After a short service and an address of welcome by Rev. W. J. Morton, rector, Mrs. Albert Bryan, President of Christ Church Branch, welcomed the delegates in the name of the three Auxiliaries, and Mrs. Sterling Murray, of Leesburg, responded.

The business meeting was called to order by Miss Louisa T. Davis, Vice-President.

The roll was called by the Assistant Secretary showing 50 delegates present. Mrs. Barton called the roll for the Juniors, 22 present, and Section B was represented by 7 delegates.

Mrs. Howard moved that the Committee on Resolutions wire Bishop Gibson at once tendering sympathy and congratulations.

The report of the Assistant Treasurer was received and, at her request, a committee was appointed to audit the same. The committee appointed consisted of Mrs. E. S. W. Howard and Mrs. Meade Clarke.

Mrs. E. S. W. Howard, Secretary of Little Helpers, submitted her report, which was approved.

The report of the Church Periodical Club was read by the Secretary, Mrs. Mary G. Wallace, and approved.

Archdeacon Stuck, of Alaska, paid a tribute to the C. P. C. and spoke of the good done by periodicals and the help brought by them in the long winters in Alaska.

Miss Stuart's appeals were as follows: Pews for Dr. Moncure's Memorial Colored Church, to be built in Stafford county; Rev. Mr. Mason's automobile; Dr. Teusler's Hospital, Japan. The pews in the church above mentioned to cost $124.80. Mrs. E. S. W. Howard offered to give a Font for said church for her grand-daughters, and Mrs. William Hammond the communion service.

Miss Crenshaw then read a letter stating that the automobile for Rev. Mr. Mason would cost $520.00, of which $264.00 had been given, leaving a balance due of $256.00.

The reports of the Assistant Educational Secretaries, Mrs. Rutter, Miss Powers and Mrs. Chichester, were read and approved.

Reports were closed to hear a short address by Bishop Brown.

The chair gave instructions as to time of election of Parish Officers, and stated they should take place at the April or May meeting, in order that the Year Book would have a correct list of officers.

Noonday prayer was conducted by Bishop Brown.

Discussion on the Central Fund—Mrs. Barton referred to the deficit in the account and asked that all the branches make contributions to this fund. Mrs. Mordecai called attention to the fact that at the meeting last year all delegates were requested to bring this to the attention of their branches. Miss Davis asked that the delegates explain to their branches the necessity for contributions to this fund.

An Educational Question Box was conducted by Mrs. E. E. Osgood, the Educational Secretary of the Diocese, and answers to a number of questions were given, particularly in regard to conducting Mission Study Classes.

The meeting then adjourned for lunch.

The afternoon session was called to order at 2:30, when there was a conference on auxiliary boxes, and where to send them. Mrs. H. W. Mordecai resigned from the Box Committee, and the President, Miss Stuart, announced she would make an appointment the following day for an assistant to Mrs. Wallace.

A discussion on summer conferences was held, there being six present, who had attended. Miss Davis spoke about Silver Bay, Blue Ridge and Cambridge, also Mt. St. Albans, which latter was not strictly a missionary conference, but all gave inspiration.

REPORT OF PRESIDENT MISS SALLIE STUART FOR YEAR ENDING MAY 1, 1916.

REPORT OF THE WOMAN'S AUXILIARY.

In reporting the condition of the Virginia Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary at the close of its twenty-sixth year, we have much that is encouraging to tell.

Our pledges have been paid. Each year we give $100.00 towards the salary of Miss Barber in China, and the same amount towards that of Miss Mann in Japan. We are also responsible for the life insurance of Dr. Claude Lee, in China; for several hundred dollars towards the salaries of Women Workers in Virginia, and for the Emergency Fund, which we place in Bishop Gibson's hands to be used at his discretion. Our branches contribute towards their parish apportionment for General and Diocesan Missions and lay aside each year gifts that go to swell the great Triennial United Offering.

At our annual meeting in Alexandria last November appeals were made by Bishop Brown for Portuguese literature for Brazil, by Bishop Kinsolving for a Boy's School in Brazil, by Archdeacon Stuck for help for an Alaskan hospital, and by Dr. Teusler for St. Luke's Hospital, Tokyo. The amounts pledged to these objects by the delegates present have been forwarded to their destinations, as well as special contributions to the Moncure Memorial Chapel and the Mountain Workers' automobile.

Since our last report we have joined our sister branches in the neighboring Dioceses in the formation of a Provincial Auxiliary; and already we are gaining through it new working ideas, new zeal, and new courage.

Our staff of workers has been strengthened by the election of Mrs. Geo. S. French as treasurer, Mrs. John M. Johnson as assistant secretary, and Mrs. W. M. S. Hammond as "Spirit of Missions" secretary, and by the appointment of Mrs. C. W. Culp and Mrs. D. G. Trevillian as director of box work in the Virginia Branch, and of Miss Kate Powers as "Our Diocesan Work" correspondent.

To mark our twenty-fifth anniversary as a Diocesan Branch, we have set aside our invested funds, amounting to $2,700.00, as a Silver Anniversary Rest Fund, and have arranged to use the interest therefrom in paying the board of a succession of tired missionary workers at the country home of the Summer Rest Association of Henrico Parish.

Through the kindness of the editor of "Our Diocesan Work," our Diocesan officers have been able to keep in touch with all the Branches through the Woman's Auxiliary page in that paper. This has meant much to us in the past year, and will mean more as the members of the Woman's Auxiliary learn to rely on "Our Diocesan Work" for their Auxiliary notices.

After a careful investigation of the two years' work of Section B, we are able to say that this new department of the Woman's Auxiliary has in Virginia the cordial approval both of the Woman's Auxiliary and of the Juniors, enlisting, as it does, in the missionary work of the Church young women who are too old to be Juniors, and whom the older organization has not been able to persuade to join it. There are now ten Branches of Section B in the Diocese; and we believe that they are saving for the Church's work many valuable women, who, without it, would give their best energies to civics and clubs, which, however good, should not be first.

It is our great privilege to report that four young women from our Junior Auxiliary are volunteering to go to the mission field. The Secretary of the Juniors and her parish leaders are presenting to the young women and girls of the Diocese the urgent need for more women to go as missionaries, and are teaching them the blessedness of offering their lives to the service of the King.

The Secretary of the Little Helpers is most anxious to establish her department of the Auxiliary in every parish and mission station within our boundaries. At present we have this missionary work for little children in only twenty-two places. Some of the weaker parishes hesitate to undertake work which they feel may be beyond them; but surely there is no parish in which there cannot be found one baby and one woman who will teach it to pray: "God bless all the missionaries all over the world, and all the Little Helpers, for Jesus Christ's sake."

Under our Educational Secretary and her assistants the number of Study Classes has largely increased, and we note that our Secretary is this year being called upon to teach the subject of Missions in four of the summer schools for Sunday School teachers.

The Church Periodical Club has thirty-four librarians in the Diocese, and is enlarging its usefulness each year. This is a good work in which everyone may share, for its opportunities range from the sending of a Christmas card to the gift of a traveling library.

We are planning an advance along all the lines indicated in this report, our object being to have an active Woman's Auxiliary in every parish.

At the present time the Woman's Auxiliary is established in eighty-eight congregations in the Diocese of Virginia. One-half of these congregations have a Junior Auxiliary, one-fifth of them a Band of Little Helpers, and one-tenth of them a Section B.

From this statement it will be seen that much remains to be done before our purpose is accomplished. We feel that just now the thing that is most needed is for all of the clergy to be familiar with the details of our work in each department, as we are dependent upon them for permission to begin it in a parish, and for advice, encouragement, and help in its prosecution. We earnestly beg, therefore, the continued assistance of our honored Bishop and Bishop-Coadjutor, and for the many Virginia clergymen who have made possible the things that have been done; and we also ask that those of the clergy who are not yet in close touch with our organization, will make a study of its aims and methods; so that, with the co-operation of their spiritual leaders, all the Church women in the Diocese may be banded together in the work that is at once their common task and their highest privilege.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLIE STUART,
Pres. and Sec. of the Va. Br. of the W. Aux.

REPORT OF THE JUNIOR AUXILIARY 1915-1916.

The officers of the Junior Auxiliary are most enthusiastic over the year's work. When the older girls and the young married women, in many of the branches, were organized into Section B of the Woman's Auxiliary, under Mrs. Woodward, we were very fearful that the work done by the Juniors without their help, would in no way measure up to that of former years. To our intense gratification the report of money and boxes (only three branches failing to report) amounted to $2,320.06.

Last year, our banner year, we raised $3,040.00, but that meant our combined work, so that this first year of our separation, with $2,320.06 to the credit of the Juniors, and $1,500.00 to that of Section B of the Woman's Auxiliary, we do, indeed, feel that this important change means a growing success. Other things show steady growth.

Miss Purcell succeeded in interesting almost all the branches in the United Offering, and we felt that our part in the great Triennial was not unworthy. Miss Meade, with her fine corps of assistants, directed so wisely and well the work of the Richmond Juniors, to them is due our thanks that the division did not cause consternation and almost disorganization, for it shows able leadership to take away the props of years and teach people to rely on their own strength and the division affected many of the Richmond branches.

Miss Hughes developed a line of work that was a wonderful assistance, and it will prove a steady help, as the branches realize its usefulness.

When Dr. Brydon, editor of "Our Diocesan Work," offered us part of his paper every month, Miss Hughes was asked to be the Junior editor, and she proved herself so capable, your Junior secretary was relieved of much extra work and every branch, every month, was kept in touch with what was going on.

During the year Junior branches were formed at Haymarket, Luray, Scottsville and White Post, with earnest, consecrated leaders.

The new report blanks have been most helpful in getting at conditions in the branches. Of 47 branches, 44 sent in reports, and there have been 22 study classes. All this leads up to what is most gratifying of all. There were five volunteers for mission work from among the Juniors, showing that these twenty-five years of work along Junior lines, with Junior training in prayers, work and gifts has at least reached its ideal—the giving of self. As we realize the latent possibilities in each young girl and as we put before them such ideas, surely the work of our regular meetings will be lifted out of material conditions and this spiritual development will mean an uplift never to be measured.

Respectfully submitted,

GERTRUDE W. BARTON,
Secretary.

REPORT OF THE LITTLE HELPERS TO THE VIRGINIA WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The year's work shows little growth in members or branches, but there have been many things to help and encourage me to believe firmly that this work among the little children of the Church is well worth while.

Since our last meeting a noble life has gone from us, and the Little Helpers' work will sadly miss her loving help and encouragement. "Miss Sallie," as we of Virginia know her best, believed that the children of the Church are its greatest source of wealth, and she never failed to include the Little Helpers in every piece of diocesan work undertaken for the Master.

What a beautiful tribute to her memory it would be if before the close of this coming year every church in the diocese of her love could number in its parish work a praying, working branch of Little Helpers. Why cannot we women of the Auxiliary accomplish this? If only we could catch the vision as she did of the Christ, when He said, "Suffer the little ones and forbid them not to come unto Me," there would be a speedy gathering in of these first fruits into His garner.

The time is passing and with it our opportunities, which He will not always offer us; instead He will give this privilege to others who will value His gift. May He so help us that we will be able to look at Him through eyes of faith and say, "As we had opportunity, we worked to gather in His lambs."

REPORTS OF CONVOCATION SECRETARIES.

Valley Convocation.

The work of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Valley Convocation in the diocese of Virginia has prospered during the past year under the blessing of God.

Our "Auxiliary Day" at Luray, April 4th last, resulted in the formation of a Junior Branch there and a general awakening of missionary zeal in the parishioners.

Branches of the Woman's Auxiliary and of the Juniors have been revived at White Post, Clarke County, for some time dormant. Mission study classes were very generally held, and gifts and boxes have been of increasing value.

The Secretary has been able to visit several discouraged and weak branches, helping them up. She hopes to better things. Especial effort has been made to make the united offering a success, out of which it is hoped will come an increased offering. An annual Auxiliary Day is held each year at the spring convocation; that of the next spring will be held at White Post.

Respectfully submitted,

LILY A. W. ELLIS,
Convocational Secretary.

Piedmont Convocation.

The branches of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Piedmont Convocation report encouragingly this year.

The interest in the meetings seems increasing, the attendance is better and the contributions are generous. Even the country branches, which have in previous years lamented that bad roads and inclement weather have prevented regular meetings, seem to have in a large measure overcome this obstacle.

The officers show an earnestness and sense of their responsibility which augurs well for the future of the Auxiliary. They bear in mind that "the Auxiliary will be what its officers are."

One of the country branches writes that though its members have not much money to give, they are always ready to give of their time and labor to help in the work of the Auxiliary.

Another writes, "We are alive and growing."

One of the branches suggests that it is never possible to get a missionary speaker to come to the country, and says, "We are starving for a personal touch from the mission world." Cannot some one suggest a remedy for this want?

They are all aware of the importance of sending delegates to the annual meeting, and the representation has been greater this past year.

In reading the letters from the different branches, I am impressed with the note of hope and encouragement. Can we not hope for greater results in the future? Should not the life of her who for so many years was our leader and inspiration urge us to greater and more consecrated effort, so that though "having gone before," she still lives in the lives she so dearly loved.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSIE B. CRAWFORD.

Richmond Convocation.

Another very full and busy year for our convocation. First, our own delightful annual at Alexandria. We had not as many delegates as usual from Richmond; I don't know why, for I always urge each branch to send one; but those who did attend will never forget it, and those who did not had a loss that can never be filled now, for our dear president will only be with us in spirit at future annuals.

We hurried home to get ready for the Synod of the Province of Washington, which met in Richmond in November. It was a busy time for our Auxiliary, but successful and so interesting. How we wished that every parish branch officer would have attended the mission study class and especially the class for branch officers. Again, those who did attend these classes had a great gain; those who did not a great loss.

In March we had our great missionary movement, the most interesting and soul-stirring mission event that has come to Richmond since the general convention in 1907.

The corresponding secretary called a meeting of all the parish branch officers early in the winter and they decided to have a corporate communion, with special service and prayer for missions every October, which is the beginning of our working year.

The secretary sent a card to each one of our twenty-two branches the 1st of April, urging them to be prompt in sending their reports and also their U. O., always giving the name and address of the person to whom they should be sent, also urging them to send a delegate to the annual, which meets this year in St. James, Richmond, and to which we are all looking forward with great pleasure and interest.

We will begin a new year's work in October and will "give our best energy, our best time and our best means and the best will come back to us."

Respectfully submitted,

HELEN NORWOOD MORDECAI,

Secretary of Woman's Auxiliary of Richmond Convocation.

REPORTS OF EDUCATIONAL SECRETARY AND ASSISTANTS.

It is impossible for the secretaries to give a correct statistical report this year. The study classes failed to report to us, and only in this way can we keep up with them. Mission study has become such a matter of course with some Auxiliaries that they see no need of reporting, while others undervalue their work to such an extent that they feel it is not worth reporting. Though notwithstanding these facts, we believe the work of this year exceeds the past years. Incidentally, we have heard of many new classes held in new places and have been encouraged by inquiries as to text-books and missionary libraries.

The diocese was well represented at the normal classes held in Richmond last fall during the synod. The new interest aroused at that time was spread far and wide by those attending.

Your secretary conducted a number of classes on missionary instruction in the Sunday school at the summer normals and institutes for Sunday school workers. The result was very encouraging. Most of our teachers feel that the teaching of missions should be a part of the Sunday school curriculum and will make an effort to introduce it into the curriculum hereafter.

We hope in another year that every parish in the diocese will have some form of missionary education and will report same to the secretaries that we may know just where we stand on this most important part of the Church's work.

MAUDE E. OSGOOD,
Educational Secretary.

REPORT OF THE PIEDMONT CONVOCATION.

I have to report for this convocation the following study classes and educational work:

Alexandria.

Christ Church—Ten members. Book studied, "The Child in the Midst."

Christ Church, Section B—Eight members. Book, "The Child in the Midst."

St. Paul's Church—Eight members. Bible class, "The Critical Study of the Bible." Leader, Mrs. Fawcett.

Seminary Hill—Eight members. Book not reported.

Casanova.

No report.

Culpeper.

No report.

Fairfax.

Zion Church—Two program meetings.

Goresville.

Christ Church—Four members. One-half session. Book, "Conquest of Continent." Leader, Mrs. Chichester.

Haymarket.

No report.

Leesburg.

St. James' Church—First Senior Class. Twenty-two members. "Conquest of Continent." Leader, Miss Louisa Davis.

St. James' Church—Second Senior Class. Eighteen members. "Conquest of Continent." Leader, Mrs. Chichester.

St. James' Church—First Junior Class. Seventeen members. "Conquest of Continent." Leader, Miss Louisa Davis.

St. James' Church—Second Junior Class. Seven members. "Heroes of the Mission Field." Leaders, Misses Burch and Pleasants.

St. James' Church—Third Junior Class. Five members. "Jack and Janet." Leader, Miss Alice Davis.

The Plains.

Grace Church—Woman's Auxiliary and Section B. Twenty-five or thirty members. "Conquest of Continent." Leader, Mrs. Woodward.

Grace Church—Woman's Auxiliary. Six or eight members. "The Child in the Midst." Leader, Mrs. Woodward.

Grace Church.—Junior Auxiliary. Fifty children. Mission Pray. "How the Cross Goes Westward."

Grace Church—Section B. Fifteen members. "How the Church Came to England." Leader, Mrs. Woodward.

Grace Church—Fifty school children. "Children of Other Lands." Leader, Mrs. Woodward.

Warrenton.

St. James' Church—Reading Circle. "The Social Aspects of Foreign Missions." Leader, Mrs. Hamilton.

In actual number of classes held during the past year there are three less to report, which might seem to indicate a falling off of interest in the study work of our convocation, but in looking deeper there is much of increased interest to offset our fewer classes. The Plains report is full of intense and active interest, covering a long period and many distinct groups.

In Leesburg an additional class, increase of numbers and attendance in all established classes gives proof of growing interest. In the country parishes it is still most difficult to establish the study classes; and, even if begun, almost impossible to keep the attendance regular or the interest alive enough to continue after a few weeks. There are many reasons for it—weather, bad roads, long distances and the already overcrowded hours in a woman's busy country life. The year's book, "The Conquest of the Continent," proved most illuminating and of intense home interest to all of us who studied it, and it seems an ideal book for interesting the country parishes. I do not think that we need feel that interest is decreasing in the mission study work in this convocation, concentrated, possibly, in a smaller area. It is however, a vital and growing force not to be withstood.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL W. CHICHESTER,
Assistant Educational Secretary.

Rappahannock Convocation.

My report for this year is very poor and I would feel much discouraged were it not for the fact that at last, after working two years for this object, the Rappahannock Convocation has finally decided to let us have an "Auxiliary Day" at its meeting in Fredericksburg in October. This will bring the work of the Auxiliary and mission study before all the churches, and we hope for big results from this meeting. If we can get one woman from each church who will take back the message, I feel sure we will see a great awakening in the coming year. Last winter there were only four classes: Trinity, Fredericksburg, led most successfully by Mrs. Shackelford with about ten members; one by Mrs. Carter Welford, St. John's, Warsaw; one by Miss Page Waller at St. George's, Fredericksburg, and one at Christ Church, Spotsylvania. This was more of a reading circle than class, and the Juniors met with us.

ELIZABETH A. RUTTER,
Assistant Educational Secretary.

Mission Study Work in the Valley Convocation.

I am sorry to say that it has not been possible for me to visit the branches of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Valley to work up mission study classes. I have tried to create interest in the matter by writing to each branch urging the members to form a class if they did not have one. In the Valley we have an Auxiliary Day every spring at the meeting of the convocation. At the meeting this year, which was held in Luray on May 4th, reports from all branches showed a decided increase in mission study classes. We have nine branches of the Woman's Auxiliary in the Valley Convocation, and eleven classes were reported against five reported last year. In four parishes, namely, Winchester, Berryville, Wickliffe and Grace Memorial, Lynnwood, there were two classes held in each parish, one in the Woman's Auxiliary and one in the Junior. There were three other classes reported in Woodstock, Harrisonburg and Luray. I have not given the names of leaders of these classes because in most of them reported to me a leader was appointed for each meeting. In regard to the books used, as there was no special book recommended for last year each class studied what they chose, most of them studying missions in different countries. In Winchester and Woodstock there were illustrated lectures given during Lent and the members of the Auxiliary studied our missionary work in those countries, which was the subject of the lecture.

Respectfully submitted,

KATE S. POWERS,
Assistant Educational Secretary.
