Program of Prayer, Study, Gifts, Service

Study Book for 1932 to be studied each month through the year or each week during Lent. "Building a Christian Nation" is the title; nine persons well qualified in their various fields have contributed to make this study of our own nation in the present time both interesting and helpful to those who desire facts upon which to base a better understanding of their responsibility as Christian citizens. The problems of different races and nationalities in American national life, those in rural and city life, the American Indian, Youth of Today, are among the subjects studied.

Each month the Highland Churchman will give suggestions, also the Spirit of Missions. An earnest study of this subject will contribute to the intelligent accomplishment of our task as followers of our Lord and doers of His will.

The Provincial Program

A committee appointed by Mrs. James R. Cain, Provincial President of the Auxiliary, composed of Mrs. Wm. P. Cornell, Mrs. S. P. Adams, and Mrs. T. J. Wooldridge, to formulate a program of study for the Triennium, 1932-34, based on the findings of the Triennial meeting in Denver, suggests the following:

1932—Property and Economic Conditions

International Relations

1933—Family Life

Inter-racial Contacts

1934—Religious Thinking Today

The following findings are for 1932 study:

PROPERTY AND ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

YOUR Committee appointed to prepare findings on the subject of Property and Economic Conditions, beg leave to submit the following report:

The fundamental principle underlying all questions of Property and Economic Conditions is the recognition that Christian men and women should hold their possessions, both spiritual and material, as a sacred and social trust, and that they should respect a man for what he is rather than for what he owns.

Attention is called to the fact that the concern of the Church over property and economic conditions is not new, and that in earlier industrial upheavals, as is true today, men and women of the Church have endeavored to bring about a better social order.

It is agreed that because women control the buying of 80 per cent of the world's goods, they should have an understanding of the ethics of buying, i. e., a knowledge of the conditions under which products are made and sold.

The effect upon the public of ostentatious spending and its injury to Christian relations should be recognized.

In these days when many lack food, shelter and clothing, the purchase of necessities should take precedence over that of luxuries.

Christmas giving should be in the light of service and giving, rather than that of exchange.

It is emphasized that there is a very real individual responsibility to know conditions and policies in the industries and institutions in which one's money is invested. The further suggestion is made that workers be protected against wage-cuts when dividends of investors are augmented.

In view of the present widespread unemployment, serious consideration should be given, both in the home and in industry to retaining present employees, wherever possible, at the present scale of wages. Furthermore, it is felt that those who do not need remuneration for their work should find an outlet of self-expression in volunteer work, thus leaving salaried positions for those who need a means of support.

Enforced leisure presents a challenge to the Church to provide recreational, educational, vocational and cultural opportunities for the unemployed. With the shortening of hours of labor, increased leisure may be anticipated with a corresponding responsibility on the part of the Church to provide for its right use. The definite suggestion is made that parish houses be used for such purposes.

In these days, which are comparable to war times, criticism should be constructive, rather than destructive, and every individual should, so far as possible, cooperate with the established and organized agencies for welfare and relief.

The way in which the relief situation is met this winter, will have a great bearing on the final adjustment of our economic system. In the words of a Lambeth pronouncement, "We must be ready for study, for work and for sacrifice in order that in our industrial system, and our economic structure, as well as in our homes and churches, His Kingdom may come, and His will may be done."

Resolutions

WHEREAS, we face today a crisis in the world's affairs which is evidenced by widespread depression and an alarming growth of unemployment at home and abroad, and

WHEREAS, the social consequences of unemployment are to be observed in the demoralization of many of our homes, under-nourishment of children, and increase of delinquency and mental diseases, and a general lowering of the moral standards of family and community life, and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the women of the Church to do all in their power to bring about the Kingdom of our Blessed Lord in every sphere of life

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1. That the women of the Church take to heart the seriousness of the present economic distress and unite in daily intercession for the relief of those in immediate need and the permanent prevention of unemployment.
2. That we undertake to co-operate to the best of our ability with all Church and civic groups in our several communities so that

- starvation and revolution shall not come to pass in our land.
3. That we undertake to encourage in our Woman's Auxiliary the holding of systematic study groups for the constructive understanding of these questions of Property and Economic Conditions in the light of the Christian faith.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

YOUR Committee, appointed to prepare findings on the subject of International Relations, beg leave to submit the following report:

As we try to stand by the side of the Prince of Peace and look at the world through His eyes, we seem to see in every land the following:

1. Post-war nationalism, as shown in loyalty to the State above everything else, while making for national solidarity, is contrary to the Spirit of Christ, because it is characterized by national selfishness, a sense of national superiority and intolerance, and is a menace to the peaceful interrelations of the world.

2. There are, however, hopeful signs of a trend toward a more Christian spirit of co-operation. In our own nation it is shown by a willingness to confer with other nations in the Disarmament Conference, the different societies which promote friendly relations between peoples, a change in educational methods, and international schools and centers. The world-wide economic depression has made us conscious of our interdependence and the need of Christian principles in all relations of life.

3. Women's responsibility in the present emergency is the education of individuals and groups, beginning with the family, to create a public opinion which will eliminate fear psychology and bring about the peace of the world and the union of Christendom through the Church of Christ. It is our hope that our leaders in Church and State will rise above partisanship to the larger field of Christian policies. We urge a deeper consecration in promoting the peace of the world through every possible channel, by active participation in peace organizations, our world missions and prayer.

4. We respectfully suggest that the Executive Board prepare a program which may be used in the education of parish groups along the lines of International Relations.

Resolutions

WHEREAS, the achievement of a peaceful world, which many of the most thoughtful minds consider essential for the continuance of our civilization, and which all Christians must believe to be in accordance with the mind of our Lord, we, the Woman's Auxiliary in Triennial Session assembled,

1. Affirm that war as a method of settling international disputes is incompatible with the teaching and example of our Lord Jesus Christ.

2. We believe that peace will never be achieved till international relations are controlled by religious and ethical standards, and that the moral judgment of humanity needs to be enlisted on the side of peace. We therefore appeal to religious leaders of all nations to give their support to all international efforts that make for justice, peace and brotherhood.

3. Inasmuch as the United States, with fifty-seven other nations, has pledged its word of honor in the Kellogg Pact, to settle all international disputes only by pacific means, we appeal to our Government to base its own actions on that pledge, and, in conference with others, do all in its power to make the Pact a reality in international relations.

4. When nations have solemnly bound themselves by treaty, covenant or pact for the pacific settlement of international disputes, we hold that the Christian Church in every nation should refuse to countenance any war in regard to which the Government of its own country has not declared its willingness to submit the matter in dispute for arbitration or conciliation.

5. We believe that the existence of armaments on the present scale amongst the nations of the world endangers the maintenance of peace and imposes a needlessly heavy burden on the peoples of the world. We, therefore, appeal for a determined effort on the part of our Government, by example as well as precept to secure immediate substantial reduction, especially at the approaching and epoch-making Disarmament Conference.

Christian Social Service Program

Hymns of Brotherhood and Service, Nos. 488 to 503.

O Invincible Christ, who hast taught us that he who seeks to save his own life shall lose it, but that he who is willing to lose his life for Thy sake and Thy Gospel's shall save it: Teach us to scorn a way of safety which is merely a way of sloth, and inspire us to make our lives an adventure with Thee; that we may become worthy comrades of those courageous souls who in every age have left all to follow Thee. We ask it in Thy Name. Amen.

O God, who through Thy prophets hast foretold a day when the armaments of war shall be beaten into the implements of peace; Hasten, we beseech Thee, the fulfillment of this Thy most sure promise. Quell the haughty cries of nations. Scatter the peoples that delight in war. Let counsels of peace and unity prevail, that we may be delivered from our present confusion into the order and righteousness of Thy Kingdom. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Other Prayers: Pages 43, 44, 586, 587 of Prayer Book.

An open meeting to which social workers are invited. A special address on the social responsibility of a Christian, talks by visitors of their work, a review of the welfare work of the parish and community may be included in the program.

Social Service Sunday

"The services of the day can be made a corporate act of determination to link the wills of the worshipers to the social needs which face them." A Corporate Communion for social workers, volunteer assistants, board members of institutions and agencies and friends of social work is suggested for larger parishes.

Almighty God, who hast given us this good land for our heritage; We humbly beseech thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of thy favor and glad to do thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning, and pure manners. Save us from violence, discord, and confusion; from pride and arrogance, and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues. Endue with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in thy Name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home, and that, through obedience to thy law, we may show forth thy praise among the nations of the earth. In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble, suffer not our trust in thee to fail; all which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
