Roanoke, Va., January 26, 1935.

Miss Jane Byrd Pendleton,
President of the Woman's Auxiliary,
Wytheville, Va.

My Dear Miss Pendleton:

The By-Laws of the Auxiliary provide that the accounts of the Custodian of the United Thank Offering shall be audited by the Treasurer of the Diocese. In that capacity I have checked the records of Mrs. W. E. Mingea, who succeeded Mrs. W. H. B. Loving at the beginning of 1934 and served as Custodian until October 10, the opening date of General Convention. The books of the Custodian were necessarily closed as of that date, which marked the end of the Triennium.

I find that the sums received by Mrs. Mingea during the above period from parish branches, as shown by the receipt stubs, were properly entered in the ledger and agree with deposits acknowledged by the bank, and so are fully accounted for; the figures being:

Spring Collections.....	$1,076.10
Fall Collections.....	1,283.72
Total for 1934.....	<hr/> $2,359.82

As shown in my statement of last year, Mrs. Loving's books had closed with a balance of $4,655.35 in Savings Account No. 16130 of the First National Exchange Bank of Roanoke. For very good reasons the savings account was allowed to remain in Roanoke. Mrs. Mingea made her collections and remitted to Mrs. Loving in three checks during the year her total receipts of $2,359.80 ($2,359.82 less 2 cent tax on one of the checks). Total receipts of the Triennium then were:

Balance in Savings Account as of Dec. 31, 1933.....	$4,655.35
Remittances of 1934 as above.....	2,359.80
Interest accrued on Savings during 1934.....	69.98

Total United Thank Offering for Triennium.....$7,085.13

Amount remitted to the Treasurer of the National Council and credited by him as the Triennial
United Thank Offering from Southwestern Va.....$7,085.13

I would add that, after closing her books for the Triennium and before December 31, 1934, Mrs. Mingea received seven checks as follows:

From Radford—Grace.....	$10.00
Nelson Parish—Trinity.....	19.31
Forest—Ivy Chapel.....	10.00
Bluefield—St. Mary's.....	12.25
Martinsville—Christ Church II.....	1.00
Corporate Communion Annual Meeting in Bristol November 6, 1934.....	19.57
Clifton Forge—St. Andrew's.....	7.76

Total.....$79.89

Inasmuch as these checks came too late for credit as fall payments of 1934 and for inclusion in the offering of the past Triennium, they were forwarded to Mrs. Holcombe C. Adams, the newly elected Custodian, and will be the first entries in her record of receipts for the spring of 1935. I would call especial attention, however, to the fact that, since these credits represent offerings actually made in 1934, they are not to be considered as taking the place of the normal contributions of these branches for the spring of 1935, but simply as additions thereto.

Respectfully,

THOS. A. SCOTT, Treasurer of the Diocese.
